Summary of Select Firearm Violence Prevention Strategies

Greg Ridgeway, Ph.D.
Deputy Director
National Institute of Justice

January 4, 2013

On average there are about 11,000 firearm homicides every year. While there are deaths resulting from accidental discharges and suicides, this document will focus on intentional firearm homicides. Fatalities from mass shootings (those with 4 or more victims in a particular place and time) account on average for 35 fatalities per year. Policies that address the larger firearm homicide issue will have a far greater impact even if they do not address the particular issues of mass shootings.

This document provides a cursory summary of select initiatives to reduce firearm violence and an assessment of the evidence for the initiative.

Gun buybacks

Twitter summary: Buybacks are ineffective unless massive and coupled with a ban

Goal: Reduce access to firearms by incentivizing owners to dispose of their unwanted guns rather than transfer them to a more risky possessor

Evidence: Gun buybacks are ineffective as generally implemented. 1. The buybacks are too small to have an impact. 2. The guns turned in are at low risk of ever being used in a crime. 3. Replacement guns are easily acquired. Unless these three points are overcome, a gun buyback cannot be effective.

The 1997 Australia gun buyback and its associated regulations is an exception to this. 1. It was large, buying back 20% of the firearm stock. 2. It targeted semi-automatic weapons. 3. It coupled the buyback with a ban on certain weapons and a nationwide registration and licensing program. There is strong evidence that it reduced mass killings (before the initiative massacres occurred on average once per year and none have occurred in the 15 years since).

The Australia buyback appears to have had no effect on crime otherwise. One study (Leigh & Neill 2010) has proven confusing in that its abstract suggests that Australia's gun buyback reduced firearm homicide rates by 80%, but the body of the report finds no effect. Others (Reuter & Mouzas 2003) have used the same data and also found no effect on crime although they also noted that mass shootings appear to have disappeared in Australia. A third study (Chapman et al 2006) using Australian data from 1979 to 2003 shows that the firearm homicide rate was already declining prior to the firearm reforms and that

The National Rifle Association has obtained a Department of Justice memo dated Jan. 4th 2013 (downloadable here as a PDF) is calling for national gun registration and confiscation. The nine page "cursory summary" on current gun control initiatives was not officially released by the Obama administration. DOJ memo states: "Buybacks are ineffective unless massive and coupled with a ban."

It also states the administration "believes that a gun ban will not work without mandatory gun confiscation," and thinks universal background checks "won't work without requiring national gun registration." Obama has yet to publicly support national registration or firearms confiscation, although the memo reveals his administration is moving in that direction.

FEDS BUYING ENOUGH BULLETS FOR '24-YEAR WAR' Radio host warns: DHS preparing for prolonged riots in U.S.

Federal, non-military agencies, noted radio host Mark Levin last week, have purchased enough ammunition recently to not only shoot every American five times, but also engage in a prolonged, domestic war.

The numbers are based on recent reports that put the total federal ammunition buy in the last 10 months at approaching two billion rounds.

“To provide some perspective,” Levin noted, “experts estimate that at the peak of the Iraq war American troops were firing around 5.5 million rounds per month. At that rate, the [Department of Homeland Security] is armed now for a 24-year Iraq war. A 24-year Iraq war!”

Gun dealers report shortages of ammunition

Gun shops are running low on ammunition from a run by customers fearful of potential gun-control legislation, according to gun retailers and customers.

Prices have more than doubled over past year in some shops, retailers are putting limits on the amount a customer can buy, and some common types of ammunition, such as .22-caliber long rifle shells, are hard to get.

<http://www.usatoday.com/story/news/nation/2013/02/16/ammunition-shortage/1919321/>

Government is buying up ammo that they had no use for, such as the 22LR, and just destroying it to keep it off the shelves.

My brother is a doctor down in the Pensacola region in FL. Through his job he rubs elbows with high level people in the military and law enforcement. I was talking to him today and he told me that one of his friends that was on the Joint Chiefs of Staff (I think he is now retired) verified that the Government is buying up ammo that they had no use for, such as the 22LR, and just destroying it to keep it off the shelves. He also confirmed that several of the officers he knows are being interviewed by the administration with a lie detector and being told that they wont fit into the future direction of the military and being forced to leave. This is just more confirmation to what is going on.

Apparently the good officers are talking to each other and keeping up with what is going on with the military. The leadership that will be left in the military will be weak, corrupt and ineffective, which will lead to chaos for the enlisted.

Ammo Prices Have Doubled Since December At 'America's Largest Gun Shop'

The price of his store's ammunition has more than doubled since mid-December, says Larry Hyatt, owner of Hyatt Gun Shop in Charlotte, N.C., which bills itself "America's Largest Gun Shop."

I spoke to Mr. Hyatt today about the increase in the price of ammunition since mid-December (when the gun control debate began to heat up). Hyatt said that the ammo market is "very volatile" and that he "doesn't know when the next shipment will be."

URGENT: Veterans Are Receiving Letters From VA Prohibiting The Ownership Of Firearms...!

Written By Constitutional Attorney Michael Connelly, J.D.

How would you feel if you received a letter from the U.S. Government informing you that: “A determination of incompetency will prohibit you from purchasing, possessing, receiving, or transporting a firearm or ammunition. If you knowingly violate any of these prohibitions, you may be fined, imprisoned, or both pursuant to the Brady Handgun Violence Prevention Act, Pub.L.No. 103-159, as implemented at 18, United States Code 924(a)(2).”?

That makes it sound like something right from a documentary on a tyrannical dictatorship somewhere in the world. Yet, as I write this I have a copy of such a letter right in front of me. It is being sent by the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs to hundreds, perhaps thousands, of veterans. In my capacity as Executive Director of the United States Justice Foundation (USJF) I have been contacted by some of these veterans and the stories I am getting are appalling.

The letter provides no specifics on the reasons for the proposed finding of incompetency; just that is based on a determination by someone in the VA. In every state in the United States no one can be declared incompetent to administer their own affairs without due process of law and that usually requires a judicial hearing with evidence being offered to prove to a judge that the person is indeed incompetent. This is a requirement of the Fifth Amendment to the U.S. Constitution that states that no person shall “... be deprived of life, liberty, or property without due process of law...”.

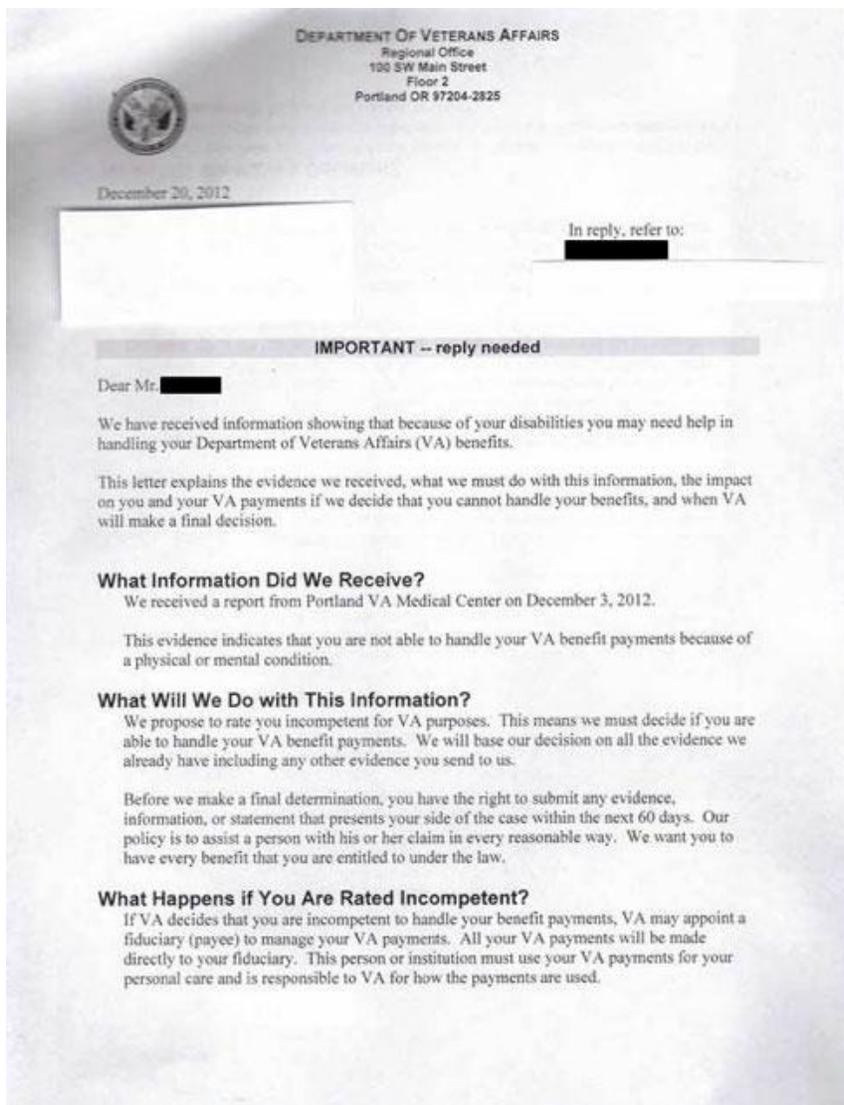

Obviously, the Department of Veterans Affairs can't be bothered by such impediments as the Constitution, particularly since they are clearly pushing to fulfill one of Obama's main goals, the disarming of the American people. Janet Napolitano has already warned law enforcement that some of the most dangerous among us are American veterans, and now according to this letter from the VA they can be prohibited from buying or even possessing a firearm because of a physical or mental disability.

Federal Government Moves to Disarm Veterans

It's no secret that the Department of Homeland Security considers returning veterans a threat to the coming New World Order. They said as much back in 2009 when they wrote in a report exposed by the alternative media: “Returning veterans possess combat skills and experience that are attractive to right-wing extremists... the DHS is concerned that right-wing extremists will attempt to recruit and radicalize veterans in order to boost their violent capacities.” “This must be Barack Obama's way of thanking our veterans for serving,” writes the Gateway Pundit. “US veterans are receiving letters from the government informing them that they are disabled and not allowed to own, purchase or possess a firearm. If the veteran does decide to purchase a firearm he will be fined, imprisoned or both... This comes on page 2 of the VA letter.”

A determination of incompetency will prohibit you from purchasing, possessing, receiving, or transporting a firearm or ammunition. If you knowingly violate any of these prohibitions, you may be fined, imprisoned, or both pursuant to the Brady Handgun Violence Prevention Act, Pub.L.No. 103-159, as implemented at 18, United States Code 924(a)(2).

If we decide that you are unable to handle your VA funds, you may apply to this regional office for the relief of prohibitions imposed by the Brady Act with regards to the possession, purchase, receipt, or transportation of a firearm. Submit your request to the address at the top of this letter on the enclosed VA Form 21-4138, Statement in Support of Claim. VA will determine whether such relief is warranted.

DHS Supplier Provides Shooting Targets of American Gun Owners: Company produces cardboard cut-outs of “non-traditional threats”: Pregnant women, elderly & children. ANY MORE DOUBTS ABOUT WHOSE GOING TO BE KILLED ?

A provider of “realistic” shooting targets to the Department of Homeland Security and other federal agencies has created a line of “non-traditional threat” targets that include pregnant women, mothers in playgrounds and elderly American gun owners.

Law Enforcement Targets, Inc. is a 21-year designer and full service provider of training targets for the DHS, the Justice Department and thousands of law enforcement agencies throughout the country.

The company's website offers a line of "No More Hesitation" targets "designed to give officers the experience of dealing with deadly force shooting scenarios with subjects that are not the norm during training." The targets are, "meant to help the transition for officers who are faced with these highly unusual targets for the first time."

The targets include "pregnant woman threat," "older man with shotgun," "older man in home with shotgun," "older woman with gun," "young school aged girl," "young mother on playground," and "little boy with real gun."

Why are top training target suppliers for the government supplying the likes of the DHS with "non-traditional threat" targets of children, pregnant women, mothers in playgrounds, and elderly American gun owners unless there is a demand for such items?

This is particularly alarming given the fact that the Department of Homeland Security has purchased roughly 2 billion rounds of ammunition over the course of the last year, enough to wage a near 30 year war.

The DHS also purchased no less than 7,000 fully automatic assault rifles last September, labeling them "Personal Defense Weapons."

The fact that targets of armed pregnant women, children, mothers in playgrounds, and American gun owners in general are being represented as "non traditional threats" "for the first time" is deeply concerning given the admitted preparations for civil unrest undertaken by Homeland Security as well as other federal agencies.

A leaked US Army Military Police training manual for "Civil Disturbance Operations" also outlines how military assets are to be used domestically to quell riots, confiscate firearms and even kill Americans on U.S. soil during mass civil unrest.

This also dovetails with the continuing characterization of Americans who are “suspicious of centralized federal authority,” and “reverent of individual liberty” as “extreme right-wing” terrorists by DHS-funded studies.

The US military trained last year to take on another “unusual target” – zombies – which some fear is just a ruse to get troops used to engaging crowds of people with deadly force. As documented in the film Police State 2000, numerous “urban warfare” training drills stretching back well over a decade have revolved around incarcerating and battling the American people on domestic soil.

See the actual “non-traditional threats” that are being provided in the form of shooting targets to the DHS and thousands of law enforcement agencies below.

Ten Year Old Arrested For Toy Gun Has Probation Officer, Lawyers And Second Court Date

A ten year old Virginia boy who was arrested earlier this month for taking a plastic toy gun to school is facing a potentially permanent criminal record over the incident.

The boy, who remains unnamed by the media, hit headlines after Douglas MacArthur Elementary School officials searched his bag and found an orange tipped plastic toy gun, following complaints from parents who said their children had seen the boy playing with the fake firearm on the school bus.

Instead of exercising common sense, the school officials called the police, and the boy was taken into custody.

The next day he was fingerprinted, photographed, and questioned in a small courtroom.

His mother said that her son, who has attention-deficit hyperactivity disorder, was forced to answer questions about his Miranda rights, and has now been issued a probation officer and a second court date to face criminal charges.

Democrats Introduce Bill to Allow Police to Search Homes of Gun Owners

Democrats in Washington State are in full retreat after it was reported they are working on legislation that would nullify the Fourth Amendment rights of citizens who own firearms designated as “assault weapons” by the state.

“In order to continue to possess an assault weapon that was legally possessed on the effective date of this section, the person possessing shall ... safely and securely store the assault weapon. The sheriff of the county may, no more than once per year, conduct an inspection to ensure compliance with this subsection,” SB 5737 states.

If enacted, the law will allow police to search without a court-issued search warrant the homes of owners of legally purchased firearms.

Oklahoma House Passes Firearms Freedom Act

In response to proposed federal laws outlawing firearms, legislators in Oklahoma have put forward House Bill 2021, the Firearms Freedom Act. It sailed through a House Public Safety Committee on a 13-0 vote and is one of at least two dozen gun-related bills that are moving through the Legislature.

Sponsors of the bill say the legislation is designed to make sure the federal government does not violate the Second Amendment rights of Oklahomans.

Another bill passed by the committee would allow private schools to institute their own rules on whether teachers and visitors can be armed.

The measures will now move to the House Calendar Committee where they will be scheduled for a vote in the full House.

Citizens Applaud Defeat of Firearms Ban in Massachusetts

Obama and the Democrats in Congress would have us believe most Americans are for “sensible” restrictions on the Second Amendment. A town meeting in Massachusetts on Wednesday night, however, turned this assumption on its head.

A majority of people attending a town hall meeting in Westford, Massachusetts, responded to the withdrawal of an assault weapons ban by city government with thunderous applause and a standing ovation.

Communist Propaganda Poster from 1918: “Comrades, Turn In Your Weapons!”

Gun control advocates claim historical gun grabs by tyrannical regimes are a “myth” but this 1918 Communist propaganda poster from the Russian civil war serves as yet another reminder that tyrannical regimes throughout history have always sought to disarm their populations through gun control.

The poster shows Russian citizens turning in their rifles, handguns and even swords as a communist soldier looms over them with the words, "Comrades, turn in your weapons" appearing in front of a hammer and sickle inside a red star. The text bears a chilling resemblance to Senator Dianne Feinstein's infamous "turn em all in" quote from 1995.

Like A Swarm Of Lethal Bugs, Behold The Most Foreboding Drone Video Yet

Science writer John Horgan's feature on the many ways drones will be used in coming years is interesting throughout, and beyond evil in the passage where he describes an effort to build micro-drones that are, as the U.S. Air Force describes them, "Unobtrusive, pervasive, and lethal." Air Force officials declined a request to observe flight tests at a "micro-aviary" they've built, he reported, but they did let him see a video dramatization "starring micro-UAVs that resemble winged, multi-legged bugs. The drones swarm through alleys, crawl across windowsills, and perch on power lines. One of them sneaks up on a scowling man holding a gun and shoots him in the head." When I watch that simulation I am horrified. I also think to myself, this technology is more likely to diminish American security than to enhance it.

Big Brother Televisions: Intel Latest Firm To Announce TV Box That Spies On You

Campaigners today warned of a 'seismic shift' in privacy invasion after it emerged that Intel was the latest company set to market a television set-top box equipped with a camera that stares back at viewers.

The company, which makes the microchips found inside most personal computers, has launched an entirely new division, Intel Media, to make and market the Orwellian streaming-television product.

Erik Huggers, vice-president of Intel Media, said the new service would offer users a TV 'that is much more personal, that learns about you, that actually cares about who you are.'

The camera, Intel claims, will enable them to personalise the interactive features of their product, so that different members of the same household can be served programming and advertising specific to them.

Intel is only the latest company to develop a television product that contains a camera and sensors designed to watch what viewers are up to.

In U.S. Patent Application 20120304206 the company suggests it could detect when people are 'cuddling' then show 'a commercial for a romantic getaway vacation, a commercial for a contraceptive, a commercial for flowers, etc.'

Microsoft also recently registered a patent for technology to allow its Kinect motion sensor to figure out how many people are in front of it then stop playback if it detected more people than the copyright terms allowed. Google TV proposed a similar patent that would use video and audio recording devices to do the same.

And Comcast in 2008 patented a monitoring technology that would recommend content to users based on people it recognised in the room.

The surge in products that look back at you will no doubt spark associations with George Orwell's dystopian classic Nineteen Eighty-Four, in which an oppressed population live in fear of surveillance through two-way 'telescreens'.

The book's hero, Winston Smith, is only able to keep a diary - a banned activity - because one corner of his old-fashioned flat is out of the view of the telescreen's camera.

CISPA, the Privacy-Invasive Cybersecurity Spying Bill, is Back in Congress

Last year, Representatives Rogers and Ruppertsberger introduced CISPA, which would create a gaping new exemption to existing privacy law. CISPA would grant companies more power to obtain "threat" information (such as from private communications of users) and to disclose that data to the government without a warrant -- including sending data to the National Security Agency.

This week, CISPA was reintroduced in the House of Representatives. Last year, tens of thousands of concerned individuals used the EFF action center to speak out against overbroad and ineffective cyber-security proposals.

Now we need your help again. Can you send a message to your Representatives asking them to oppose this bill?

Yes, You ARE a Criminal You Just Don't Know it Yet

Privacy World - The WORLD'S SHREWDEST PRIVACY NEWSLETTER-February

How many felonies have you committed today? If you're like most Americans, you probably violate federal or state law several times each day, without even knowing it.

That's because state and federal governments constantly expand the list of activities deemed criminal offenses.

Here are some other criminal offenses in Las Vegas (and many other cities, for that matter):

- * Sitting or lying down on public sidewalks in the downtown redevelopment district
- * Buying drinks for more than three people within 24 hours
- * Feeding the homeless in public. Incidentally, it's also illegal to feed pigeons.
- * Pawning your dentures.
- * Defacing a hamburger, by leaving its contents anywhere in public

That's the tip of the criminalization iceberg. Have you ever purchased sinus medication over the counter? Well, so did Diane Avera, a 45-year-old Mississippi grandmother.

Now she faces a year in prison after being convicted of intent to manufacture amphetamine. It's a long story, but basically, Mississippi law requires a prescription to purchase pseudoephedrine, the active ingredient in many sinus medications. To save time and aggravation, Avera drove to Alabama to purchase her medication, but got caught up in a sting operation.

It's no wonder the United States has by far the world's largest prison population per capita anywhere on earth. More people rot in local, county, state, or federal prisons in the United States than in all other developed countries combined.

According to the World Prison Population List. Ninth Edition (2012):

"More than 10.1 million people are held in penal institutions throughout the world, mostly as pretrial detainees/remand prisoners or as sentenced prisoners. Almost half of these are in the United States (2.29 million), Russia (0.81 million) or China (1.65 million sentenced prisoners)..."

The U.S. has the highest prison population rate of 743 per 100,000 of its national population followed by Rwanda (595 per 100,000)."

Paraphrasing President Obama, "Yes we can put you in prison!"

Even more disturbing the criminalization of America is now creeping into high schools, junior high schools... and most recently, even kindergarten classes.

Case in point: Last month, a five-year old boy (from Mississippi again!) wound up in the back of a police car because he didn't wear the right color shoes to class.

His teacher told him he had to wear black shoes.

Unfortunately, the little boy had no black shoes, and his mother apparently didn't have the money to buy any. So she improvised. She used a marker to cover up his red and white tennis shoes. Unfortunately, she missed a couple spots. When the boy showed up the next day, his teacher called the cops. Shortly thereafter, police escorted him home in a police car and delivered a stern warning to his mother.

Apparently, this is "business as usual" in Mississippi. Indeed, the U.S. Justice Department recently filed a lawsuit against officials in one Mississippi county for running what critics call a school-to-prison pipeline.

Massachusetts Education Policy Now Mandates Allowing Boys in Girls' Restrooms

The Massachusetts Commissioner of Education has released an outline of its new school policy regarding gender equality, mandating that boys be allowed to use girls restrooms and locker rooms — and vice versa — if they contend that they prefer to identify with the opposite gender.

As part of the outline, entitled Nondiscrimination on the Basis of Gender Identity, Chester explains that students need to be permitted to use whichever bathroom or locker room they wish. He states that as long as the child asserts that they would rather identify with the opposite gender, they should have the access that they desire.

He says that although some children may not like those of the opposite gender sharing such private and personal spaces, school officials must teach children how to overcome their feelings.

“Some students may feel uncomfortable with a transgender student using the same sex-segregated restroom, locker room or changing facility. This discomfort is not a reason to deny access to the transgender student,”

21 Signs That U.S. Public Schools Have Become Training Centers For Sexual Deviancy

Michael Snyder American Dream Feb 18, 2013

Why do men and women have a such a hard time relating to each other in a meaningful way in America today? Could our oversexed culture have anything to do with it? In the United States today, we are constantly being bombarded with sexual messages. Just think about it. Did you watch the Super Bowl a few weeks ago? Hopefully not as most of the commercials were about sex on some level, and the “halftime show” featuring Beyonce might as well have been a strip club act. It was utterly shameful. But in America today, all of this is considered to be “normal”. Many literally worship sex, and can never get enough of it. And of course the results of such a society are predictable.

There are 20 million new sexually-transmitted infections in the U.S. each year and Americans between the ages of 15 and 24 account for approximately 50 percent of those new sexually-transmitted infections, we have the highest teen pregnancy rate on the planet, and it is estimated that one out of every four girls in the U.S. is sexually abused before they become adults. At this point, one out of every four teen girls in the U.S. has at least one sexually transmitted disease

When you take morality (The Word of God) out of public life, the results are predictable

This culture of sex is pushed on our children from a very early age, and at this point it would be quite accurate to say that U.S. public schools have become training centers for sexual deviancy.

To see all 21 signs go to: <http://endoftheamericandream.com/archives/21-signs-that-u-s-public-schools-have-become-training-centers-for-sexual-deviancy>

1Pe 2:11 Dearly beloved, I beseech [you] as strangers and pilgrims, abstain from fleshly lusts, which war against the soul;

1Cr 6:15 Know ye not that your bodies are the members of Christ? shall I then take the members of Christ, and make [them] the members of an harlot? God forbid.

1Cr 6:16 What? know ye not that he which is joined to an harlot is one body? for two, saith he, shall be one flesh.

1Cr 6:17 But he that is joined unto the Lord is one spirit.

1Cr 6:18 Flee fornication. Every sin that a man doeth is without the body; but he that committeth fornication sinneth against his own body.

1Cr 6:19 What? know ye not that your body is the temple of the Holy Ghost [which is] in you, which ye have of God, and ye are not your own?

1Cr 6:20 For ye are bought with a price: therefore glorify God in your body, and in your spirit, which are God's.

5,200 Names Involving the Pentagon Paid for Child Pornography

February 4, 2012

A stunning report reveals that 5,200 workers at the Pentagon actually purchased child pornography online and visited child porn sites from their government offices!

An investigation dating back to 2006 over 6 years ago has failed to prosecute both contractors and military employees of the Pentagon:

These people are buying kiddy porn, child sex videos, pictures and content related to the sexual exploitation of children.

None of these individuals have been charged, jailed or prosecuted under the law and the Department of Justice is a failure in investigating the US government.

At the very least the FBI, CIA, DOJ have enough staff to police their own people and it is not due to lack of resources or money but there have been no investigations, no jail time, no one fired.

Satanic Programming On Glam Mag Covers!--Satanic Symbols Are Being Photoshopped Onto Magazine Covers At 97% Transparency!

February 22, 2013

Take 11 minutes to watch the embedded video so that you might understand this subject.

http://www.youtube.com/watch?feature=player_embedded&v=CCi4F1xq5Co#!

Feb-22-2013-The author states: Just two days ago, I was shown by Our Father in prayer the spirit (tormenting a wife in our church) who has an intestinal sickness and why this has occurred.

It is a devil that MASQUERADES as a harlot within the pornographic images that entice and have so many men and women addicted to this evil and satanic entity called immoral lust, perversion and ungodly sex.

On one side, I was shown that the wife that is attacked because the husband is addicted to pornography which is the doorway for this entity to come into his home. There is a bond between the soul of the man and this entity. This devil is the spirit behind pornographic images. Its name is Ashtaroth and Lilith. May it, as a collective, be rebuked in the Holy Name, Power and Authority of Our Lord Jesus Christ!

How can we fight in the battles to bring souls to Jesus Christ if our very family units are being attacked with the perverse darts of sexually immoral content? It is everywhere! In magazines at the register in your local supermarket. Don't believe me. Ok, then, go grab a copy of Cosmopolitan magazine and look for yourself. I have physically proven this and even showed it to the cashier at Wal-Mart. On the chest of Mila Jovovich on the cover it said 'SEX' and 'Obey'. It is very faint, so subtle that the normal sight cannot detect it but the subconscious rapidly absorbs it. When I asked the cashier to look at it slowly, she went like 'OMG! It says SEX and OBEY.' My wife was with me at the time. I told her it is in all fashion magazines. Many codes, satanic and demonic symbols even. Even 666s on the covers. They put these subliminals at 97% transparency in Photoshop.

It gets even worse. In Mexico, in 2012, DORITOS came out with a campaign for its new flavor of triangular pyramidal chips called INFERNO. I kid you not. They aired a commercial on YOUTUBE®, the Director's cut, so explicit and demonic that it is difficult to watch (watch at your own risk if you are not spiritually protected).

Image on the right is taken from the Doritos Inferno website. it translates: "THEY TOLD US THAT HELL WAS ETERNAL PUNISHMENT AND WE WERE FORBIDDEN TO SPEAK OF IT. BUT SOMETIMES, JUST SOMETIMES, THE DOORS THAT PROTECT ITS SECRETS ARE OPENED."

There is satanic music and specific words used in the various videos that were posted online while women entice you to, as it says in its tagline, 'DESCEND INTO THE FORBIDDEN'.

Then, on their official YOUTUBE channel, Doritos promotes the young visitors to go to their official even more explicit Doritos website. There the visitor is required to commit a sin while they log in to their Facebook account through a flash animation that runs the site. The visitor is taken to the various levels of hell while travelling in an elevator down inside the earth where LUST resides. There, there are satanic codes, musical codes, sexual orgies among women, what looks to be an underaged teenager in school uniform and wallpapers of the harlots from hell. You get the picture. This is how bad it has gotten.

Please do not allow any other women or men other entice your spouse with their soft tongue and melodic chants of temptation and fantasy. This is harlotry. This demonic entity also operates within this rhelm of this subject we are talking about.

My wife started having dreams recently of lionesses roaming around and trying to attack her. I in turn, started having dreams of the opposite, nice lionesses being cuddly and playful with me. We quickly understood that these dreams are a revelation that these seducing women are working to split us up though seduction. It did not take long, a couple of days really, to find out whom these women are and we then put an end to this by cutting off all forms of communication with them.

Act 2:16 But this is that which was spoken by the prophet Joel;

Act 2:17 And it shall come to pass in the last days, saith God, I will pour out of my Spirit upon all flesh: and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, and your young men shall see visions, and your old men shall dream dreams:

Act 2:18 And on my servants and on my handmaidens I will pour out in those days of my Spirit; and they shall prophesy:

Act 2:19 And I will shew wonders in heaven above, and signs in the earth beneath; blood, and fire, and vapour of smoke:

Act 2:20 The sun shall be turned into darkness, and the moon into blood, before that great and notable day of the Lord come:

Act 2:21 And it shall come to pass, [that] whosoever shall call on the name of the Lord shall be saved.

In Mexico, there is a famous wrestler from the 60s. His name is The Blue Demon. This is an icon in Mexican modern culture. His son still fights & the same demonic spirit is transferred. This wrestler always uses a BLUE MASK with the face of the Horned One, Satan. Such is his power to trans-generationally affect society, that not only his son Blue Demon Jr. still fights in the ring, but also the children flock to the stadiums and purchase the same mask and in turn put it on, collectivizing and participating in the satanic cult-worship of this Blue Demon hive-mind mentality. How many demonic connotations can you find in this graphic design here? Can you see the sixes, the five five-pointed stars which point to death. The snakes?

Masks are demonic aprons a person wears in order for the power of a demon to overcome them, to transfigure them, to possess them.

Never wear masks, for whatever reason! Except the medical, industrial and military kind of course. I mean masks that emulate an effigy or entity, like in carnivals. (or in movies about the ultra elite like “Eyes Wide Shut”) In fact, the word carnival is a compound word that means CARNE, (the flesh) and NAVAL, as in waterborne. Whatever it is, it is a sort of spring break orgy fest where people go crazy and drink in the streets. Look at the carnivals in Rio de Janeiro, Venice, New Orleans, Mazatlan, Veracruz and in Mexico. What transpires there? Do people transform into something other than themselves? What are the themes used? Ponder that for a moment. 50% of Internet traffic in the world is made up of pornographic content. 12% of all sites in the world are made up of pornography. 66% of men spend most of their free time online looking at pornographic content. More than 40% of women are involved in online cyber pornographic behavior. About 83% of pornography addicts are men and 17% are women. Here are more statistics that will astound you!

Be advised women and men of Our Lord Jesus Christ. These demons are being sent out in droves to steal your spouses from you. It is a sinister plot of Satan to desTROY your home. It is a TROJAN horse. Go! Check your husband’s or wife’s computer and see the sexual content he/she hides in there. Go into his/her history folder in his browser and see if he/she has searched for this explicit content.

If this is so, you must understand that that points to more than just an addiction, it is a series of hooks that have him/ her literally ‘hooked’ and bound in that spirit and the flesh to this sexual-cult worship. It is a Babylonian satanic worship of female and male demons, that’s what it is. Pure and simple.

There is more to this article at:

http://alexanderbackman.com/sexual_addiction_end_times.htm including some prayers for release from demons, I am not posting everything here as I am not sure agree with everything Alex states in this report but the above information needs to be shouted from the rooftops.

(Note from Mark) Turn away from all lust and all sins. Come out of the world and turn to Jesus with all your might before it is too late. Read some of the testimonies about hell, there are plenty on line, they will sober you up quickly!

What Can Women do for the Lord?

February 3rd, 2008--In this study we will primarily be looking at the subject of: WHAT CAN WOMEN DO FOR THE LORD? & Women Pastors?—The Biblical Qualifications for Pastors, Elders, Deacons and Spiritual Overseers.

We will also be taking an in depth look at most common arguments some use to authorize women having Biblical offices that only men are supposed to hold; that being Deborah of Judges, The daughters & handmaidens who prophesize in Acts 2:17 & 18 & the Daughters of Philip Acts 21:8 & 9. There are two errors among Christians in regard to the woman's ministry: (1) Some teach that women can do anything, which is not Scriptural. (2) Others teach that women can do almost nothing, which is also is not Scriptural. Godly women have a large role in the work of God. Though they have limitations and there are some restrictions upon their work, these are restrictions given by the Word of God; and in this study we will be endeavoring to present these with the rationale behind why these restrictions have been given by the Lord.

Contemplative Spirituality – the Source of the Catholic Church's Expansion

by Ray Yungen

While many Christians are still not even aware that a practical Christian mystical movement exists, momentum is picking up, and an obvious surge towards this contemplative spirituality has surfaced. Evidence regarding the magnitude of this mystical prayer movement is now within reach of the average person. In 1992, Newsweek magazine did a cover story called "Talking to God," which made a clear reference to it. The article disclosed:

[S]ilence, appropriate body posture and, above all, emptying the mind through repetition of prayer, have been the practices of mystics in all the great world religions. And they form the basis on which most modern spiritual directors guide those who want to draw closer to God.¹

It is amazing to me how Newsweek clearly observed this shift in the spiritual paradigm over fifteen years ago, while many Christians (including most prominent leaders) still live in abject ignorance of this change. Are the teachings of the practical Christian mystic actually being assimilated so well that even our pastors are not discerning this shift?

Isa 56:10 His watchmen [are] blind: they are all ignorant, they [are] all dumb dogs, they cannot bark; sleeping, lying down, loving to slumber.

Isa 56:11 Yea, [they are] greedy dogs [which] can never have enough, and they [are] shepherds [that] cannot understand: they all look to their own way, every one for his gain, from his quarter.

Isa 56:12 Come ye, [say they], I will fetch wine, and we will fill ourselves with strong drink; and to morrow shall be as this day, [and] much more abundant.

In September 2005, Newsweek carried a special report called “Spirituality in America.” The feature story, titled “In Search of the Spiritual,” is seventeen pages long, and for anyone who thought that a Christian mystical movement did not exist, this article is all the proof needed to show it not only exists but is alive, well, and growing like you wouldn’t believe.

The article begins by describing the origin of the contemporary contemplative prayer movement, which began largely with a Catholic monk named Thomas Keating:

To him [Keating], as a Trappist monk, meditation was second nature. He invited the great Zen master Roshi Sasaki to lead retreats at his abbey. And surely, he thought, there must be a precedent within the church for making such simple but powerful spiritual techniques available to laypeople.”²

The most obvious integration of this movement can be found in Roman Catholicism. Michael Leach, former president of the Catholic Book Publishers Association, made this incredibly candid assertion:

But many people also believe that the spiritual principles underlying the New Age movement will soon be incorporated—or rather reincorporated—into the mainstream of Catholic belief. In fact, it’s happening in the United States right now.³

Incorporating it is! And it is assimilating primarily through the contemplative prayer movement.

*I had always been confused as to the real nature of this advance in the Catholic church. Was this just the work of a few mavericks and renegades, or did the church hierarchy sanction this practice? My concerns were affirmed when I read in an interview that the mystical prayer movement not only had the approval of the highest echelons of Catholicism but also was, in fact, the source of its expansion.
