Covid jabs linked to surge in "demonic possessions," religious leaders say
 There are now so many "fully vaccinated" people showing strong signs of demonic possession that a new St. Michael Center for Spiritual Liberation and Exorcism is opening up in Manila, Philippines.
 According to reports, the new site will be dedicated to performing exorcisms on people who got jabbed for the Wuhan coronavirus (COVID-19). Father Jose Francisco Syquia says he receives about 10 reports every single day of demons infesting the bodies of the Covid jabbed.

The Roman Catholic Church is responsible for erecting the facility, which is reportedly the first of its kind in Asia. Priests will be trained in the art of expelling demons, and Syquia, the director of the archdiocese, will hold the position of chief exorcist.

After performing the exorcism ritual on some people, Syquia says the demons that were cast out later “texted” him. In one instance, he claims to have seen a woman levitate after becoming possessed, only to have the demon later send threatening messages to his office smart phone.

While Syquia was talking to the woman and her companion, the phone was in a completely different room, he says.

“The devil has power over anything electrical,” the archdiocese is quoted as saying, adding that the message he received from the alleged demon accused him of being a sinner and a liar.

“If this place is infested, for example, and they want their presence known, usually the lights would flicker. If I give a talk and use a certain gadget, the devil would easily shut it down because he is an expert in anything electrical.”

In the United States, demon possession is currently at a fever pitch, especially now that we have entered “Pride” month. Children everywhere are being dragged by their parents and guardians to parades and bars where transgender drag queens are flashing their body parts and reading them books about “gender identity.”

“Demon activity and even possession are clearly on the rise,” wrote someone in response to the news about the new exorcism facility. “Those who dabble in the occult and witchcraft are especially vulnerable.”

As the shock waves spread Friday from the Supreme Court's momentous decision striking down Roe v. Wade, one notable casualty of the ruling became evident: Chief Justice John Roberts.

After nearly seven months of deliberations, Roberts found precisely zero takers among his fellow justices for his incrementalist approach that would have avoided overruling Roe for now, but allowed Mississippi to impose a near ban on abortions after 15 weeks of pregnancy.

The court's conservatives dismissed Roberts' stance as unprincipled and impractical, while the liberal justices called it "wrong" without detailing their objections.

Roe being overturned does NOT end abortion! Praise God Roe v Wade is overturned! However, the fight is NOT over, states nationwide will make exceptions for abortion!

Personhood Alliance president reacts to Roe decision--The overruling of Roe does not mean that abortion across the US will end tomorrow. The legal and political battles for recognition of personhood and equal protection for all will now be fought at the state and local level. In many 'red' states, there are already laws in place that will give substantially more protection to the pre-born, which will no doubt face challenges from those who want to see legalized child killing continue. While in liberal states, and at the federal level, we can certainly expect efforts to make unrestricted abortion up to (and even after) birth a fundamental 'right.' These efforts will need to be met with strong opposition by defenders of life..."

As Demon Possessed Abortion Activists Rage & Riot Over Roe v Wade Being Overturned--Baby Killing Supporters In The MSM And Politics Continue To Lie By Calling Abortion 'Reproductive Health'

As churches and pregnancy centers in California are on high alert, and a Christian pregnancy center in Colorado was vandalized and burned, with rioting in Arizona, among other acts of violent raging on the part of pro-abortion supporters after the Supreme Court overturned Roe v Wade and sent the issue of abortion back to the states, the MSM, democrat politicians, and liberals online and offline continue to screech about "reproductive health."

For the logic-impaired:

NOT your body.
NOT your choice.
Abortion is MURDER.

Before getting to the points I want to make in this article, people need to see how crazed and unhinged people are getting because there is no longer "federal" permission to unlimited abortions across America. Now the states decide.

That is just a small sample of the insanity being seen across the nation.

Play to 2:13: <https://rumble.com/v19yyuy-roe-v.-wade-the-liberal-meltdown.html>

The people above and other abortion supporters are obsessed with using abortion as "birth control," rather than taking responsibility for their own actions and sexual decisions.

Leave it to the left-wing extremists who inhabit and run the Democratic Party: They have reacted to the U.S. Supreme Court's decision on Friday, June 24, overturning Roe v. Wade by forming an "alliance" to continue providing an "out" to women who become pregnant by ensuring they can murder their unborn child. The alliance was immediately announced by California Gov. Gavin Newsom, who no doubt thanks his lucky stars each and every day that his own mother chose to have him.

"The Supreme Court has stripped women of their liberty and let red states replace it with mandated birth. This is an attack on American freedom. CA, OR and WA are creating the West Coast offensive. ### Demolition of supply chains is pre-civil war SABOTAGE to shape the battlefield for domestic WARFARE against We the People

The United States of America is about to be plunged into a civil war. It will be ignited by the Roe vs. Wade nullification decision by the US Supreme Court, which also just rendered a landmark decision affirming the universal right to carry a personal firearm for self-defense (striking down the New York law that radically restricted the right to bear arms).

That pro-2A decision is already seeing heads explode across the anti-American, anti-liberty Left, with rabid left-wing commentator Keith Olbermann even calling for an open insurrection to demolish the US Supreme Court and seize total control over the country via the executive branch.

Once the Roe decision is rendered, the radical Left may erupt into full-blown domestic terrorism, launching unrestricted warfare against Christians, gun owners and conservatives.

The Biden regime knows this is coming, of course, since Barack Obama is the key mastermind behind the whole thing. Obama runs the Biden White House and tells Biden's handlers what to do. They shaped the 2020 riots using paid mercenaries, media propaganda and "color revolution" tactics routinely used by the CIA to overthrow governments of other nations. Now they plan to use the same tactics to overthrow the US Constitution and attempt to seize permanent dictatorial control over the United States of America.

Sabotage of food and energy infrastructure is pre-war "shaping the battlefield" activity.

The sabotage of food facilities across the United States is deliberate. We have published the full, current list of food facility sabotage here.

Similarly, the sabotage attacks, regulatory takedowns and cyber warfare assaults on energy infrastructure are also being carried out by the regime in order to deprive the people of fuel and transportation. As we have recently published, the entire supply of diesel engine oil in the United States is on track to be depleted in just 8 weeks \(roughly the end of August\).

Diesel engine oil OUTAGE ALERT – Unless Something Radically Changes The Entire National Supply of Diesel Engine Oil Will Be WIPED OUT in 4 - 8 weeks until 2023!!

If the trucks and the trains stop running, forget about getting a supply of anything. Without trucks or trains, there will be no food deliveries to grocery stores.

No inventory at Wal-Mart. No lumber at Home Depot.

If this diesel engine oil situation is not somehow resolved, Amazon.com will cease to function because all the package carriers — UPS, Fedex, USPS, etc. — will not be able to move loads via roads or rail.

Even worse, without diesel engine oil, all agriculture will grind to a halt and the crops will rot in the fields.

There will be no construction machinery able to operate, since they're all diesel engines.

And if your food facility is on fire and you dial 911, they won't be able to send fire trucks because fire trucks run on diesel engines (as do most ambulances).

Many ships and boats also use diesel engines as well.

So a collapse of diesel engine oil, if it runs its course, leads to a total collapse of the economy. America cannot survive even six months without diesel engine oil, much less a year.

More Confirmation:
Motor Oil Shortage

'We're Barely Making It': Furious Farmer Goes Viral Explaining Why Food Prices 'Are Going To Go Up': US farmer sentiment plummeted in May - as producers have become anxious about their farm's financial health.

60% of farmers predict farm input prices to be at least 30% higher this year compared to 2021.

To that end, Ohio farmer Holly Weilnau took to TikTok two weeks ago in a now-viral video to explain how farmers are suffering under inflated input costs, which is going to send the price of food much higher than it is right now.

"There are things that we have to buy," she said, adding "There's something we have to buy that two years ago cost us $24, last year was about $46, this year it is costing us $96."

"Please understand, food prices are going to go up," she continues. "You wanna act like it's the farmers' fault—it is not the farmers' fault. We are barely making it to grow the stuff so you guys are able to get it in August, September, October." "Guys, this is not going away. Stop sticking your head in the sand and thinking 'oh, it's going to be okay'."

In a Saturday video, Weilnau relayed a story about another farmer who was unable to lock in diesel pricing for this fall, and was told that it was because of uncertainty amid rapidly rising diesel costs.

"That alone, guys—to fill the tractors and the equipment needed to get the product out of the field—is going to be astronomically bad all the way around," she said, adding: "So understand, people are like, 'Oh, plan ahead'—we're trying. They're not letting us."

This is far from the first farmer to offer a dire warning. Three weeks ago John Boyd Jr., the President of the National Black Farmers Association, said "We are in a crisis right now as far as the food chain goes with the farmer in this country," adding "We're going to see a lot of empty shelves and a lot more high food prices."

In his forty-year career as a farmer, Boyd said he never imagined he would be "paying $5.63 for a gallon of diesel fuel, $900 a ton for fertilizer, and all-time high prices for soybean seeds." All of the prices he mentioned are at record highs, pressuring farmers' margins.

He stated the worst-case scenario is "a lot of shortages" of food that could materialize later this year.

Prepare accordingly.

Mass CATTLE deaths send shockwaves through food supply as speculation rises: Are they being poisoned on purpose?

Mike Adams--June 16, 2022 Following over 100 fires that appear to be acts of sabotage against food facilities across the United States, speculation is now running rampant about thousands of cattle that appear to have died suddenly in Kansas over the weekend. According to the corporate media which also claims all covid vaccines are "safe and effective," these sudden mass deaths are the result of heat. Yet cows are incredibly resilient and frequently endure the same temperatures that the Midwest is experiencing right now. Why are thousands of cattle apparently dying so suddenly?

AgDaily.com, like the rest of the conventional media, says the deaths were caused by a combination of heat, humidity and lack of wind. CNBC is also reporting that the The Kansas Department of Health and Environment agrees with this assessment.

Yet I am personally near hundreds of head of cattle in central Texas where temperatures are the same (and the days are even longer this time of year due to the more southern latitude). I see Longhorn cattle, Angus, Blanco and other breeds abound in Central Texas, yet I don't see thousands of cattle dropping dead anywhere.

Digging into this issue further, I called one of my friends who owns several hundred head of cattle. He was already aware of the Kansas "mass death" event and had been discussing it with other cattle owners. I asked him if he believed the media story that all these cattle suddenly died from heat exposure. His answer? "I doubt it very seriously that so many would drop dead all at the same time," he told me. "In a heat-related incident, they wouldn't all drop dead at the same time. You would see a few dead at a time, scattered across the herd, but not so many deaths all at once."

When I asked him if he thinks these are natural deaths or something more like sabotage, he said, "I'm thinking it's something nefarious."

Bovine epidemics can also cause large-scale simultaneous death, but no one is claiming these are bovine epidemic deaths. So that leaves only a couple of possibilities in the realm of sabotage: 1) Poisoning of the water, 2) Directed Energy Weapons (DEW).

This is on top of over 100 documented cases of arson sabotage of food facilities across the USA. Our research staff has put together the full details on each of these (date, location, facility name, description of the fire incident) and we will be publishing this new, updated list soon.

What many Americans are waking up to now is the reality that our own government is at war with We the People. They are deliberately destroying the energy infrastructure and obliterating the economy. They are crashing asset markets and utterly destroying the future viability of pensions. And now, it's clear they're taking down the food supply chain on purpose, thrusting the American people into food scarcity, food inflation and real famine.

It seems as if the illegitimate Biden regime — which was never actually elected into power — wants to create nationwide riots before the mid-term elections so they can justify a declaration of martial law or some other national emergency. They need something big to break so they can try to cancel the elections or force nationwide mail-in voting so they can steal the election results yet again (like they did in 2020).

With each passing day, they tear down something else that keeps the economy running: Pipelines, international trade, railroads, infant formula manufacturing, etc. Week after week, the food collapse intensifies while food prices skyrocket. The end result is abundantly obvious: Widespread food scarcity combined with sky-high prices that few will be able to afford.

STOCKS, BONDS, CRYPTO and REAL ESTATE: The whole house of cards is coming down

June 15, 2022 Mike Adams \(Natural News\) The Fed raised interest rates by 0.75% today (75 basis points), fulfilling their promise to attempt to reverse the runaway inflation that they caused in the first place by printing trillions of dollars and flooding the markets with cheap or nearly-free funds (zero percent interest rates, for example).

As of right now, America's real estate bubble is now in the process of a catastrophic collapse. The stock market is collapsing and the crypto universe is absolutely imploding. "The crypto apocalypse is here," writes Michael Snyder from End of the American Dream:

Over the last seven months, we have witnessed a cryptocurrency collapse that is so epic that it is truly difficult to put it into words... approximately two-thirds of the value of all cryptocurrencies has already been wiped out. Some are calling this a "crash", but the truth is that this is the sort of full-blown "collapse" that so many have been warning about for such a long time. A lot of crypto investors are now deeply in the red, and the outlook for the months ahead is very bleak.

Meanwhile, the average stock portfolio is down 31% this year alone, and the downside still remaining now looks like a deep, ominous chasm of financial devastation that's going to suck the vast majority of American into financial destitution.

You see, while everybody's assets are plummeting, the prices of the things they need to buy keep skyrocketing.

Everything people own is going to collapse in value, while nearly everything people buy is going to double or triple in price.

The real estate bubble will now collapse, however, which may offer some relief for those trying to rent or purchase new homes. But for the tens of millions of people already locked into bubble-priced mortgages and rent contracts, the pain of paying too much won't be easily reversed.

The truth is that most assets have been Ponzi schemes for many years or even decades. The stock market hasn't operated from fiscal reality since the 1980s, and the fiat currency dollar has been living in a delusional fairy tale land since Nixon took it off the gold standard in 1971.

The real estate asset price explosion was just an expression of low interest rates and cheap money, while the crypto universe was a grand social experiment that primarily served as a new generation's "dot com bubble" where they ultimately learn an expensive (but valuable) lesson in the seduction and false promise of seemingly becoming wealthy without work. Too many crypto pioneers thought they could recreate the laws of economics by simply claiming absurd things that aren't true, like "we don't need intrinsic value, our token is backed by an algorithm."

See, what we're all really beginning to experience in the world right now is a heavy dose of reality.

They're Pulling The Plug!

Wednesday, June 15, 2022 By Greg Hunter's USAWatchdog.com Precious metals expert and financial writer Bill Holter said in early April that he thought we did not have much time until the financial meltdown started. He gave it 60 days. Two months later, the meltdown started in earnest right on time. The world is at debt levels never seen before, and Holter contends rising interest rates are the key driver here and now. Holter explains, "Interest rates are the key to the whole collapse. Mortgage rates, as of right now, are about 6.15%. Mortgage rates started the year just over 3%. In the fourth quarter of last year, we had mortgage rates as low as 2.75%. What that tells you is if you qualified for a $1 million mortgage at the end of last year, you only qualify for a $500,000 mortgage now. If you are a property owner, that means the pool of potential buyers is far less than 6 months ago, simply because interest rates have basically doubled. Holter also says that means property values are dramatically cut.

Don't expect the Fed to come in and save the day like it did in the last financial meltdown back in 2008 and 2009. The Fed bailed out the economy when it started printing money like crazy and never stopped. Holter says, "The bottom line is the world's financial system and, thus, real economies have been on life support since 2008. What people should understand is when the Fed says they are going to raise interest rates and they are going to shrink their balance sheet, that says they are pulling the plug out of the wall. They are taking the system off life support. The bottom line is the system cannot live without life support. The Ponzi scheme cannot continue without new capital coming into the system. They are pulling the plug is what they are doing. . . . It's game over."

Holter also talks about gold and silver and why you should hold them in hand. Holter thinks a "Mad Max" scenario is a real possibility and says we have not seen the peak on inflation. There is a lot more in the 44-minute interview.
