

Hypnosis, the Hypnotic Gaze, the Occult & the Satanic Charlatan Braco

By Fritz Springmeier--From the Egyptian Sleep Temples to ancient shamans, the occult world has been putting hypnosis (including self-hypnosis) to work for centuries, even millennia. During the 18th and 19th century, the Masonic lodges put hypnotism to use. In 1882 Jean-Martin Charcot, considered the world's greatest neurologist at the time, gave hypnotism respectability by publishing his own studies, which included recovering trauma memories blocked by amnesia, and memories presumed permanently lost by organic amnesia. At that time, a group of French medical doctors located at Nancy just a 100 kilometers southeast of the Mothers-of-Darkness castle, had a school of hypnosis that influenced doctors all over the world including Freud. These French doctors had caught on to the power of suggestion to the subconscious.

In the 1780's, Marquis de Puysegur was putting people into deep hypnotic trances and then commanding them to forget the hypnotic session. James Esdaile in his book Mesmerism in India & its Practical Application in Surgery and Medicine. (pub. Longman, Brown, Green, Longmans, 1846 pp. xxiii-xxiv) describes and lists hundreds of surgeries (some quite serious) which he did in India using hypnosis as his anesthesia. He found his patients could heal quickly and experienced no pain under hypnosis.

In modern medical history, every type of surgery has been successfully carried out without drugs and "without pain" by using hypnosis. In the VoL 2 book, it was brought out that perceptive researchers have figured out that the pain under hypnosis is placed by the mind into a dissociated piece of the mind, which is essentially what MPD is all about. Tests have shown that hypnosis to reduce pain does not work by the brain releasing endorphins (see Hilgard, 1975 & Spiegel and Leonard, 1986). The mind simply diverts the pain into a "mental floppy disk" that it doesn't look at. In the early 1880's, occult researcher Edmund Gurney found he could give post-hypnotic commands that would be successfully carried out in the future.

What amazed him was that subjects would fulfill commands exactly as commanded at a particular time on a particular day without even looking at the clock. Various European doctors, too numerous to mention, discovered in the 1880's that they could cure various diseases via hypnosis. The cure rate was not 100%, but significant enough to make hypnosis an option in some treatments.

This author has reported that programmed multiples are able to increase the temperature of one body part, or one side of their body. It was with great interest then when this author located the 1920 work of hypnotist J.A. Hadfield who published his work in Lancet, 2: pp. 68-69, under the title "The influence of suggestion on body temperature.

"Using hypnosis, Hadfield could get a subject to drop his temperature in one hand to 68.0 while the other hand stayed at 94°. Here is the paper trail to what they have been doing to programmed multiples for half a century. Today, the occult world uses sophisticated hypnotic techniques as one of their programming tools to create mind-controlled slaves. The slave's mind is structured into a robotic-computer controlled by a master. Parts (alters) of the slave will learn how to trance (self-hypnosis) on cue. The better conditioned a subject is to hypnosis, the easier they fall into trance....The deeper Illuminati alters will be highly skilled in self-hypnosis & the ability to change at will into various states of consciousness. This is part of their witchcraft training in order to practice witchcraft.

In hypnotism all hypnotic subjects must have faith and trust in their hypnotist. Hypnosis is subjective in nature. If the programmer is the creator of the alter being programmed, and the alter is additionally under a hypnotic drug that makes it willing to obey, it is easy to see how the victim lets go of all inhibitions, because the hypnotist knows what is best. The better and stronger the relationship between the victim and his master programmer, the better the hypnotic commands work. If the slave sees the master as a religious guru prophet (or a great doctor) it enhances his willingness to accept hypnotic commands. Bear in mind that the slave is typically conditioned to love their master without reservation. Yes, the benevolent dictator has historically received the devotion of the masses, (and many of the Illuminati programmers are actually simply egotistical sadists).

The Programmer is attempting to produce suggestions that the unconscious mind will accept. If the subconscious mind accepts the programmer's suggestions then the suggestion becomes reality to the victim, just as if the victim had experienced it as reality over a period of time. The programmer, if he is good, will be able to get the subjects imagination involved. He will also build rapport with his victim. The good handler/programmer is not simply working off of fear, but he wants to have the trust and cooperation of the victim. This is similar to how Hitler was both feared and trusted by the German masses. In fact, hypnosis was an element in Hitler's control of the masses.

On 1-11-11, hundreds hoping for miracles follow man's gaze

BY DAVID SMILEY

The Miami Herald

¶2Pe

These are wells without water, clouds that are carried with a tempest; to whom the mist of darkness is reserved for ever.

¶2Pe
2:18

¶ For when they speak great swelling [words] of vanity, they allure through the lusts of the flesh, [through much] wantonness, those that were clean escaped from them who live in error.

¶2Pe
2:19

While they promise them liberty, they themselves are the servants of corruption: for of whom a man is overcome, of the same is he brought in bondage.

C.W. GRIFFIN / MIAMI HERALD STAFF

Randi Garnick of Chicago came all the way to Miami Beach to see Braco and brought pictures of friends and family who are ill in hopes that he can help them.

Comment: The trance induced by a hypnotic gaze is the same as the trance induced in a Clinical Hypnosis Session..

He goes by only one name.

And for a limited time only, he'll be on South Beach to spread enlightenment for the price of a domestic beer plus tip.

Braco (pronounced Braht-zoh) repeatedly packed a Miami Beach Convention Center ballroom Monday as supporters of all ages and ethnicity paid $8 a pop -- or about a dollar a minute -- to gaze into his eyes and hopefully iron out a workplace drama, an internal dilemma or, perhaps, even cure a terminal illness.

``I felt a little dizzy," said Veronica Malazzo, 39, who saw Braco for the first time Monday and immediately got in line for a second go-around. ``It was a little strong, like a shock when he came upstairs."

Born in Croatia as Josip Grbavac, Braco is a spiritual healer, or a conduit of an ethereal energy, according to his followers.

A request to interview Braco was denied -- he reportedly doesn't speak in public or talk to the news media -- but supporters say the energy that flows through him can be channeled -- and is strong enough to eradicate brain tumors.

In search of that energy, hundreds, some from as far as California, repeatedly filed in and out of the ballroom, where Braco appeared before them in a pressed white shirt and faded gray jeans upon an elevated pedestal. Sessions lasted five to eight minutes as he slowly and silently shifted his gaze back and forth across the audience.

Some cried. Others stood quietly, clutching photos of family members to their chest in the hope of transferring Braco's energy. Some spent all day at the sessions.

Frank Weller, a filmmaker who brought Braco to Miami Beach, said Braco isn't a prophet or a religious figure. He said Braco doesn't take payments for appearing -- Weller said his Connecticut-based, nonprofit horse-rescue center reaped the admissions earnings, while Braco made only royalties from DVD, book and Braco jewelry sales.

Weller said Tuesday's date, Jan. 11, 2011 -- or 1-11-11 -- is significant because Braco's gaze passes on a strong sense of oneness, something he hadn't felt since Woodstock. Others described sensations that also evoked memories of the 1969 concert, such as seeing a glowing aura around the healer or watching his face morph into that of Jesus or their children.

Malazzo said she felt her bad left eye and a problematic ovary ``palpitating."

Braco believers know that critics are skeptical.

``Perhaps for some of you, your families may think you're crazy to even come and try this," Braco book author Angelika Whitecliff told the audience during one session.

Their response: Only someone open to his energy can benefit from it.

Malazzo said she would return Tuesday, and didn't expect doubters to understand why.

``The mind works like a parachute," she said. ``It only works when it's open." Prov. 14:12 and 16:25

Braco gazing sessions go on Tuesday at Hall C, Room 126, from noon until 8 p.m., starting on the hour. For those who can't make it, there's good news: supporters say his energy also translates through YouTube videos.

Comment: According to reports, Braco draws over 200,000 people to "healing events" around the world each year. It's not free... you have to pay for his services. I'd say that's the easiest money anyone ever earned. Benny Hinn, Todd Bentley, Creflo Dollar, and Kenneth Copeland could learn a thing or two from Braco. They have to build a whole doctrine to steal their money from people; Braco only has to stand on stage and stare.

Yes, people really believe this. People will believe in anything except the God of the Bible. They find Him offensive, but will allow this charlatan to scam them clean of their money and senses. This level of gullibility just floors me!

The poor lady in 4:12 secs of the video looks like she started "speaking in tongues" Well then I guess we won't need a word from God anymore as long as we got the gaze of Braaacooo...

This is an aberration and the power of lawlessness at it's fullest capacity. I see this and picture Christ saying; "when the Son of Man comes, will He find faith on earth?" This is truly, sad, cause you see on the faces of these ppl complete abandon of Truth to the extent of {2 Th 2:9-12}

We got so much work to do and so much to pray about. Let us all pray for one another, those whom we love, and for those who keep falling into these depths of satan...

This guy is practicing Second Degree Reiki. And Rick Warren is promoting it at Saddleback's Wellness program...:.

Reiki is a spiritual practice[1] developed in 1922 by Japanese Buddhist Mikao Usui. It uses a technique commonly called palm healing as a form of complementary and alternative medicine and is sometimes classified as oriental medicine by some professional bodies.[2] Through the use of this technique, practitioners claim to transfer healing energy in the form of ki through the palms.[3]

There are two main branches of Reiki, commonly referred to as Traditional Japanese Reiki and Western Reiki. Within both Traditional and Westernised forms of Reiki, there are three forms of degrees, commonly referred to as the First, Second, and Master/Teacher degree. According to Reiki practitioners and Masters, at First Degree, a Reiki practitioner is able to heal himself and others, at SECOND DEGREE is able to heal others DISTANTLY (commonly called distant healing) with the use of specialized symbols.

1. bearfam says: January 20, 2011 at 11:45 pm ... just when you think you have seen and heard EVERYTHING, suddenly a more absurd deception than ever trumps the last. I have only seen this one clip of this charlatan, and is it just me or is the audience is mostly women? Interesting is that there are many women standing there in complete adoration for this false 'christ'. Well, satan had a target in the garden of Eden: Eve. Women are still the ones who are more easily to deceive (by the way, I am a woman). I think that when women accept Christ and are born again, they are also the ones who know the tricks of satan sometimes better than men do but as I am a woman, I guess I can say it, "HOW GULLIBLE ARE WE???" 2 Timothy 3 comes to mind, 2Ti 3:1

¶ This know also, that in the last days perilous times shall come. 2Ti 3:2 For men shall be lovers of their own selves, covetous, boasters, proud, blasphemers, disobedient to parents, unthankful, unholy, 2Ti 3:3 Without natural affection, trucebreakers, false accusers, incontinent, fierce, despisers of those that are good, 2Ti 3:4 Traitors, heady, highminded, lovers of pleasures more than lovers of God; 2Ti 3:5 Having a form of godliness, but denying the power thereof: from such turn away. 2Ti 3:6 For of this sort are they which creep into houses, and lead captive silly women laden with sins, led away with divers lusts, 2Ti 3:7 Ever learning, and never able to come to the knowledge of the truth. 2Ti 3:8 Now as Jannes and Jambres withstood Moses, so do these also resist the truth: men of corrupt minds, reprobate concerning the faith. 2Ti 3:9 But they shall proceed no further: for their folly shall be manifest unto all [men], as theirs also was. . ." It is amazing to me they are so wrapped up in his "gaze" yet they are completely blind! Lord, please open their eyes and grant them repentance.

1. Kiwi Dave says: January 21, 2011 at 7:04 am What sticks out to me is the statement that "...He becomes a conduit of energy..." which as we know is good old fashioned channeling of evil spirits. How about the archtypical look and appearance of the Roman Catholic depiction of Jesus that he as adopted. This is the image that Braco is so blatantly trying to portray:

<http://bibleencyclopedia.com/gs400px/stdas0391.jpg>

He is most certainly another false Christ. This man is probably a very good hypnotist as well. Hence the gazing into his eyes routine. When you view the video you see that the expression on the faces of those worldly women is the same way the way look at Tom Jones. This is a direct quote from one of Braco's promotional videos, and this speaks volumes:

"Braco is one of the most extraordinary healers of our time. All Braco is asking from people in these sessions, is to focus on his eyes and concentrate on the space two fingers below your heart. This video helps to focus on Braco's gaze, his eyes, to connect and feel his love and the power of his healing presence. NOW – JUST Be and RECEIVE..."

That statement above is made at the beginning of this video:

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=dHxkGN721Yo>

This is the comment from the individual calling themselves "2012spirit" who posted this and the other videos of Braco on YouTube:

"I am sorry for those who cannot FEEL the Light and Love Radiating from Braco. It seems they need to use bad language to express their anger, because this light is confronting the powers which do not except it."

"This is not about religion, there is only One Light & Love. Religion is diversity, Light & Love is Unity."

Well, this is what my Bible says about the Light of the World:

"Then spake Jesus again unto them, saying, I am the light of the world: he that followeth me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life."

John 8:12 KJV

"I am come a light into the world, that whosoever believeth on me should not abide in darkness." John 12:46 KJV

The only true light in this world, is the Gospel of Our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ and as the Apostle Paul wrote:

“But if our gospel be hid, it is hid to them that are lost: In whom the god of this world hath blinded the minds of them which believe not, lest the light of the glorious gospel of Christ, who is the image of God, should shine unto them.” II Corinthians 4:3 & 4 KJV

I just couldn't bring myself to watch the video this a.m. But do you know what really bothers me about this? While I was still in the hypercharismatic church, after I realized things were really wrong but hadn't left yet, I was told in all seriousness by someone that was staring right into my eyes, "Did you know that the Holy Spirit can be passed through the eyes?" This was a gal that was deeply into all of this stuff. I honestly never wanted to look any of them in the eye again!

And to make it even worse I have read about some of the occult or new age gurus passing on their whatever it is by looking at people. So I am not sure that there isn't something to this. Certainly nothing I want to have a part of though!
