U.S. congressman declares: Borders will be 'irrelevant'--Stunning statement from same lawmaker sworn in with hand on Quran, not Bible

December 22, 2010--By Aaron Klein-- WorldNetDaily

A so-called spiritual conference at which Rep. Keith Ellison, D-Minn., called for the U.S. border to become an "irrelevancy" & was led by a slew of extremists, including a Marxist who reportedly compared the tea-party movement to Hitler.

Conference speakers include radicals with deep ties to President Obama.

Yesterday, TheBlaze.com, founded by Fox News host Glenn Beck, posted a video from a conference led by the Network of Spiritual Progressives, or NSP, in which Ellison, the first Muslim member of Congress, declared to about 400 attendees that "God willing," the U.S. border will become irrelevant.

SECRETARY OF STATE HILLARY CLINTON CONDEMNS WHITE EUROPEANS

Posted on March 14th, 2010--WHITE EUROPEANS NOW THE ENEMY!-- SPREADING SHARIA GETS U.S. APPROVAL--thelastcrusade.org

In her annual report on human rights, Secretary of State Hillary Clinton takes to task white Europeans for manifesting increased discrimination against Muslims. Mrs. Clinton and her staff denounce not only Switzerland for its ban on the construction of new minarets but also the restrictions on wearing burqas and head scarves in France, Germany, and the Netherlands.

The report turns a harsh eye on the Netherlands, where Muslims number about 850,000, and criticizes the insensitive Dutch Prosecutor's Office for dismissing complaints over the dissemination of a series of controversial cartoons, including those of a Danish artist depicting the Prophet Mohammed, and determining that the cartoons were neither offensive to Muslims as a group nor the cause of discrimination against Islam.

Twisted Logic: THE POOR MUSLIMS - THEY GET INSULTED - WE GET BEHEADED

- A. Muslims claim to be the murders of at least 3,000 innocents in New York and expect no criticism.
- B. Muslims murder 202 tourists in Bali and expect no criticism.
- C. Muslims murder 333 school children and their teachers in Beslan and expect no criticism.
- D. Muslims murder 292 innocents, mainly Kenyans and Tanzanians at two US Embassies and expect no criticism.
- E. Muslims murder 241 US and 58 French peacekeepers in Beirut and expect no criticism.
- F. Muslims fire 4,000 Katyusha rockets into Northern Israel killing over 50 innocent civilians and expect no criticism.
- G. Muslims murder 52 in London and 191 in Madrid and expect no criticism.
- H. Muslims murder 200 in Mumbai and expect no criticism.
- I. Muslims behead Western hostages in Iraq, Buddhist monks in Thailand and Christian schoolgirls in Indonesia and expect no criticism.
- J. Muslims murder 500,000 in Darfur and expect no criticism.
- K. Muslims regard Jews as 'sons of pigs and monkeys', and vow to nuke Israel and expect no criticism.
- L. Muslims force women to wear hideous sacks, stone to death women for getting raped and for leaving the home unescorted, engage in honor killings of sisters and daughters for unapproved dating, practice genital mutilation of young girls, practice pedophilia and take child brides and expect no criticism.
- M. Muslims danced in the streets and handed out sweets to their kids to celebrate the 9/11 atrocity, and still expected no criticism.
- N. Since 9/11 Muslims have killed over 26,000 and wounded over 50,000 in terrorist attacks worldwide since 9/11 and expect no criticism. Since 9/11 Muslims have committed terrorist attacks in Afghanistan, Algeria, Bangladesh, Belgium, Chad, Chechnya, Dagestan, Denmark, East Timor, Egypt, England, Eritrea, Ethiopia, France, Germany, India, Indonesia, Ingushetia, Iran, Iraq, Israel, Jordan, Jordan-Iraq, Kabardino-Balkans, Kenya, Kosovo, Kuwait, Kyrgyzstan, Lebanon, Mauritania, Morocco, Netherlands, Nigeria, Pakistan, Gaza-Palestinian Authority, Philippines, Qatar, Russia, Saudi Arabia, Scotland, Somalia, Spain, Sri Lanka, Sudan, Syria, Tajikistan, Thailand, Tunisia, Turkey, United Arab Emirates, United Arab Republic, United States, Uzbekistan and Yemen, and still expect no criticism.

Muslims have carried out over 5,800 fatal terrorist atrocities since 9/11 and countless thousands since Islamic conquest began in 623 AD and expect no criticism. But if anyone dares to tell the truth about Islam or Danes publish cartoons about Mohammed, then let the outpourings of Islamic hate and outrage begin. Keep this one going.....

The contents of the report, which have failed to capture widespread national attention, also decry the authorities in Denmark for continuing to provide protection to Kurt Westergaard.

This criticism has caused some political analysts, including Edward Hopkins, to wonder if Mrs. Clinton and the State Department are calling upon the Danes to allow the irate Muslims, who assassinated Theo Van Gogh, to behead Mr. Westergaard.

Other pronouncements in the report are equally provocative. They further condemn the United Kingdom for its "Terrorism Act," which imposes a range of restrictions on individuals suspected of terrorism-related activities. "Discrimination against Muslims," the report proclaims, "is an increasing concern."

The report has little to say about the expulsion and persecution of Christians in Iran; the genital mutilation of women and children in Somalia and other Muslim countries, and virulent anti-Christian and Jewish rhetoric in mosques within Europe and throughout the world.

Nor did the report address the realization that every conflict throughout the world, from Chechnya to China, from Indonesia to India, from Afghanistan to Argentina, from Somalia to the Sudan, and from the Balkans to the Philippines, involves a manifestation of Islam.

Throughout her career, Mrs. Clinton has been an ardent admirer and defender of Islam. On one occasion, she praised Islam for its "universal values -- love of family and community, mutual respect, education, and the deepest yearning of all -- to live in peace -- values that can strengthen us as people and strengthen the United States as a nation."

On October 3, 2009, the Secretary of State visited the Iqbal Memorial in Pakistan, where, wearing a hijab, she joined with the imam and the Muslim dignitaries in Islamic prayer. The service included the Surah al-Ikhlās, which Mrs. Clinton recited. This surah contains the following four ayahs:

- 1. Say He is Allah, the One clear of all partners and similars.
- 2. Allah is the One needed by all and He needs none.
- 3. Allah does not beget children and He is not begotten.
- 4. And, there is none, in any way, similar to Him.

Hamas video: Allah, kill Christians and Jews "to the last one"

http://palwatch.org/main.aspx?fi=157&doc\_id=3895

by Itamar Marcus and Barbara Crook

A video on official Hamas TV calls for Allah to kill Jews, Christians, Communists and their supporters. The video asks Allah to "count them and kill them to the last one, and don't leave even one."

As Palestinian Media Watch has reported this call for the killing of non-Muslims was a regular pronouncement by both Palestinian Authority (Fatah) and Hamas political and religious leaders for many years starting in July 2000.

For years, sermons by religious leaders on official Palestinian Authority TV under Yasser Arafat and Mahmoud Abbas routinely presented the killing of Jews as a religious obligation and a fulfillment of the Islamic ideal.

Due to PMW's exposure of these sermons, which led to international criticism and pressure, Mahmoud Abbas, whose office controls PA TV, has been forced to prevent the broadcast of sermons calling for extermination of Jews on PA TV, but the latest sermon of this nature on PA TV was in January 2010.

The following is the transcript of the Hamas video clip:

"Allah, oh our Lord, vanquish Your enemies, enemies of the religion [Islam] in all places.
Allah, strike the Jews and their sympathizers,
the Christians and their supporters,
the Communists and their adherents.
Allah, count them and kill them to the last one, and don't leave even one."

Pentagon's Christmas Present: Largest Military Budget Since World War II

Rick Rozoff

Stop NATO

December 25, 2010

On December 22 both houses of the U.S. Congress unanimously passed a bill authorizing $725 billion for next year's Defense Department budget.

The bill, the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2011, was approved by all 100 senators as required and by a voice vote in the House.

The House had approved the bill, now sent to President Barack Obama to sign into law.

The proposed figure for the Pentagon's 2011 war chest includes, in addition to the base budget, $158.7 billion for what are now euphemistically referred to as overseas contingency operations: The military occupation of Iraq and the war in Afghanistan.

Even as it currently is, the amount is the highest in constant dollars (pegged at any given year's dollar and adjusted for inflation) since 1945, the final year of the Second World War. With recent U.S. census figures at 308 million, next year the Pentagon will spend $2,354 for every citizen of the country at the $725 billion price tag alone.

Beaten, Burned by Peace Loving Muslims: Rev. Wilson Augustine: Pakistan

SARGODHA, Pakistan, December 13 (CDN) — An evangelist is still recovering from burns after six young Muslim men beat him with clubs and belts and set him on fire last month in a village near this Punjab Province city, the Christian told Compass.

Area Christians said they found the Rev. Wilson Augustine, 26, unconscious with burns on his head, hand and arm on Nov. 22 near a bus stop on the outskirts of Sargodha.

Christian elders of nearby villages said that Augustine was distributing pamphlets and proclaiming Christ door-to-door the previous day among Christian families of villages some 25 kilometers southeast of Sargodha.

Please pray for Rev. Wilson and for Christians in Pakistan, Punjab Province

Stoned in prison: Imran Masih: Pakistan

An assault by Muslim inmates in Pakistan nearly killed a 19-year-old Christian incarcerated on false charges of blasphemy on October 29th.

The father of Imran Masih reported that his son was stoned in prison by Muslims yelling that he was a blasphemer. Though Imran remains in District Hospital Hazro in "very serious condition," he is expected to be released from the hospital next week.

Please pray for Christians in Pakistan, Punjab province.

Churches torn down, members receive death threats: Zanzibar

Compass Direct News (CDN) is reporting that radical Islamists are suspected in the demolition of two church buildings in Zanzibar.

CDN said that a Christian who requested anonymity said, "One Muslim was heard saying, 'We have cleansed our area by destroying the two churches, and now we are on our mission to kill individual members of these two churches – we shall not allow the church to be built again.'"

Please pray for Christians in zanzibar (Tanzania).

Muslim Brotherhood Front Group Trains Airport Screeners

by Connie Hair \(more by this author\) The Muslim Public Affairs Council (MPAC) has completed training for 2,200 Transportation Safety Officers (TSOs) at the Los Angeles International Airport according to a press release found on the MPAC website.

The MPAC release notes that the two-month training course informed officers of "the diversity of Muslims around the world from cultural dress to language to tenets. The four trainers taught the TSOs how to properly handle a Quran and discussed the different ways Muslim women and men choose to cover or dress. For example, the TSOs learned if a woman wears hijab and needs a secondary screening she should be screened in a private area by a female TSO officer."

(The Drudge Report shocked the nation with this photo of a nun being patted down by a Muslim woman in head garb. Apparently non Muslim women are afforded only public groping sessions.)

In 1986, MPAC was formed as a political action arm of one of the largest Wahhabi mosques in America, the Islamic Center for Southern California.

As the Center for Security Policy's Team B II report entitled "Sharia: The Threat to America" notes, "The founders of the Islamic Center for Southern California are Hassan Hathout and his brother Maher Hathout. The late Hassan Hathout was a senior member of the Muslim Brotherhood Movement.

Hathout was also on the board of directors and a member of the American Muslim Council (AMC) from 1993 to 1997. AMC was founded by the al Qaeda financier and Hamas operative Abdurahman Alamoudi who is currently serving 23 years in prison for funding terrorist groups including al Qaeda.

Maher Hathout served on the AMC Board of Directors at the same time Alamoudi was serving as its Executive Director.

"Maher Hathout has publicly voiced his approval of Designated Terrorist Organizations such as Hezbollah; decried many U.S. counterterrorism efforts; called for the destruction of Israel; and, openly supported known terrorists such as Hasan al Turabi, the leader of the National Islamic Front of Sudan. Yet, the organization he founded, MPAC, enjoys a reputation in official U.S. circles as a 'moderate' Muslim organization," & is the same one training TSA agents.

The Joys of Muslim Women

by Nonie Darwish--In the Muslim faith a Muslim man can marry a child as young as 1 year old and have sexual intimacy with this child, consummating the marriage by 9. The dowry is given to the family in exchange for the woman (who becomes his slave) and for the purchase of the private parts of the woman, to use her as a toy. Even though a woman is abused, she can not obtain a divorce. To prove rape, the woman must have (4) male witnesses.

Often after a woman has been raped, she is returned to her family and the family must return the dowry. The family has the right to execute her (an honor killing) to restore the honor of the family. Husbands can beat their wives 'at will' and the man does not have to say why he has beaten her. The husband is permitted to have 4 wives and a temporary wife for an hour (prostitute) at his discretion.

The Shariah Muslim law controls the private as well as the public life of the woman. In the Western World ( America ) Muslim men are starting to demand Shariah Law so the wife can not obtain a divorce and he can have full and complete control of her. It is amazing and alarming how many of our sisters and daughters attending American Universities are now marrying Muslim men and submitting themselves and their children unsuspectingly to the Shariah law.

By passing this on, enlightened American women may avoid becoming a slave under Shariah Law. Author and lecturer Nonie Darwish says the goal of radical Islamists is to impose Shariah law on the world, ripping Western law and liberty in two. She recently authored the book, Cruel and Usual Punishment: The Terrifying Global Implications of Islamic Law.

Darwish was born in Cairo and spent her childhood in Egypt and Gaza before immigrating to America in 1978, when she was eight years old. Her father died while leading covert attacks on Israel . He was a high-ranking Egyptian military officer stationed with his family in Gaza .When he died, he was considered a "shahid," a martyr for  Jihad. His posthumous status earned Nonie and her family an elevated position in Muslim society.

But Darwish developed a skeptical eye at an early age. She questioned her own Muslim culture and upbringing. She converted to Christianity after hearing a Christian preacher on television. In her latest book, Darwish warns about creeping sharia law - what it is, what it means, and how it is manifested in Islamic countries.

For the West, she says radical Islamists are working to impose sharia on the world. If that happens, Western civilization will be destroyed. Westerners generally assume all religions encourage a respect for the dignity of each individual. Islamic law (Sharia) teaches that non-Muslims should be subjugated or killed in this world.

Peace and prosperity for one's children is not as important as assuring that Islamic law rules everywhere in the Middle East and eventually in the world. While Westerners tend to think that all religions encourage some form of the golden rule, Sharia teaches two systems of ethics - one for Muslims and another for non-Muslims. Building on tribal practices of the seventh century, Sharia encourages the side of humanity that wants to take from and subjugate others.

While Westerners tend to think in terms of religious people developing a personal understanding of and relationship with God, Sharia advocates executing people who ask difficult questions that could be interpreted as criticism. It's hard to imagine, that in this day and age, Islamic scholars agree that those who criticize Islam or choose to stop being Muslim should be executed. Sadly, while talk of an Islamic reformation is common and even assumed by many in the West, such murmurings in the Middle East are silenced through intimidation.

While Westerners are accustomed to an increase in religious tolerance over time, Darwish explains how petro dollars are being used to grow an extremely intolerant form of political Islam in her native Egypt and elsewhere.

In twenty years there will be enough Muslim voters in the U.S. to elect the President by themselves! Rest assured they will do so... You can look at how they have taken over several towns in the USA .. Dearborn Mich. is one... and there are others... I think everyone in the U.S. should be required to read this, but with the ACLU, there is no way this will be widely publicized, unless each of us sends it on! While America is getting rid of Christianity from all public sites and erasing God from the lives of children the Muslims are planning a great jihad on America .. WHEN YOU LOOK AT THIS, THINK OF YOUR OWN DAUGHTERS, GRANDDAUGHTERS AND NIECES

AFGHANISTAN: THE PEDOPHILIA CAPITAL OF ASIA

By NWV News writer Jim Kouri--December 23, 2010--NewsWithViews.com--When U.S. officials such as President Barack Obama, Secretary of State Hillary Clinton, Defense Secretary Robert Gates discuss the war in Afghanistan and make claims of success in that fledgling democracy, one issue that's avoided is the widespread sexual intercourse between Afghan men and young boys. In non- diplomatic terms, Afghanistan is a haven for child rape, according to several American military officers just returning from the frontlines of the Global War on Terrorism.

In a country that is considered overly repressive due to its adherence to the precepts contained in the Muslim religion's Koran, it's difficult for American servicemembers and diplomats to understand the fact that a large portion of the Afghan male population are pedophiles (adults who enjoy sexual contact with prepubescent children) or pederasts (adults who enjoy sexual relations with pubescent or post-pubescent children).

While Muslims in Iraq have on several occasions stoned homosexuals for their sexual activities, not all Muslims believe pedophilia is a violation of Sharia law. Those who believe in the sacredness and infallibility of the Koran adhere to the teaching that women are sub-human and quasi-slaves, and therefore Muslim men will look for relationships -- even sexual relationships -- with others of their own gender.

According to Reuters, there is a lot of homosexuality going on in Afghanistan, but those engaging in it don't think of themselves as gay, so that makes it okay since Islam officially disapproves of the gay and lesbian lifestyle. "They regard themselves as non-gay because they don't "love" the sex object so Allah is happy. These are the men who avoid their wives as unclean. Apparently there is very little love of any kind in Afghanistan, which explains a lot," according to Reuters. "Having a boy has become a custom for us," Ena Yatullah, a 42-year-old in Baghlan province, told a Reuters reporter. "Whoever wants to show off should have a boy." [. . .]

Sociologists and anthropologists say the problem results from a perverse interpretation of Islamic law. Women are simply unapproachable. Afghans cannot talk to an unrelated woman until after proposing marriage. Before then, they can't even look at a woman, except perhaps her feet. Otherwise she is covered, head to ankle, according to

columnist Joel Brinkley, a professor of journalism at Stanford University, and a former Pulitzer Prize-winning foreign correspondent for the New York Times.

In Kandahar, a city with a population of about 500,000, and other towns, dance parties are a popular -- often weekly -- pastime. Young boys dress up as females, wearing makeup and bells on their feet, and dance for a dozen or more leering middle-aged men who throw money at them and then take them home. A recent State Department report called "dancing boys" a "widespread, culturally sanctioned form of male rape." If women dressed and behaved in such a way, they would surely be punished by Muslim men.

Even after marriage, many men keep their boy-lovers, according to former U.S. military personnel who served in Afghanistan. Whereas women are compelled to wear clothing that hides their faces and bodies and if they "sin" they are stoned to death in accordance with Islamic law. That same law also forbids homosexuality, but the pedophiles explain that it's not homosexuality since they aren't in love with their boys only fulfilling a bodily need.

Paradoxically, the Taliban frown on sexual relations between men and boys and enforce Sharia law to the letter. Are the followers of Islam, who adopt a more "liberal" approach to practicing their religion, perhaps responsible for the widespread rape of male children in Afghanistan?

Why is there hesitation on the part of Obama, Clinton, Gates and others to discuss the widespread sexual assault of male children in Afghanistan? Could it be that it is politically incorrect to discuss any immoral and unlawful behavior on the part of Muslims? It's quite evident that U.S. politicians may bash Christians without fear of adverse effects on their political careers. But these same leaders will behave as if they are walking on egg shells to avoid even the hint of criticizing Muslims.

MASS WEDDING CEREMONY HELD IN SAUDI ARABIA--PEDOPHILIA PERSISTS AMONG MOHAMMADANS

November 6th, 2010

thelastcrusade.org--The Saudi Arabian town of Al-Laith, 112 miles south of Jeddah, reverberated with excitement when 28 bridegrooms received their wedding certificates at a mass marriage ceremony on Tuesday night. The governor of Al-Laith, congratulated the grooms as they ceremoniously received their certificates.

“The mass wedding process is a good trend as it cuts down the cost of celebrations,” the governor said. Many of the brides were pubescent teenagers who had not reached their sixteenth birthday.

All of the weddings had been arranged with the groom choosing his bride in the same manner that a chef would select a lamb chop. One of the grooms, Mohammed Hameed, 26, an imam at a local mosque, said he chose to get married this way as the cost of celebrations was prohibitive.

Asked how he chose his bride, Hameed said: “My mother helped me in selecting my would-be wife. After seeing the girl, my mother told me she is the best one for me and I should get married to her. I saw the girl and gave the nod.”

Another groom, Abdul Aziz, said he was worried whether he would get married at all as he was well over 30. “When some of my relatives realized my affordability was in question,” Aziz said, “they recommended a young girl to my mother and finally it was finalized after I saw her.”

The mass wedding ceremony was sponsored by the National Prawn Company (NPC), which has a huge fish farm along the Red Sea coast. The company also presented a cash gift to each groom. No mention was made of gifts for the brides.

In Saudi Arabia, men are allowed to marry four women, to beat them, and to divorce them by merely saying, “I divorce you.”

CHRISTIANS – Did you know they are putting Qurans in church pews now?

This weekend, the Memorial Drive Presbyterian Church in Houston along with Christian communities in Atlanta, Seattle, and Detroit will initiate a series of sermons that have been designed to produce an ecumenical reconciliation between Christianity and Islam.

Paul L Williams, PhD, The Last Crusade--In addition to the sermons, the Sunday school lessons will center on the inspired teachings of the Prophet Mohammad. Qurans will be placed in the pews next to the Bibles.

The concept of Chrislam, now embraced by such preachers as Rick Warren and Robert Schuller, appears to have emerged from a program on the meaning of “love your neighbor” at Grace Fellowship Church in Atlanta, Georgia “In 2001, like most Americans, we were pretty awakened to the true Islamic presence in the world and in the United States,” says Jon Stallsmith, the outreach minister at Grace Fellowship. “Jesus says we should love our neighbors. We can’t do that without having a relationship with them.”

2 Cor 6:14,15: Be ye not unequally yoked together with unbelievers: for what fellowship hath righteousness with unrighteousness? and what communion hath light with darkness? And what concord hath Christ with Belial? or what part hath he that believeth with an infidel?

Stallsmith maintains that a rapprochement between Muslims and Christians can be achieved by the fact that Jesus is mentioned twenty-five times in the Quran.

The Chriislam movement has gained impetus by statements from President George W. Bush and that Christians, Jews, and Muslims all worship the same God and by Rick Warren's reference to Isa (the Muslim name for Jesus) in his prayer at the inauguration of President Barack Obama.

"The recent political developments and the fact that we're fighting two wars in Muslim countries should sharpen that need to know how to talk to these guys," Stallsmith insists "We want to find peace, reconciliation around a scriptural understanding of Jesus."

Jesus in the Quran is neither the only-begotten Son of God nor the Messiah who was divinely appointed to restore the House of David. He is rather viewed as a prophet who was appointed by Allah to prepare mankind for the coming of Mohammad.

In the Quran, Jesus neither suffers nor dies on the cross but is rather raised alive into heaven:

"That they said (in boast), "We killed Christ Jesus the son of Mary, the Messenger of God";- but they killed him not, nor crucified him, but so it was made to appear to them,... for of a surety they killed him not..." (4: 157-158) The victim at Calvary, Islam teaches, was either Simon of Cyrene or Judas Iscariot.

The Quran mentions that Jesus was born of the virgin Maryam – – not by an immaculate conception but rather the will of Allah.

"In blasphemy indeed are those that say that God is Christ, the son of Mary." (5:17).

Belief in the divinity of Jesus is condemned in Islam as shirk (filth).

MOSQUES NOW SPROUT UP LIKE MUSHROOMS IN HOUSTON

Posted on November 20th, 2010—By Paul L. Williams, Ph.D.--The number of mosques throughout America has surged 57 percent over the last 10 years, from 1,209 to 1,897, according to the Pew Forum on Religion and Public Life. These statistics are incomplete since they do not include the backrooms of Islamic stores, restaurants, and warehouses that have been converted into mosques and second floor masjids that are not listed in telephone books.

The growth of Islam in this country can be best evidenced by the construction of mosques throughout greater Houston. A community in Katy is pushing forward its long-awaited plan to develop a $10 million mosque, community center and school, and a group in Spring is working on a $10 million expansion at a recently built $2.5 million mosque.

When completed, these facilities will rival five star hotels with indoor basketball gyms, swimming pools, marble floors, and state of the art kitchens with granite counter tops. Other plans on the drawing board for Houston include an Islamic center on 10 acres in Pearland, a development that will total more than $1.1 million for the first phase of its construction. The total cost of this project is expected to exceed $12 million.

New Islamic centers are also in the works for in the Cinco Ranch area, Atascocita, Katy, and Pearland. The Maryam Islamic Center New Territory in Sugar Land presently accomodates 1,300 men and women for prayer services – - significantly more than the number of Muslim worshippers at the Islamic Center of America in Dearborn, Michigan, which remains the nation's largest mosque. The house of worship is bursting at the seams and also intends to increase the size of its facilities. Mass witchcraft

Clear Lake Islamic Center, which opened in September 2009, will double in size to 20,000 square feet, with a planned expansion to include a fitness center and larger community hall. "We were running out of space, basically," said Ibrahim Ezghair, administrator of the year-old center. The actual number of Muslims residing in Houston remains anyone's guess since census takers are prohibited from asking questions about religious beliefs.

A conservative estimate of 320,000 comes from Aisha Khan of the Spring Islam Examiner. This figure conforms with the claims of M. J. Khan, a Muslim who serves as a Houston city councilman. By comparison, the Jewish population of the greater Houston area is 42,000.

Muslim community leaders are quick to state that the community's plans for new facilities are a response to demand and not an attempt to conquer land in the name of Islam. "We are all Americans," said Dr. Aziz Siddiqui, president of the Islamic Society of Greater Houston. "We're not taking anything over."

Subject: To God Be all the Glory!

Scott,

Thank you again for the continued dedication to your calling. You do not know how much of a blessing you are to many people.

I listen to every teaching and do research myself, to stay informed of the enemies plans to kill, steal and destroy. I have to admit that at times I am so burdened to pray against the evils that surround us, that my laughter has turned to mourning. Some days it is hard for me to focus on the goodness of God, which I need so I do not become depressed. Please read this short testimony and maybe share with your listeners to help encourage them.

7 years ago, after 23 years of marriage, my husband left and my life was totally turned upside down. I had very little income, a devastating autoimmune disease, and kids still at home. I have to say now that it was the best time of my life, as God used this time to pull me out of an evangelical church, and prove that he would and could meet EVERY need. I thought I had faith before, but not like I have today. I have been completely healed of the disease, and have a small business of my own to pay the bills. I rely every day on God to bring in the work. If I need packing supplies I ask him for them, and someone always brings me just what I need. If I need a coat or shoes, I ask Him for them and I either find some at yard sales or people give them to me. I don't have a lot of money but He always brings just enough work to cover what I need.

I have been well enough to plant a fair sized garden and store up some food, I am also blessed to live in Amish country where I can buy fresh butchered meat and all natural and organic food.

Please encourage your listeners not to loose heart in these times, as God WILL provide for you when you see no other way. No matter what we face, He is right there to work all things for good for those who love Him. I needed this trying of my faith to prepare me for the days to come, and praise Him for it.!

Psa 55:22 Cast thy burden upon the LORD, and he shall sustain thee: he shall never suffer the righteous to be moved.

To God be all the Glory

Subject: JJ Luna on cell phone tracking

In the past, I have written that the only way to avoid being tracked by your cell phone (other than not taking it with you) is to take out the battery. However, I have since learned that many modern phones have a secondary battery which cannot be removed. This is designed to assist local authorities to recover phones that have been used in criminal activities. Here is an interesting article about cell phone tracking:

<http://online.wsj.com/article/SB10001424052748703467304575383522318244234.html>

So then, is there any way to carry your phone with you and still make sure that you cannot be tracked?

One suggested solution is to carry your cell phone in a tri-weave material made of a nickel, copper, and silver-plated nylon fabric. To check for suppliers, do a Google search for "Cell Phone Stronghold Bag." The cost is about $30. (You won't receive any incoming calls of course, but at least you can take it out of the bag and make a call in case of an emergency.)

Feds target airline pilot for exposing TSA security sham on YouTube

by Ethan A. Huff, staff writer

(NaturalNews) A Sacramento-based airline pilot is the subject of a federal investigation for exposing what he says are serious flaws in the U.S. Transportation Security Administration's (TSA) airport security protocols. According to ABC News10 in Sacramento, the 50-year-old pilot who requested to remain anonymous says that TSA applies its strict screening protocols to passengers and even flight crews, but ground crews are freely able to access secure areas with a simple card swipe.

"As you can see, airport security is kind of a farce," the pilot explains in his video, as he shows an entrance to a secure area. "It's only smoke and mirrors so you people believe there is actually something going on here."

The pilot has worked for his airline for more than ten years and had been issued a federal handgun to carry with him in the cockpit. But after blowing the whistle on the serious security breaches taking place at the airport, four federal air marshals and two sheriff's deputies shows up at his house to confiscate the weapon, and they also asked him to give up his state-issued concealed weapon carry permit.

On December 6, the pilot also received a letter from the TSA explaining that "an administrative review into your deputation status as a Federal Flight Deck Officer has been initiated," a move that he believes is a warning from the Feds saying not to mess with the system, unless you want to face the consequences.

According to the same ABC News10 report, the pilot's airline asked him to remove the videos from YouTube shortly after he posted them, but portions of the videos captured as part of the ABC News10 report can be viewed at the following link:

TSA has no regular testing system for its pornoscanners

Cory Doctorow at 3:40 AM Thursday, Dec 23, 2010

Many experts are skeptical that the TSA's new backscatter pornoscanner machines are safe, but even the experts who endorse them are careful to bracket their reassurances with certain caveats: the safety of the machines depends heavily on their being properly maintained, regularly tested, and expertly operated. Whether or not you're comfortable with the intended radiation emissions from the scanners, no one in their right mind would argue that a broken machine that lovingly lingers over your reproductive organs and infuses them with 10,000 or 100,000 times the normal dosage is desirable.

But when Andrew Schneider, AOL's public health correspondent, contacted the TSA to find out what maintenance and testing is in place to ensure the safe operation of the scanners, he discovered that the TSA appears to have no regime at all to ensure that they are functioning within normal parameters. While the TSA claims that entities like the FDA, the US Army and Johns Hopkins all regularly inspect their machines, none of these groups agrees, and they all disavow any role in regularly maintaining and testing the TSA's equipment (the Army has tested machines in three airports, but has not conducted any further testing). And Johns Hopkins denies that it has certified the machines as safe for operation in the first place -- let alone taking on any ongoing testing and certification program.

License Plate Readers To See Explosive Growth

By Jordan Steffen, Washington Bureau --December 26, 2010--Reporting from Washington — Just after midnight on Oct. 26, the stolen Jeep Cherokee of a university professor who was slain the previous morning passed a camera mounted on a pole. It took the automatic camera less than a second to scan and process the license plate number, discover it in a database and send out an alert to police cruisers.

A detective spotted the vehicle and gave chase, leading to the arrest near downtown Washington of the 18-year-old driver, who is being held in nearby Montgomery County, Md., on auto theft charges and is considered "a person of interest" in the homicide, police said.

The technology used in this case has recently swept the country. Long used in Europe, it is now employed in all 50 states and is also helping to combat the flow of drugs, illegal currency and weapons across the U.S.- Mexico border.

U.S. Customs and Border Protection awarded a contract in October worth as much as $350 million to increase its use along the border, where thousands of license plates are processed by the system every day.

But the technique, which, unlike speed cameras, snaps pictures of all vehicles passing by, worries privacy advocates. Wary of its ability to pinpoint and store the location of vehicles, they worry that innocent people may become easy targets for tracking.

"It's like being forced to walk around with a bar code that a scanner can pick up — except that it's your car," said Lee Tien, senior staff attorney for the Electronic Frontier Foundation in San Francisco, which advocates for consumer and privacy rights.

The relatively simple technology consists of cameras, either mounted on police cars or at a stationary location, capable of capturing and processing more than 100,000 license plate images an hour. Plate numbers are automatically run against "hot list" databases of stolen, suspicious or crime-related vehicles, said Capt. Kevin Reardon of the Arlington, Va., Police Department.

In Arlington, license plate readers lead to at least one arrest a day, Reardon said. There are 200 mobile cameras in the capital region, and a number of stationary cameras in Washington and Maryland.

One stationary system costs about $15,000 and a mobile system about $20,000, said Nate Maloney, vice president of marketing and communication at ELSAG North America, which manufactured the systems used in the capital. The basis of the technology, which can scan 1,800 plates a minute, was developed from the same optical character recognition systems used to read ZIP Codes in sorting mail.

Customs and Border Protection started using it in 2009. Nearly 500 cameras were installed on inbound lanes at the 39 busiest land ports along borders with Canada and Mexico.

As vehicles approach checkpoints, stationary cameras take images of the front and rear license plates, a driver image and a color picture of the car, said Christopher Milowic of the agency's office of information and technology. Those images are then run through a database.

Cameras can also read and process enhanced travel documents, Milowic said. Enhanced documents are embedded with radio frequencies and can be processed simply by holding them in the direction of the camera.

In October, Unisys Corp., which manufactured the hardware and software installed in 2009, received an additional contract from Customs and Border Protection worth as much as $350 million over the next five years. Under the contract, new systems will be installed at busy pedestrian crossings, and existing systems will be replaced with technology that is 15% more accurate.

But the same technology that makes it easier and faster to peg suspicious vehicles also makes it easier to track innocent people, said Tien, the Electronic Frontier Foundation lawyer.

Every time a scan runs through the system, the location of the vehicle and the date the image was taken are stored in a database — even if it does not trigger an alert.

Individual agencies determine how long that information is stored, Arlington Police Capt. Reardon said. Some agencies store the data for a couple of days, others for six months. Arlington clears its database once a month.

WHILE YOU WERE SHOPPING, CONGRESS ATTACKED! MERRY X-Mas!

By J.B. Williams--December 28, 2010--NewsWithViews.com

When Americans awake after the Christmas holiday and their traditional New Year celebrations, they will awake in a country very different from the one they thought they had saved in the November elections. Before their newly elected officials could take office in January, and while they were busy shopping for Christmas, congress attacked...

Americans handed Obama's Democratic Socialists what they thought was a devastating blow in the November elections in which they stripped Nancy Pelosi of her gavel in the House and put Harry Reid on ice in the Senate. Then the people returned to their daily lives in preparation for the Holiday celebrations and while they shopped, congress attacked!

In the closing week of the lame duck session, the duck didn't look lame at all. In fact, it was in rare form. Before losing power for the foreseeable future, Democratic Socialists passed the following as a X-mas present to all Americans –

- They grabbed full control of your food supply via their so-called food safety act
- They forced our US Military to focus on Gay Rights instead of training soldiers and winning wars
- They spent a trillion more in money we don't have, all on their leftist agenda
- They seized control of the Internet
- They passed Russia's START treaty making certain that America is a gelded superpower
- They expanded labor union powers to prop up corrupt unions in every state at every level
- They warned all Americans to "expect bad news" in the coming days, as they have allowed our enemies to live among us and cannot prevent coming terror strikes on US soil, in the war on terror they say doesn't actually exist
- They made sure that taxpayers were going to pay people not to work for up to 36 months
- And they only extended tax breaks for employers and investors for another year, making sure that private sector job creation remains stagnate
- They put a career military officer in Leavenworth for asking who his Commander-in-Chief really is
- In short, they have done more to destroy this country in the last week than one could scarcely conceive – That's one whale of a week! They could not have done it without the consent of Republicans and that's the real story here...

Obama is following Hugo Chavez in seizing control of this nation.

Republicans could have stopped all of it, if they had wanted to. Instead, they chose to let Obama, Pelosi and Reid ram all of it through in the so-called lame-duck session so that they could blame Democrats for passage of this anti-American onslaught. People who think the Republicans they elected in November will shift the direction of this train wreck in 2011 are in for even more surprises. Everything they were elected to stop just passed congress with one exception, amnesty for millions of illegal aliens. Since Democratic Socialists couldn't quite get that one passed, they are taking a new tact. They plan on erasing US borders altogether.

Had Republicans wanted to stop any of it, they could have. They didn't! Meanwhile, White House resident Barack Obama is so proud of his lame-duck accomplishments that he has headed off for holiday vacation in sunny Hawaii, where those anticipated Christmas terror strikes are a little less likely. While You Were Shopping, Congress Attacked! Merry Christmas!

C-36 Is Worse Than S. 510 And Takes Away Canadians Rights, Search Without Warrant

by Jonathan Benson, staff writer (NaturalNews) The Canadian Parliament recently passed its own form of legislation S. 510, the draconian U.S. "food safety" bill that threatens to eliminate the freedom to grow, sell and buy clean food. Bill C-36, deceitfully branded by the Canadian mainstream media as a "consumer protection" law, is actually part of the larger CODEX Alimentarius food tyranny plan. It eliminates the law of trespass and allows Canadian police to invade private property and confiscate whatever they wish without a warrant. Link to Article from Natural News: http://www.naturalnews.com/030809\_Codex\_Canada.html

New research reveals your hand soap could kill you

by Terrence Aym--It's no joke and worried researchers are trying to get the word out to the public about this latest health risk. The Western world has become phobic about germs—just about any kind of germ, even good bacteria.

Manufacturers of soaps and cleansers saw an opportunity to cash in on the growing concern about germs among consumers and did...to the tune of adding billions of dollars in new revenue to their bottom lines through effective marketing of fear.

Antibacterial soap became all the rage and the media accommodated the trend by hawking the products with news stories that were little more than veneers covering corporate press releases. The free publicity was worth many millions and the manufacturers of antibacterial soaps had a field day.

But the celebrations may be at an end because society as a whole may be collectively poisoning itself with the substance. It's nearly ubiquitous in many kinds of household cleaning products from liquid hand soaps to dish washing liquids to certain types of deodorants.

What is this stuff? It's a chemical agent that's antimicrobial called triclosan. It's toxic. It's a registered pesticide. Exposure to it can kill over time. And it's almost everywhere you turn.

Recent studies have revealed that triclosan tends to kill bacteria—but not 100 percent. Unfortunately, that helps create what are being called "super-bacteria" that have developed a strong resistance to both antibacterials and antibiotics. A whole slew of drug-resistant diseases are cropping up because of that including potentially deadly infections like MRSA. Triclosan has also been proven to exacerbate children's allergies and is toxic to fish—so keep it away from aquariums.

If none of this sounds particularly alarming, there's more. According to research done by Food & Water Watch, triclosan "affects reproduction in lab animals, produces toxic chemicals such as dioxin and chloroform when it reacts with other chemicals like the chlorine in water, irritates skin in humans and might even cause cancer."

So many products contain triclosan as an antimicrobial additive that much of it ends getting flushed down drains into the nation's water supply. When the chain of contamination is followed, the substance is not only polluting water, but food as well. It's even interacting with the environment at the smallest levels—for instance, it's been found in household dust.

Recently, a major environmental study discovered that triclosan has polluted 55 percent of America's rivers endangering the fish—and a whopping 75 percent of American's bodies! Those numbers are very unsettling when the evidence is strengthening concerning triclosan's carcinogenic properties.

That triclosan is toxic is not debatable. The evidence that it can kill is mounting. In fact, the evidence is now so strong that countries like Canada and Japan currently monitor and restrict triclosan's use. Others like Germany and Denmark have issued strong advisories to consumers cautioning against its use. The European Union has weighed in on the substance by officially listing it as an irritant, dangerous to humans and the environment and deadly to aquatic life.

Despite the fact that the world is awakening to the toxic dangers of triclosan, the U.S. government has issued no restrictions on its use. While the EPA has officially registered the toxin as a pesticide, the FDA has left it unregulated. Therefore the substance is being added to almost every U.S. personal care product that touts itself as being antibacterial or antimicrobial.

EPA officials suggest that every American cease using products that contain the toxin and is considering banning it altogether. Because of this, the FDA has finally begun to test the chemical's effect on humans. Hopefully, after years of constant exposure and the percentage that's flowed into the water supply, the two agency's efforts are not too little too late.

USDA Certified Organic's Dirty Little Secret: Neotame

By Barbara H. Peterson--Farm Wars

Just when we thought that buying "Organic" was safe, we run headlong into the deliberate poisoning of our organic food supply by the FDA in collusion with none other than the folks who brought us Aspartame. NutraSweet, a former Monsanto asset, has developed a new and improved version of this neurotoxin called Neotame.

Neotame has similar structure to aspartame — except that, from it's structure, appears to be even more toxic than aspartame. This potential increase in toxicity will make up for the fact that less will be used in diet drinks. Like aspartame, some of the concerns include gradual neurotoxic and immunotoxic damage from the combination of the formaldehyde metabolite (which is toxic at extremely low doses) and the excitotoxic amino acid. (Holisticmed.com)

But surely, this product would be labeled! NOT SO!!! For this little gem, no labeling required. And it is even included in USDA Certified Organic food. The food labeling requirements required for aspartame have now been dropped for Neotame, and no one is clear why this was allowed to happen. Neotame has been ruled acceptable, and without being included on the list of ingredients, for:

- USDA Certified Organic food items.
- Certified Kosher products with the official letter k inside the circle on labels. (Janet Hull)

Let me make this perfectly clear. Neotame does not have to be included in ANY list of ingredients! So, if you buy processed food, whether USDA Certified Organic or not, that food most likely will contain Neotame because it is cost-effective, and since no one knows it is there, there is no public backlash similar to what is happening with Aspartame. A win/win situation!

But that's not all. Just love chowing down on that delicious steak? Well, that cow most likely will have been fed with feed containing.....you guessed it.....Neotame! A product called "Sweetos," which is actually composed of Neotame, is being substituted for molasses in animal feed.

"Sweetos is an economical substitute for molasses. Sweetos guarantees the masking of unpleasant tastes and odor and improves the palatability of feed. This product will be economical for farmers and manufacturers of cattle feed. It can also be used in mineral mixture," said Craig Petray, CEO, The NutraSweet Company, a division of Searle, which is a part of Monsanto. (Bungalow Bill)

Why would we feed animals food that is so distasteful that we would have to mask the unpleasantness with an artificial sweetener? Most animals will not eat spoiled, rancid feed. They know by the smell that it is not good. Enter Sweetos (Neotame). Just cover up the unpleasant tastes and odors, and you can feed them anything you want to, courtesy of the oh, so considerate folks at Monsanto and company.

But of course, Monsanto is no longer associated with NutraSweet. In the time-honored tradition of covering its tracks, Monsanto has a proven track record of spinning off controversial portions of its company that generate too much scrutiny, such as it did with the Solutia solution.

Says the Farm Industry News, "Monsanto, which has long resided in the crosshairs of public scorn and scrutiny, appears to have dodged at least one bullet by spinning off its industrial chemical business into a separate entity called Solutia a couple of years ago. Solutia has since been hammered by lawsuits regarding PCB contamination from what were once called Monsanto chemical plants in Alabama and other states" (Source Watch)

So what is the solution to this problem? Buy local organic food, know your local farmer, and don't buy processed foods whether they are labeled "Organic" or not. This requires a drastic change in lifestyle that most will not want to make.

The links below provide total confirmation regarding everything (& more) I have warned about since the BP Oil Disaster:

The Oil BP Tried To Hide Has Been Discovered, In Thick Layers On the Sea Floor Over An Area of Several Thousand Square Miles

BP and the government famously declared that most of the oil had disappeared.

But as I've noted, as much as 98% of the oil is still in the ocean.

I have repeatedly pointed out that BP and the government applied massive amounts of dispersant to the Gulf Oil Spill in an effort to sink and hide the oil. Many others said the same thing.

BP and the government denied this, of course.

But the oil is not remaining hidden.

Indeed, as the Wall Street Journal noted on December 9th:

A university scientist and the federal government say they have found persuasive evidence that oil from the massive Gulf of Mexico spill is settling on the ocean floor.

The new findings, from scientists at the University of South Florida and from a broad government effort, mark the latest indication that environmental damage from the blowout of a BP PLC well could be significant where it's hardest to find: deep under the Gulf's surface.

Scientists who have been on research cruises in the Gulf in recent days report finding layers of residue up to several centimeters thick from what they suspect is BP oil.

The material appears in spots across several thousand square miles of seafloor, they said.

Top British Newspaper: BP's oil in Gulf has "switched off the North Atlantic Current, which keeps Europe from freezing"

This goes back to the BP oil spill in the Gulf of Mexico, of course. The oil has gummed up the ocean bed and switched off the North Atlantic Current, which keeps Europe from freezing.

We are at the start of a new Ice Age. You don't believe it? You might want to read the findings of Dr Gianluigi Zangari, theoretical physicist at the National Institute of Nuclear Physics in Italy who says that the Earth's central heating system has broken down because of the oil spill.

It is with deep regret that we publish this report. We do not take this responsibility lightly, as the consequences of the following observations are of such great import and have such far-reaching ramifications for the entire planet. Truly, the fate of the oceans of the world hangs in the balance, as does the future of humankind.

The Gulf of Mexico (GOM) does not exist in isolation and is, in fact, connected to the Seven Seas. Hence, we publish these findings in order that the world community will come together to further contemplate this dire and demanding predicament. We also do so with the hope that an appropriate global response will be formulated, and acted upon, for the sake of future generations. It is the most basic responsibility for every civilization to leave their world in a better condition than that which they inherited from their forbears.

After conducting the Gulf Oil Spill Remediation Conference for over seven months, we can now disseminate the following information with the authority and confidence of those who have thoroughly investigated a crime scene. There are many research articles, investigative reports and penetrating exposes archived at the following website. Particularly those posted from August through November provide a unique body of evidence, many with compelling photo-documentaries, which portray the true state of affairs at the Macondo Prospect in the GOM.

The pictorial evidence tells the whole story.

Especially that the BP narrative is nothing but a corporate-created illusion – a web of fabrication spun in collaboration with the US Federal Government and Mainstream Media. Big Oil, as well as the Military-Industrial Complex, have aided and abetted this whole scheme and info blackout because the very future of the Oil & Gas Industry is at stake, as is the future of the US Empire which sprawls around the world and requires vast amounts of hydrocarbon fuel.

136-3 The latest image (9 Nov10) in the vicinity of Well A location, after the last pumping of cement. After each attempt to grout and contain the escaping gas and oil, the monster oil-gas leak comes back even stronger. A clear evidence that BP had failed to contain the monster oil-gas leak is strewn all over the seafloor.

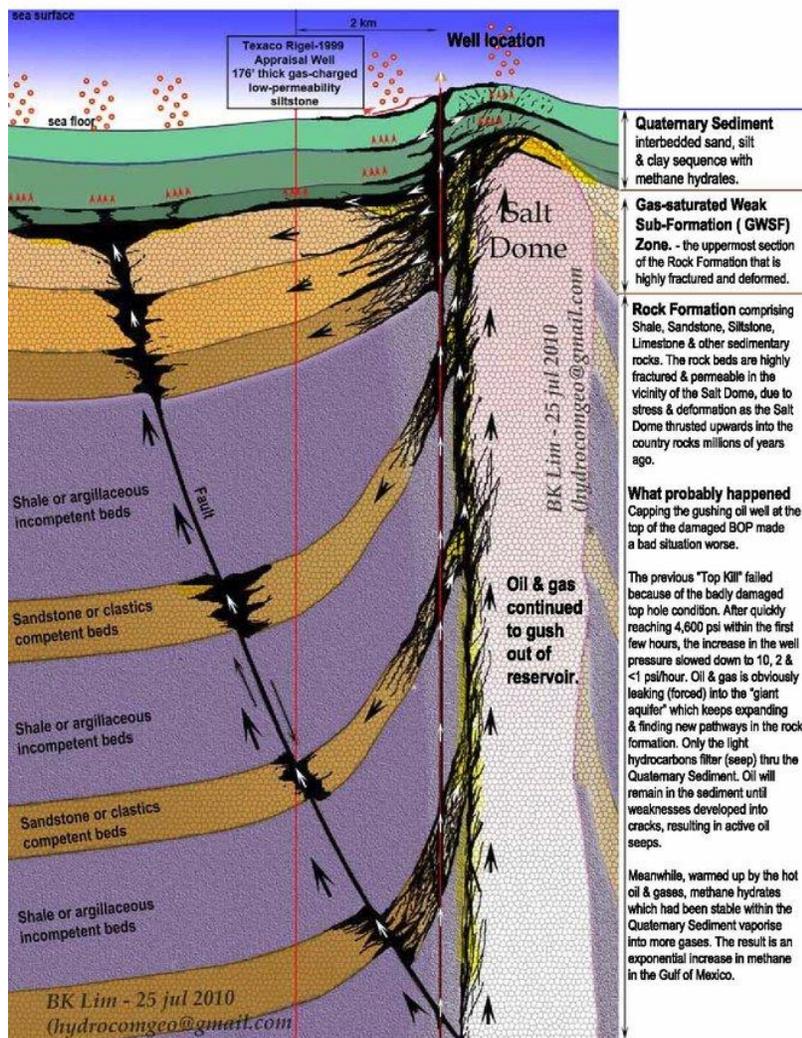

The various pictures, photos and diagrams that fill the many articles at the aforementioned website represent photo-evidence about the true state of affairs on the seafloor surrounding the Macondo Prospect in the Mississippi Canyon, which is located in the Central Planning Area of the northern Gulf of Mexico. The very dynamics of the dramatic changes and continuous evolution of the seafloor have been captured in ways that very few have ever seen. These snapshots have given us a window of understanding into the true state of the underlying geological formations around the various wells drilled in the Macondo Prospect.

Although our many deductions may be difficult for the layperson to apprehend at first, to the trained eye these are but obvious conclusions which are simply the result of cause and effect. In other words there is no dispute around the most serious geological changes which have occurred, and continue to occur, in the region around the Macondo wells. The original predicament (an 87 day gushing well) was extremely serious, as grasped by the entire world, and the existing situation is only going to get progressively worse.

So, just what does this current picture look like. Please click on the link below to view the relevant diagrams and read the commentary:

Fig 1h After capping blown out well at top of BOP.

As the diagrams clearly indicate, the geology around the well bore has been blown. This occurred because of drilling contiguous to a salt dome(1), as well as because of the gas explosions which did much damage to the integrity of the well casing, cementing, well bore, well head, and foundation around the well head. Eighty-seven straight days of gushing hydrocarbon effluent under great pressure only served to further undermine the entire well system. Finally, when it was capped, putting the system back under pressure forced the upsurging hydrocarbons to find weaknesses throughout the greater system, which revealed all sorts of compromised, fractured and unsettled geology through which the hydrocarbons could travel all the way to the seafloor and into the GOM.

(1) "The rock beds in the vicinity of a salt dome are highly fractured and permeable due to stress and deformation which occur as the salt dome thrust upwards." ( BK Lim, Geohazards Specialist)

Larger faults can open up much greater opportunities for the hydrocarbons to find their way to the seafloor via cracks and crevices, craters and chasms. In fact the numerous leaks and seeps throughout the seafloor surface, which are quite apparent from various ROV live-feeds, give testimony to sub-seafloor geological formations in great turmoil and undergoing unprecedented flux.

\“Once the oil gets into the shallow faulted zones, we have an uncontrollable situation. The place where most of the oil and gas is coming out is at the foot hills of the continental shelf as shown in figure 134-1 in the article “BP continues to dazzle us with their unlimited magic”. .” (Per BK Lim, Geohazards Specialist)*

There are actually three different ongoing disasters – each more grave and challenging than the previous one – which must be considered when assessing the awesome destruction to the GOM by the Oil & Gas Industry.

- I. A single gushing well of up to 100,000 barrels per day of oil for 87 days into the GOM at the Macondo Prospect along with two smaller rogue wells
- II. Numerous leaks and seeps within five to ten square miles of the Macondo well with an aggregate outflow of an unknown amount of oil per day into the GOM
- III. Countless gushers and spills, leaks and seeps, throughout the Gulf of Mexico, where drilling has been conducted for many decades, with an oil outflow that can not even be estimated, but is well in excess of any guesstimate which would ensure the slow and steady demise of the GOM.

It is the last scenario which we all face and to which there is no easy or obvious solution. The truth be told, there currently does not exist the technology or machinery or equipment to repair the damage that has been wrought by the process of deep undersea drilling, especially when it is performed in the wrong place. Therefore, wherever the oil and gas find points of entry into the GOM through the seafloor, these leaks and seeps will only continue to get worse. Here’s why:
Methane gas mixed with saltwater and mud makes for a very potent corrosive agent. Under high pressure it will find every point of egress through the rock and sediment formations all the way up to the seafloor where it will find any point of exit that is available. The longer and more forcefully that it flows throughout the fractured area, which is dependent on the volume, temperature and pressure at the source of the hydrocarbons, the more its corrosive effects will widen, broaden and enlarge the channels, cracks and crevices throughout the sub-seafloor geology, thereby creating a predicament that no science, technology or equipment can remedy.

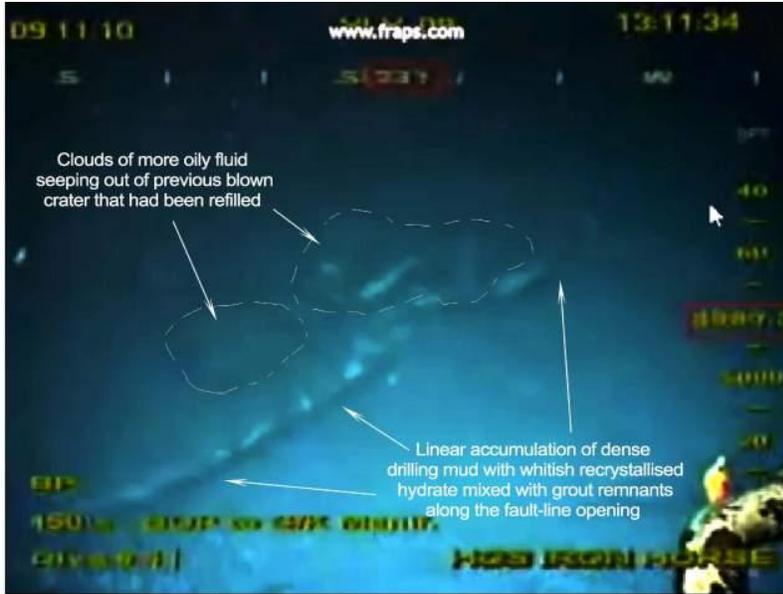

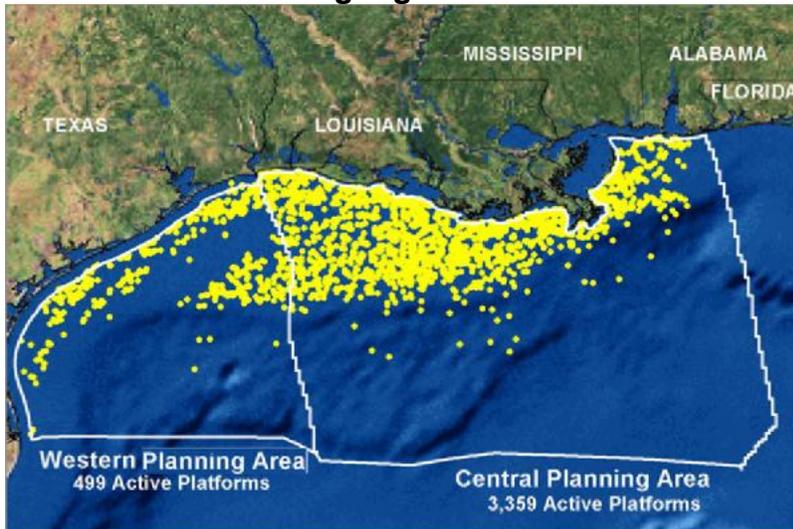

Fig 137-01 Fault line near to well A. Note the gas-oil fluid seeping out in a straight line dictated by the underlying fault, forming re-crystallized hydrates mixed with mud and grout remnants. More oil (cloudy appearance) is seeping out of the re-filled blown up crater.

Seismic activity in the GOM and the uptick in earthquakes in the Mississippi River Basin and surrounding region

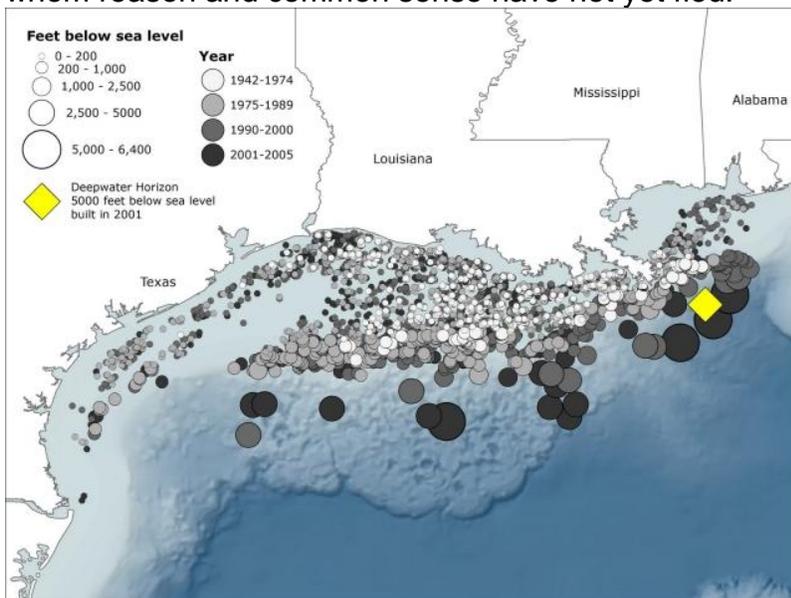

The oil and gas platforms that were in operation throughout the northern Gulf of Mexico in 2006 (per Wikipedia).

Green lines represent active pipes (25,000 miles in all). Yellow dots represent oil rigs.

The map that follows, however, tells a story which demands the attention of every resident of the GOM coastline. The video link below the map shows the development timeline of the successively deeper wells being drilled during the last decade. Of course, with greater depths come much greater risks, as the technology and machinery have not been proportionately upgraded to accommodate the extraordinary demands and unforeseen contingencies of such a speculative and dangerous enterprise*.

*Oil and gas drilling in seawater depths of over 4000 feet, and through 15,000 to 25,000 feet of the earth's crust and mantle, is considered extremely dangerous to those from whom reason and common sense have not yet fled.

It's critical to understand the location and current activity of the various faults which exist throughout the GOM and how they connect to the New Madrid Fault Line, as well as other major faults at much greater distance. There does appear to be an emerging uptick in earthquake activity in the greater Louisiana area, as well as contiguous regions in the GOM as demonstrated by unprecedented, albeit low level earthquakes.

Now then, the question remains just how vulnerable has the GOM been made to a truly catastrophic event, ending up with an overwhelming displacement of water producing tidal waves, in the aftermath of an undersea earthquake.

There is no question that the ceaseless fracturing of the seafloor and fissuring of the sub-seafloor geological strata by the Oil & Gas Industry has set up a quite conducive environment for HUGE unintended consequences. We leave it up to the experts to conduct the necessary risk assessments, which will most assuredly let loose a sea of red flags about what Big Oil has done, and is currently doing, in the Gulf of Mexico. Furthermore, we are deeply concerned that, if a permanent moratorium on all new oil and gas drilling and extraction in the GOM is not put into place post haste, the coastal communities will remain in a very precarious situation.

Now consider the following scenario: that this very same predicament, which we have all witnessed in the Gulf of Mexico, is happening wherever oil and gas drilling is conducted in the various water bodies throughout the planet. Therefore we can multiply the Macondo Prospect disaster a hundred times and still not come close to the impacts that these ongoing gushers and spills, leaks and seeps are having the world over.
