Ephesians 5:11, 13-16: "And have no fellowship with the unfruitful works of darkness, but rather reprove them. But all things that are reprov'd are made manifest by the light: for whatsoever doth make manifest is light. Wherefore he saith, Awake thou that sleepest, and arise from the dead, and Christ shall give thee light. See then that ye walk circumspectly, not as fools, but as wise, Redeeming the time, because the days are evil."

The 1828 Noah Webster Dictionary defines:

Reprove: To blame, to convince of a fault, or to make it manifest, to excite a sense of guilt.

Circumspectly: Cautiously; with watchfulness every way; with attention to guard against surprise or danger.

Matthew 24:24: "...if it were possible, they shall deceive the very elect."

II Corinthians 2:11: "Lest Satan should get an advantage of us: for we are not ignorant of his devices."

II Chronicles 7:14: "If my people, which are called by my name, shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin, and will heal their land."

A Believers Authority In Christ and Warring in the Spirit

Isa 59:19: So shall they fear the name of the LORD from the west, and his glory from the rising of the sun. When the enemy shall come in like a flood, the Spirit of the LORD shall lift up a standard against him.

Psalm 91:13: Thou shalt tread upon the lion and adder: the young lion and the dragon shalt thou trample under feet.

Eph 6:11 Put on the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil.

Eph 6:12 For we wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this world, against spiritual wickedness in high places.

Eph 6:13 Wherefore take unto you the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to withstand in the evil day, and having done all, to stand.

Eph 6:14 Stand therefore, having your loins girt about with truth, and having on the breastplate of righteousness;

2Cor 10:5 Casting down imaginations, and every high thing that exalteth itself against the knowledge of God, and bringing into captivity every thought to the obedience of Christ;

Luk 10:20 Notwithstanding in this rejoice not, that the spirits are subject unto you; but rather rejoice, because your names are written in heaven.

++ U.N. planning court to judge U.S. for 'climate justice'-- Stealth agenda to issue rulings on debt, finance, tech transfers

At the upcoming United Nations Climate Summit in Paris, participating nations have prepared a treaty that would create an "International Tribunal of Climate Justice" giving Third World countries the power to haul the U.S. into a global court with enforcement powers.

Congress would be bypassed – left out in the cold – by this climate deal, critics say.

Policies once left to sovereign nations could be turned over to a U.N. body if the U.S. and its allies approve the proposed deal in Paris during the summit scheduled for Nov. 30-Dec. 11.

According to the proposed draft text of the climate treaty, the tribunal would take up issues such as "climate justice," "climate finance," "technology transfers," and "climate debt."

The U.N. held a preparatory conference in September in Bonn, Germany, that drafted language to be approved at the upcoming Paris climate summit. At the Bonn meeting the U.N. brought together more than 2,000 participants from governments, observer organizations and the media.

But none of those media chose to report on the proposed new global tribunal. The Paris Conference is mandated to adopt a protocol with legal force which is to come into force in 2020, according to IISD Reporting Services, which tracks the global sustainable development movement.

Like many initiatives that come out of the U.N., there has been a media blackout on coverage of the potential for a new world tribunal that would make binding decisions on a host of issues critical to the U.S. economy. The draft text has been available on the Internet since Oct. 20 for all to see.

“The only mentions one is likely to find with search engines are alarms being sounded by critics, the climate realists who reject the apocalyptic predictions (and discredited pseudo-science – see: here, here, and here) of the multi-billion dollar global warming lobby,” writes William F. Jasper for the New American magazine.

One such critic is Craig Rucker, executive director and co-founder of CFACT.

Rucker points out that more than 130 developing nations – “led by South Africa and instigated by China and India” – are insisting they will not sign a climate deal in Paris unless it contains massive redistribution of wealth from developed to poor nations.

“Now they want the power to haul the U.S. and its allies before a U.N. Star Chamber to enforce compliance,” Rucker writes.

He also notes that this is not the first time the U.N. has tried to insert language creating a global climate court into a U.N. climate document. It happened in 2011 at a summit in Durban, but was stripped at the last minute when CFACT blew the whistle and some media outlets picked up the story.

But this time around, the globalists writing the text have substituted the word “tribunal” for “court” and insist the body will be “non-judicial.”

What you don't hear in the media! Get Global Warming or Global Governance? The Truth About Global Warming \(DVD\) from the WND Superstore!

“The slight edit to the terminology offers little comfort,” Rucker said, cautioning that the word “tribunal” could get watered down further if it attracts too much attention.

“If the climate tribunal becomes the focus of public scrutiny, watch for the negotiators to pull a switch behind closed doors and try and accomplish the same thing by re-branding it an enforcement ‘mechanism,’” he said.

“Whatever they call it, countries who sign onto this agreement will be voting to expand the reach of the U.N. climate bureaucracy, cede national sovereignty, and create a one-way street along which billions will be redistributed from developed to poor nations,” Rucker says. “Developed nations would be expected to slash their emissions while the 'poor' countries expand theirs. China, which holds a trillion dollars in U.S. debt, would be counted among the poor."

He said China and India are "delighted," with the prospect.

"They would like nothing better than a world where the West cedes the competitive advantages their free market economies created," Rucker writes. "They hope for a future where Asia does the manufacturing and the U.S. and Europe do the importing – until their wealth runs out, anyway."

Rucker said President Obama and John Kerry are desperate to claim the climate treaty as a foreign policy "success."

"President Obama and Secretary of State Kerry are mired in foreign policy failures," Rucker notes. "They desperately want to get this agreement signed so they can claim a victory for their legacies.

"How far are they willing to sell out American interests to get this ill-begotten agreement signed?"

GOP: Obama circumventing Senate in Paris climate deal talks

Republican senators accused President Obama Tuesday of deliberately circumventing Congress in his attempt to reach a broad U.N. deal on climate change.

Sen. John Barrasso (R-Wyo.), chairman of a Foreign Relations Committee subpanel, said at a Tuesday hearing that any deal negotiators reach at the talks in Paris in December needs to go through Senate ratification.

"It must be submitted to the United States Senate for its advice and consent," "The president has made clear that he doesn't see it that way, as was the case with the Iranian nuclear deal," Barrasso said

Barrasso was the only Republican at the hearing, which was dominated by Democrats.

Sen. Jim Inhofe (R-Okla.), who wanted to have a joint hearing on the talks with the Environment and Public Works Committee, which he chairs, said in a statement that the deal should go through the Senate.

"President Obama and his administrative officials are going out of their way to circumvent the role of the U.S. Senate in this negotiating process..." he said.

Republicans have long accused Obama of working with international leaders to craft a deal that would not require Senate approval, as treaties generally do under the Constitution.

++ US Special Forces deployed as 'human shields' to protect Islamic terror assets in Syria

Obama's decision to send Special Forces into Syria is being widely viewed as a US military escalation in the country. The troop dispatch also signals that the US trying to forestall Russian successes in wiping out Washington's regime-change assets in Syria.

In short, the US Special Forces are being used as “human shields” to curb Russian air strikes against anti-government mercenaries, many of whom are instrumental in Washington’s regime-change objective in Syria.

First of all, we need to view a host of developments, including the hastily convened “peace talks” in Vienna, as a response by the US and its allies to the game-changing military intervention by Russia. That intervention, beginning on September 30, has not only dealt massive blows to militants, it has completely changed the balance of forces to give the Assad government the upper hand in the war against foreign-backed extremists. That, in turn, has sent the US-led powers trying to topple Damascus into disarray.

Recall the scattered reactions from Washington and its allies, including Britain, France, Turkey, Saudi Arabia and Qatar. At first, Washington tried to discredit Vladimir Putin’s order to aid his Syrian ally with airstrikes as “doomed to fail”.

Then there were overblown, unverified, claims of civilian casualties from Russian strikes, plus there were American claims that Russian cruise missiles had gone wildly astray, hitting Iran. There was also much angst over Russia striking “moderate rebels” instead of the Islamic State terror network. All such accusations, encouraged with Western media amplification, were designed to undermine Russia’s military operation.

Dave Hodges puts it this way: Putin has repeatedly requested the U.S.’s cooperation with the war against Muslim jihadists in Syria, but Obama has steadfastly refused, and for good reason. Presently, Russia is the only foreign nation inside of Syria that is legally operating inside of Syria. The Syrian government, headed by Assad, has invited Russia into his country. The great interloper, the United States, has invented and continues to support rogue terrorist organizations such as ISIS and the Syrian rebels in an attempt to unseat Assad in a desperate move to save the Petrodollar. The Syrian rebels and ISIS are illegitimate, rogue entities supported by the United States CIA. Under international law, the United States is a criminal nation supporting an illegal takeover of the Assad regime.

Putin continues to be a tactical genius. By inviting the United States to join his forces in ridding Syria of the criminal ISIS, Putin exposes America’s bad guy role in Syria.

Another seeming knee-jerk response came from Turkey and rightwing politicians and pundits in the US which revived talks about the creation of “safe havens” in northern Syria, ostensibly to protect civilian refugees, but also tacitly and more importantly, to give cover to US backed ISIS terrorist “rebel” groups from Russian air strikes and Syrian government ground troops.

None of these reactions have gained credibility despite Western media hype. On the contrary, it soon became clear that Russia’s military intervention in Syria was a masterstroke by Putin, wiping out large swathes of US backed ISIS terrorist mercenaries, stabilizing the Assad government, and winning much popular support both within Syria and across the Middle East, and indeed around the world.

Last week, America’s top military official, General Joseph F Dunford, Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, told a Senate committee that Russia’s air support had changed everything. “The balance of forces right now are in Assad’s advantage,” he said.

This is the context in which to interpret the latest, surprise move by Obama to send Special Forces into Syria. It is more about inhibiting Russian success in destroying the Muslim terrorist anti-regime forces on the ground, rather than either “helping the fight against Islamic State” as claimed.

<< ISIS oil exports that are worth $500m a year are 'conducted through Turkey'. Although Washington could curb the illegal traffic, it has chosen to focus on other issues, a former CIA officer told the Sputnik news agency.

"It's a question of priorities. They have never allocated enough resources to do so. Other goals and missions have been rated as having more urgent calls on intelligence and tactical resources," John Kiriakou, a former Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) counterterrorism officer and US Senate Foreign Relations Committee senior investigator. Comment: Even though this would shut down ISIS's main income stream that funds all their efforts and atrocities!!!!

IS makes about $40 million a month on oil sales, raking in close to $500 million a year, a US Treasury Department spokesperson told the news agency earlier this week.

++ Back to the report:

Islamic State militants are gaining at least $50 million per month from illegally selling crude oil from occupied oil fields in Iraq and Syria, Iraqi and US officials say. The jihadists are selling the 'black gold' at extremely low prices.

The extremists are reportedly selling crude oil at $35 per barrel, sometimes as little as $10 per barrel, four Iraqi intelligence officials told AP.

According to Kiriakou, someone on the Turkish side of the border has been making a lot of money on it. "There are too many vested interests (Comment: Including the corrupt US) involved for it to stop."

The troop contingent that Obama has ordered amounts to 50 Special Forces personnel. That is hardly going to be a decisive blow to Islamic State militants, even if we believe the official rationale for their deployment.

The White House, in its announcement, was at pains to emphasize that the troops would not be in a combat role and would only be acting to "advise and train" Kurdish fighters and others belonging to the little-known Syrian Arab Coalition.

But here is perhaps the significant part of the story. "The move could potentially put the American troops in the cross hairs of Russia," reports the New York Times. Significantly, too, the Pentagon will not be informing the Russian military of the exact whereabouts of its ground personnel.

That suggests that the real purpose for Obama sending in the troops is to restrict Russian offensive operations by introducing the risk of bombing American forces. In effect, the US Special Forces are being used as human shields to protect American regime-change assets (AKA ISIS) on the ground.

These assets include an array of jihadist mercenary brigades, which the US and its allies have invested billions of dollars in for the objective of regime change in Syria. The misnomer of “moderate rebels” belies abundant evidence that the mercenaries include Al Qaeda-linked terror groups, including Islamic State. CIA supplies of anti-tank TOW missiles as well as Toyota jeeps are just a glimpse of the foreign covert-sponsorship.

Russia’s devastating air campaign over the past month – over 1,600 targets destroyed according to Moscow – has no doubt caused apoplexy in Washington, London, Paris, Ankara, Riyadh and Doha. An urgent stop to their “losses” had to be invoked. But the foreign sponsors can’t say it openly otherwise that gives the game away about their criminal involvement in Syria’s war.

This perspective most likely explains the hastily convened “peace conference” in Vienna. US Secretary of State John Kerry’s apparent concern to “stop the bloodshed” does not seem credible as the primary motive. Why the concern now after nearly five years of bloodshed?

It is not about a “quest for peace” as the BBC reported. The move is more credibly about Washington and its allies maneuvering to give their regime-change assets in Syria a reprieve from Russia’s firepower. One of the main points agreed in Vienna this weekend is the implementation of a “nation-wide ceasefire”.

Another indicator of what is really going on are reports this week of the large-scale airlifting of jihadist mercenary groups out of Syria. According to senior Syrian army intelligence, up to 500 mercenaries were flown to Yemen onboard Turkish, Qatari and Emirati planes. The fighters were brought to Yemen’s southern city of Aden from where they were dispatched to battle zones inside Yemen by the American-coordinated Saudi coalition. The US-Saudi coalition is waging war in Yemen to reinstall the regime of exiled President Abed Hadi ousted by Houthi rebels earlier this year.

Aden is under the military control of Saudi and Emirati forces and Yemen’s airspace has been closed off by the coalition coordinated by US and British military planners based in Saudi capital Riyadh. It is inconceivable that plane loads of jihadists could be flown into southern Yemen without the knowledge of Washington.

So what we are seeing here is a concerted effort by Washington and its allies to protect their covert military losses in Syria. Sending in American Special Forces – a seemingly dramatic U-turn by Obama to put boots on the ground in Syria – is just one part of a wider effort to forestall Russian success in stabilizing Syria. These US forces are being sent in to act as human shields against Russian airstrikes to protect ISIS and other Muslim terrorist IS assets in that region.

The putative ceasefire under a so-called peace process is another element of the US-led salvage operation. The real agenda is about giving Western, Turk and Arab-sponsored jihadists a space to regroup, and if needs be flown out of the Syrian theatre to resume their imperialist function in Yemen and, no doubt, elsewhere when required.

WW3 Update: Was Putin's Friend's Death A 'Proxy War Assassination' That Will Lead Us Closer To WW3 And Nuclear Annihilation?

By Stefan Stanford - All News Pipeline - Live Free Or Die

Have we just witnessed the assassination of a high-level Russian citizen who was a friend of Vladimir Putin? The death of Russia Today founder Mikhail Lesin, who was found dead in a Washington DC hotel, is cloaked in intrigue and as asked by many, who would want this man dead and why? Why was a close friend of Putin in Washington DC at this tension-filled time anyway?

Lesin was the former press minister in Russia and at one time, the head of the Gazprom-Media Group and the man given credit for starting up the increasingly popular Russia Today.

According to a well-trusted ANP background source, it's likely Lesin was 'Breitbart' to keep him from breaking important inside information through the huge reach of Russia Today and his death may have been part of the larger 'proxy war' ongoing between the two countries. We're also told there'll likely be some kind of retaliation.

"The war is on to totally control all information released to the public and he knew or was in possession of something that someone felt threatened by."

Our government has long had a weapon that can be used to induce a heart attack, which is what Lesin was originally said to have died from, and many believe that Breitbart founder Andrew Breitbart was killed the same way. The possibility is also raised that Lesin may have been 'taken out' by somebody from the Russian side. Was Lesin's death somehow tied to the recent downing of a Russian plane?

We also take a look at below at an interesting story out of California where we learn that mysterious military maneuvers will be going on over the Pacific Ocean for the next week. Are these mysterious maneuvers somehow tied to the death of Lesin and the unfolding of World War 3? We have to ask, what is suddenly ongoing over the Pacific Ocean of such importance?

We know that Chinese warships recently made their presence felt on the East coast; are they also landing stealthily on the West coast as well? Are foreign soldiers secretly invading America in preparation of collapse as was asked by former Green Beret Jeremiah Johnson less than a month ago? Is everything we're now watching tied to the TPP, censorship and the unfolding of global government as 'America' is 'removed' as a global power?

Watch (Warning Language): CAUGHT ON TAPE: AUSTIN POLICE BRUTAL JAYWALKING BEATDOWN

Next News has obtained video taken by Rolando Ramiro of an incident involving police early Friday morning. It happened on the 600 block of E. Sixth Street. Three people accused of jaywalking were violently arrested by Austin police early Friday morning in a scene that was captured on video. After spending a night in jail, two of the three were released and their charges were dismissed, sources say.

Jeremy Kingg, one of the three arrested, told ATTN: that the group was uncertain if they were allowed to cross the street at about 2:30 a.m. and called out to Austin police officers who were standing nearby. When the officers didn't respond, they proceeded to cross.

Several officers then approached and aggressively arrested three of the five people who had crossed the street. In the video, officers can be seen kneeling and punching the alleged jaywalkers. Kingg says that Matthew Wallace and Lourdes Glen were also charged with "walking against the light."

Glen was taken to an emergency room while in custody "because her heart was beating too fast" and was being denied her asthma medication, according to Kingg. She was released Friday and her charges were dismissed. Wallace, who was reportedly charged with resisting arrest, remains in jail.

Microsoft Admits Windows 10 Automatic Spying Cannot Be Stopped

Last week changes to the Windows 10 upgrade path mean it is going to become increasingly difficult for any non-techy users to avoid being pushed to Microsoft's new operating system.

Speaking to PC World, Microsoft Corporate Vice President Joe Belfiore explained that Windows 10 is constantly tracking how it operates and how you are using it and sending that information back to Microsoft by default. More importantly he also confirmed that, despite offering some options to turn elements of tracking off, core data collection simply cannot be stopped.

So how concerned should users be about Windows 10's default data collection policies? I would say very.

By default Windows 10 Home is allowed to control your bandwidth usage, install any software it wants whenever it wants (without providing detailed information on what these updates do), display ads in the Start Menu (currently it has been limited to app advertisements), send your hardware details and any changes you make to Microsoft and even log your browser history and keystrokes which the Windows End User Licence Agreement (EULA) states you allow Microsoft to use for analysis.

Microsoft's actions (including the impending Windows 7 and Windows 8 upgrade pressure) suggests the company's recent love for Big Brother tactics is only going to get worse...

These recent updates released by Redmond install the “Diagnostics and Telemetry tracking service” that is the most controversial component of the Microsoft's newest operating system.

Once installed, the Diagnostics and Telemetry tracking service immediately begins phoning home to Microsoft even if privacy controls are enabled – apparently with no option to stop it.

How to Stop Windows 7 and Windows 8 from Spying on You?

The bigger question for users who are uncomfortable with these changes is: How do I stop them?

The best way to prevent Windows 7 and 8 from tracking you is to not install the latest updates. Unlike Windows 10, Windows 7 and Windows 8 updates are not mandatory, so you can choose not to download the updates.

However, if you have already installed these updates on your computers, you can remove them completely from your systems and the operating system will not automatically reinstall them without your permission.

Go to Control Panel > View installed updates > Remove all the updates.

If you want to eliminate these updates faster, you can launch a command prompt window with administrator privileges and then type in the following commands one by one:

CODE

wusa /uninstall /kb:3068708 /quiet /norestart

wusa /uninstall /kb:3022345 /quiet /norestart

wusa /uninstall /kb:3075249 /quiet /norestart

Once done, you can right-click on any updates shown by Windows Update and choose “Hide Update” to make sure that these updates won't be reinstalled in case you reboot your system.

Also: Don't forget the original update that started it all way back several years ago. The one that ends in #1033. Many have forgot about that. Specifically it is: (KB971033)
Comment--From: <http://geekmontage.com/how-to-uninstall-windows-7-activation-update-kb971033/> we read:

For those of you who installed the Microsoft Windows 7 Activation Checker update \(KB971033\) you can still uninstall it. The reason that viewers such as you may want to uninstall it, is because of the surround rumors that this update creates a new process/service that will slow down your system and has been rumored to monitor the user. If you haven't installed this, you can hide and prevent the Microsoft Windows Update Windows Activation Checker (KB971033) from installing by using the directions below.

What's In The $WINDOWS.~BT Folder On Windows 10?

The $WINDOWS.~BT folder, whether it's on Windows 7 or 8/8.1 contains files for upgrading to Windows 10 so if you are not going to upgrade you do not need this file. Once you have uninstalled KB3035583 (see above) you can now delete the $WINDOWS.~BT folder on your hard drive. This folder is a huge intrusive file to prep your computer for going full big brother to Windows 10 (which is not advisable). You will need Admin privileges to do so but we're assuming you already have those if you were able to uninstall the KB3035583 update. If you're having trouble deleting the folder, try using disk clean up. Select the Windows drive and allow it to scan the drive. Once it's finished scanning, click the 'Clean up System files' button and allow it to scan your drive one more time.

Once scan is complete, look for and check the 'Temporary Windows installation files' option. It will be pretty big in size. Begin the clean up process.

Doesn't this sound like our day ...

Rom 1:29-32: Being filled with all unrighteousness, fornication, wickedness, covetousness, maliciousness; full of envy, murder, debate, deceit, malignity; whisperers, Backbiters, haters of God, spiteful, proud, boasters, inventors of evil things, disobedient to parents, Without understanding, covenant breakers, without natural affection, implacable, unmerciful: Who knowing the judgment of God, that they which commit such things are worthy of death, not only do the same, but have pleasure in them that do them.

Denial of the Creator, as noted below, leads to the culture described above.

Rom 1:24-28 Wherefore God also gave them up to uncleanness through the lusts of their own hearts, to dishonour their own bodies between themselves: Who changed the truth of God into a lie, and worshipped and served the creature more than the Creator, who is blessed for ever. Amen.

And likewise also the men, leaving the natural use of the woman, burned in their lust one toward another; men with men working that which is unseemly, and receiving in themselves that recompence of their error which was meet.

And even as they did not like to retain God in their knowledge, God gave them over to a reprobate mind, to do those things which are not convenient;

As the culture of God denial saturates ... , well garbage in, garbage out ...

These traits are characteristic of the Last Days.

2Ti 3:1-7: This know also, that in the last days perilous times shall come. For men shall be lovers of their own selves, covetous, boasters, proud, blasphemers, disobedient to parents, unthankful, unholy, without natural affection, trucebreakers, false accusers, incontinent, fierce, despisers of those that are good, traitors, heady, highminded, lovers of pleasures more than lovers of God; having a form of godliness, but denying the power thereof: from such turn away. For of this sort are they which creep into houses, and lead captive silly women laden with sins, led away with divers lusts, ever learning, and never able to come to the knowledge of the truth.

And the above behavior will increase, exponentially.

2Ti 3:13: But evil men and seducers shall wax worse and worse, deceiving, and being deceived.

Mankind has ventured deep into the Hybrid Age, The Age of Transformation, The End Game. The warning went out long ago ...

Luk 17:26: And as it was in the days of Noe [Noah], so shall it be also in the days of the Son of man.

Gen 6:4: There were giants in the earth in those days; and also after that, when the sons of God came in unto the daughters of men, and they bare children to them, the same became mighty men which were of old, men of renown.

Rev 18:23 And the light of a candle shall shine no more at all in thee [Babylon]; and the voice of the bridegroom and of the bride shall be heard no more at all in thee: for thy merchants were the great men of the earth; for by thy sorceries [pharmaekia=Big Pharma & all manner of mind altering drugs] were all nations deceived.

Act 15:20: But that we write unto them, that they abstain from pollutions of idols, and from fornication, and from things strangled, and from blood.

Act 15:29: That ye abstain from meats offered to idols, and from blood, and from things strangled, and from fornication: from which if ye keep yourselves, ye shall do well. Fare ye well.

Act 21:25: As touching the Gentiles which believe, we have written and concluded that they observe no such thing, save only that they keep themselves from things offered to idols, and from blood, and from strangled, and from fornication.

Rev 2:20: Notwithstanding I have a few things against thee, because thou sufferest that woman Jezebel, which calleth herself a prophetess, to teach and to seduce my servants to commit fornication, and to eat things sacrificed unto idols.

Comment: Halal meat is technically sacrificed to Allah.

The Wisdom of the Levitical Dietary Guidelines August 5th, 2007

<http://www.ucg.org/booklets/CU/bibledesignate.htm>

In this teaching we will be looking at the practical wisdom of the Levitical dietary guidelines and see how we can apply this wisdom to our own lives. While we as Christians are not under the law, there is still wisdom that can be gleaned by looking at these guidelines. We will also be looking at all the proof texts some will use in order to justify eating anyway they like and see what the Bible has to say about fat and blood in food.
