Subject: [!! SPAM] 5000ppm mild silver vs. flu

my 7 yr old got flu. now im gettn it. no insurance so cheapest dr office is 80-100$$ but i have 2 bottles of 5000ppm. i took 1 tsp, NASTY dose this stuff always taste like fish?? but in 2-3 hrs my fever went down, body aches gone, n alot less cough!!!! i think i will take 1 more tsp to knock it out totally!!! good deal, 2tsp byebye flu, over at least $80 for 1 time dr visit!!!!!! GREAT STUFF!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

My Response: Awesome. Yes the 5000ppm silver tastes very bad as it is literally 500-1000 times more concentrated than what you would typically get in a health food store. The best way to get rid of the taste is to take a little peppermint oil and hit your tongue with like half a drop before you take a dose of the silver. Make sure you hold the silver in your mouth at least two minutes before swallowing as it will get absorbed much better that way. Also see below for other tips.

Start up dosage for the Mild Silver Protein if a high amount of infection or yeast is suspected:

Mild Silver Protein (5000 - 1100 PPM): This product does not taste good but it is vitally necessary for your success. To help the taste one drop of Peppermint Oil can be applied to your tongue prior to dosing the silver. I recommend 'Now Organic Peppermint Oil' which you can easily find online. You need to hold each dosage of silver under the tongue/cheeks for at least one minute (preferably 2-3 minutes). This gets it into your blood stream. There is some information you need to know on the label but initially follow the dosage I recommend on this sheet. Also remember that this product will leave a film on your teeth that can easily be dealt with by brushing your teeth after you have swallowed a given dosage. Important: Start by taking 1-2 drops of the mild silver protein under the tongue twice per day. If you feel alright, double the dose the next day. Keep doubling the dosage until you are at 1/2 tsp twice a day. The reason you need to do this is if you have a problem with Yeast/Candida; which is a high likelihood in most cases. Remember you may feel worse before you get better. That is quite common and part of the healing process. Because the Mild Silver Protein is so effective against yeast infections; one can only start out at the following dosage "if" one has a systemic (full blown/rampant) Yeast/Candida infection: If you are unsure play it safe and start with the dosages below:

1st day- 1-2 (drops) twice a day

2nd day- 4 (drops) twice a day

3rd day- 8 (drops) twice a day

4th day- 16 (drops) twice a day

5th day- 1/4 tsp. twice a day

6th day- 1/2 tsp. twice a day

Maintain this dosage for 3-4 more days and then go to a maintenance dosage of 10-15 drops per day.

If at anytime (during the 6 days mentioned above) one starts having extreme flu-like symptoms, (which is due to the healing crisis of toxins given off by the dying bacteria (NOT by the silver): One must hold at the above dosage and not move onto the next level until the flu-like/detoxification symptoms are gone. The proof is: Give this silver to a healthy person and nothing (as far as symptoms) will occur.

I wanted to tell you that the silver and Cataplex G have done the job! All of my granddaughters 102 warts are gone! Really the silver had pretty much taken care of them before we received the Cataplex G, but 3 came back so we started her on the supplement and silver and they went away within three days! This is truly amazing. So far none have come back.

In the past she has had them burned, frozen, cut off (when there were just a few) and a $91.00 bottle of something to put on everyday that didn't work. And they just kept coming back more and more.

Thank you so much for the advice. She is 10 years old now and was always so embarrassed about them. That's just another thing silver can do. I love it. And she is a very happy girl now and wanted me to tell you thank you. For the first few days, but she didn't like the taste. So we just put it right on the warts until we got the G. We did both, then about a week or so later they were just gone! We were so excited! Thank you so much for all your help all these years. We really appreciate you.

Hey Brother Scott,

Yeah I was well away from Yasi, as I'm near Brisbane in the southeast of Queensland, thanks for asking :)

But the floods a few weeks ago were a different matter though, we coped it bad. I was living on an island for 4 days, totally surrounded by water, and without power for nearly two weeks.

But I'm a prepper, so for me it was just an inconvenience really. I actually enjoyed it, and used the experience to test myself and my gear. As for me and my house it's Philippians 3:3 all the way! But man oh man, what an eye opener for how many people totally rely on the government for their safety and well being!!

As an example: some blokes landed in a Blackhawk Helicopter and called an "Island" meeting (around 500 people). They told us that we'd be stranded for at least another couple of days (longer if it started raining again) and that power wouldn't be restored for a couple of weeks. Well, you should have seen it mate, the people went nuts! Some screaming, others crying, and a couple of women began vomiting!! No kidding, they were vomiting their guts out over the power being off for two weeks!

Praise the Lord the area still had town water supply the whole time: cause let me tell ya mate, if that water had failed, it would have been "Keep the powder dry and your KaBar sharp" time: if you know what I mean.

If the floods taught me one thing, it taught me that when the system crashes (not if - when), it's going to get VERY VERY bad in a very short amount of time, and human nature hasn't changed since Cain murdered Abel....

Always your brother in Christ Jesus our Lord

Paul

Hey Scott,

This is the Bible I have in my Bug Out Bag.

It's a waterproof KJV Bible, the pages are made from a polymer, not paper (even though it looks and feels like paper), so it's unaffected by water, pages can't be torn, and is virtually indestructible.

Text has been checked by me and verified as an Authorized King James Bible. (see attachment doc)

This is the store to buy from, he only sells KJV ... so I support that!

Subject: Re:

Love ya too brother,

We're gonna have a blast in New Jerusalem with our Lord and Saviour! I get so impatient some times mate, I look for the Lord Jesus Christ every day.

You can always use anything I email you mate :)

It's taken me over 3 years to prep, because good gear isn't cheap and cheap gear isn't good. That is why if you aren't prepping, you need to prep NOW, cause it's gonna take time and money mate. Most people will not be able to afford to purchase the good quality gear they need quickly due to the cost. If you buy cheap rubbish it won't last long with continuous use, and the last thing you need is to have a critical gear fail on you: I call it being "Pennywise and Pound Foolish."

And to all those nay sayers who say, "Oh I'm just going to trust God to supply all my needs." I say to them, "It is written, THOU SHALL NOT TEMPT THE LORD THY GOD!", and then tell them to blow the dust off their Bibles and READ IT!:

Hebrews 11:7 (King James Version)

By faith Noah, being warned of God of things not seen as yet, moved with fear, prepared an ark to the saving of his house; by the which he condemned the world, and became heir of the righteousness which is by faith.

Luke 17:26 (King James Version)

And as it was in the days of Noe, so shall it be also in the days of the Son of man.

Noah moved with FEAR brother! I know what happens when God walks away from a nation that's forsaken him ... I got a Bible and I can read. I've also got eyes and ears, and can see and hear God's warning of things not seen: yet. So brother, I be preparing plenty big heaps .

So here are just a few things I found extremely useful while stranded and without power.

1) My faith, and my King James Bible ... peace that passes all understanding!

2) Coleman Dual Fuel (Shellite/ Unleaded Petrol) Cooker.

<http://www.colemandualfuelstove.com/>

Simple to use, Shellite (White Spirits), unlike petrol, never goes sour, so it can be stored indefinitely, but if you run out of Shellite you can drain the petrol out of your car and use it as cooking fuel.

3) Platypus 3L Water Bags - These are excellent for water storage, easy to fill, easy to clean and dry for storage.

<http://www.wildearth.com.au/platypus-slidelock-hydration-bladder-made-p-1021.html>

4) Katadyn Water Filter - I recommend the "Katadyn Pocket Filter" due to the amount of water you can quickly filter, and the longevity of the cartridges (13000 gallons/50000 liters), but all there models are excellent ... just remember to grab extra cartridges if you buy a paper filter model.

<http://www.katadyn.com/usen/katadyn-products/products/katadynshopconnect/katadyn-water-filters/>

5) Freeze Dried Food. I always had a nice hot meal every night. Some of my dinners where - Roast Chicken and Vegetables, Roast Lamb in mint sauce with potato and vegetables, Lamb Fettuccine and Beef Teriyaki. One helpful thing is that you can eat the meal straight from the pack, so no washing up dishes ... this may not sound like much, but if the town water gets turned off, preservation of water is critical. Do you want to drink washing up water? No thanks!

6) Coleman Dual Fuel Lantern.

http://www.coleman.com/coleman/colemancom/detail.asp?product\_id=214C700&categoryid=1015&brand=

Same reasons as the Dual Fuel Stove. One important note is that I do not recommend the lanterns with 2 mantles, cause you get only a little increase in lighting; but they consumes a LOT more fuel. (I have both models and tested the logistics of both)

7) LED and Standard Torches - I recommend the Fenix LD20 with a White Diffuser Tip and Headband, or the 4Sevens Quark LED Torches, and Maglite Mini for standard torch.

Fenix LD20

http://www.4sevens.com/product\_info.php?cPath=22\_419&products\_id=362

White Diffuser Tip and Headband

Maglite Mini <http://www.maglite.com/product.asp?psc=2AACELL&pt=R>

Remember that LED torches will not survive an EMP Attack without be protected; whereas the Maglite will.

ALWAYS have a backup light source!

Gone are the days when you need a big torch for lighting. The new CREE LED torches (Fenix and 4Sevens) will out perform any large torch, and if you have to bugout they are less weight and room in your backpack.

8) AA Batteries - 99% of my gear runs on AA batteries, and I made it a point to only buy gear that uses AA's and a couple with D size so I'm not storing several different types of batteries.

NOTE: You can buy equipment that uses D size batteries and use AA-to-D Converters. That way you only store AA Batteries for devices.

<http://www.ohgizmo.com/2007/02/14/double-a-to-d-battery-converter/>

The only two types of batteries worth buying are Rechargeable and Lithium. Standard Heavy Duty Batteries do not store well and can leak, damaging your gear.

9) 120/160Gb iPod - Don't laugh: this is an important piece of kit (and you can buy them cheap at secondhand stores). Mine is loaded with the KJV Audio Bible (Alexander Scourby), hundreds of sermons, Bible studies, and of course every Contending for Truth since it started in 2006 :) It was a real blessing and made the isolation not only bearable but enjoyable. I also have a battery powered iPod Dock so that others can sit around and listen too.

iPod Classic <http://www.apple.com/ipodclassic/>
JBL Dock <http://www.jbl.com/EN-US/Products/Pages/ProductDetails.aspx?PID=JBLONSTMBLK2P>

10) Mil-Spec Folding Solar Panel - I never had flat batteries and my iPod was always charged. BE CAREFUL when buying a solar panel, it must reach Mil-Spec, because with this item, more than any other, you get what you pay for - they use higher quality cells and are wired in a way that even if multiple cells are destroyed it keeps working. I recommend the PowerFilm F15-1200 20W Folding Solar Panel, and the video below show the advantages of a Mil-Spec Panel:
<http://www.powerfilmsolar.com/swf/shooting-video.swf>

10b) Charging Devices - Make sure all your charging devices are able to run off a 12V Car Cigarette Adaptor, as this is the standard connection from Folding Solar Panels.

Powerex MH-C9000 Charger-Analyzer - By far the best charger on the market bar none, and connectable to your solar panel.
<http://www.mahaenergy.com/store/viewitem.asp?idproduct=423>

Belkin USB and iPod Charging Cable - You use this to connect your Solar Panel to charge your mobile phone, iPod, etc
http://www.belkin.com/IWCatProductPage.process?Product\_Id=489423

11) Portable Shortwave Radio Shortwave is more important than AM and FM, and here's why. When Cyclone Yasi was coming through, one of the major concerns was radio transmission towers failing. They were worried that all the towers in AM FM broadcasting range would be brought down, so they were telling people to tune to Shortwave (but who's got a shortwave these days?!?!). This made good sense though cause they can broadcast alerts from thousands of miles away, where the transmission towers are safe from damage.

The two I recommend are the Eton Crank Radios with shortwave NOT the government control "weather channels". Most emergency radios these days are now being changed over to AM/FM/NOAA Weather; instead of AM/FM/SW so be careful when choosing your radio. The other radio is the Sony ICF-2010 this radio covers the LW/AM/FM/VHF(Air)/SW bands!, you can only buy these secondhand (no longer in production), but they are arguably the best portable shortwave radio ever made, and they are often sold on eBay.

Eton FR250 <http://www.universal-radio.com/catalog/portable/0250.html>
Sony ICF-2010 <http://www.universal-radio.com/catalog/portable/0841.html>

The ultimate is a shortwave base station, remember that once the internet is locked down it will be one of the only ways to get international information. And shortwave very hard to shutdown and easy to broadcast, as this is one of the ways they are preaching the Gospel in the Sudan/China etc.

My recommendation is the JRC NRD-545, but there are many good brands - JRC, ICOM, Drake, Yaesu, and AOR to name just a few. DO YOUR HOMEWORK, as these are expensive, so read reviews and be informed before laying out the coin.

Lastly a Faradays Cage to protect your electronics from EMP - both nuclear and solar flares.

Full Metal Cabinet - Note: wires earthing the doors to the body of the cabinet, and items not affected by EMP stored on top.

Make sure it has HEAPS of shelves, that way to can have your gear sorted and be able to grab it quickly

Lastly, earthing strap connected to the body of the cabinet, and leading outside to an 8 foot copper earth spike driven into the ground (drive into earth under concrete because the ground is more moist for better earthing beneath concrete).

To God be the Glory, great things he has done!
Always you brother In Christ Jesus
Paul

Dollar Collapse Preparation: Bread from food storage made "off the grid" awarepatriot | March 09, 2010

I'm making bread from wheat berries I had in food storage for 3 years. I CHEATED on 2 parts though:

- 1) I used an electric wheat grinder because my manual was in storage
- 2) I let the bread rise in an oven for speed purposes. You can let it rise at room temp for

2 1/2 hours.

Here is the recipe:

8 cups of whole wheat flour
2 cups of milk made from powdered milk (room temp)
1 cup of room temp water
2 tablespoons of yeast (either bought or harvested from the air)
1 tablespoon of salt
1 tablespoon of honey (optional)
4 tablespoons of sugar (brown or white)
2 tablespoons of butter or oil

Mix, knead, let rise (1 hour in 110F or 2.5 hours at room temp), form into a loaf or loaves, bake in a solar oven.

Scott

Hey that grain mill is great isn't it? I got one a while back; just a good old hand cranked, no electricity needed. Did you know that you can use a grain mill to grind more than just grain? Many wild plants can be used to make flour also. You grind the dried leaves and stems as well as some roots for flour. You may get green flour, which makes green bread; but hey it's more healthy than the stuff they sell at walmart.

You know what Cattails are that grow in swamps; dig the roots any time of year, peel them and dry them and grind for flour (very starchy). Pretty much any green herb that is edible can be dried and ground into flour. I just check a medicinal herb book to see if some plants can have toxic effects if they are eaten in large quantities. Some plants are good for us to eat a little; but over done they can cause problems.

Rose bushes produce a little bulb just below the flower called a hip. The rose hips will stay on the bush all winter; and they are very high in vitamin C. Those can be dried and ground for a vitamin C rich flour that can be added to most any food. They taste pretty good too, but are better mixed with something else. I don't know if heat affects it at all during cooking. Maybe you know about that.

Also, I got some diatomaceous earth (I don't know about that spelling) from one of my Amish neighbors; he uses it to get worms out of his livestock. It's a white powdery stuff he said they mine down in Florida. It doesn't have any taste at all, and it's very dry. I mix it in my horses grain to remove worms from him. I also mix a little in my bread dough to remove parasites from myself. Marcus told me he puts some of it in grain that he is storing to keep bugs out of the grain in storage.

Maybe if you are going to be keeping grains and dried foods on hand some of that stuff would be good to use to keep bugs out of stuff. I guess it has tiny little sharp edges on the particles; that don't bother us or animals to eat but when bugs eat it, it tears their insides out. He said it was like $35 for a 50 lb bag of it; and I know, he gave me about 7 lbs, and it goes a loooong way. However I haven't used it in my storable food like I probably should.

Double bag the food and put some of that stuff in the outer bag in case a bug gets in some how.

FOOD GRADE DIATOMACEOUS EARTH (Amorphous Silica) - Food grade diatomaceous earth is great for internal and external parasite control. The mineral and silica content seems to increase feed utilization. Reported to kill 75% of flies and fleas that come in contact with it within 72 hrs. Mixed with grains at a ratio of 2% keeps out pests. Great for eliminating ants, aphids, bed bugs, flea beetles, fleas, earwigs, sowbugs, mites, lice, etc. We use DE diluted in water and painted on tree trunks to keep ants off our fruit trees. Food grade diatomaceous earth can be applied as a foliar spray or sprayed in buildings or just lightly sprinkled in pest infested areas or compost/manure piles. Great for internal worming purposes for humans and animals. Helps detox heavy metals. Diatomaceous earth is a drying agent, and thus reduces odor and moisture in barns and stalls. Fed to animals daily, food grade diatomaceous earth keeps fly larvae from developing in manure, noticeably reducing the fly population. Add diatomaceous earth to livestock waterers, it keeps the algae from growing in the hot summer months.

We have fed food grade diatomaceous earth free choice to all livestock (goats, llamas, chickens, peafowl, guineas), etc. dogs, cats, and people for over 10 years. We also keep DE in our home made grain herb mixes that are fed daily. All dogs, cats, humans, and employees take DE 365 days/year as well.

Good Evening Brother Scott,

I believe I have found a very educational and informative website on how to dehydrate food and store them properly for years of storage. If you concur, please send this out to your contact list.

I agree with you on that mostly all commercially sold storable food is expensive junk. I have bought from a few sites out of ignorance and haste, but we now dehydrate everyday and store like little ants.
