+1+ PRAYER TO NEUTRALIZE OCCULT RITUALS

Father God in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ, the Lamb that was slain before the foundation of the earth, seated at the right hand of the Father; we come in the authority given to us in Christ Jesus. We place a hedge of warring angels with flaming swords of fire around us and our families continuously. We put on the whole armor of God. We resist and renounce Satan, the god of this earth. We rise to war by the power of the Holy Spirit against witchcraft, occult maneuvers and devices sent against Your Will and the Body of Christ. We ask you to dispatch legions of warring angels in full battle array to enforce our petitions and intercessory prayers. Rout your enemies on all fronts. Turn their hatred, anger, accusations, conflict, arrogance and wicked schemes upon themselves so that they become caught in their own snares and fall into the pits that they intended for others. We nullify, cancel and oppose every satanic operation, scheme, maneuver and strategy. Cause secret plans, agendas and motivation of the enemy to be revealed for everyone to see. We decree and declare that what these evil people & entities meant for evil, you will turn it around and use it for the good of your people. We close every evil portal that has been opened by them. In the name of the Lord Jesus Christ and His shed blood, we break and cancel every curse, spell, hex, vex, charm, enchantment, decree spoken or unspoken, sent against the Body of Christ, the innocent and your intercessors by every witch, warlock, satanist, sorcerer, voodoo priest, shaman, soothsayer, medium, coven and every minion of the devil working iniquity. May they fall into the very pits they have dug for others. Lord Jesus, reveal your love to them. Save those that can be saved. Show them the truth about who they are serving, and their eternal destination if they continue in their present path. Open their minds, eyes and ears to receive supernatural insight and knowledge to understand the truth of the Gospel. Bring them to salvation. We seal this prayer by the Blood of the Lamb and in the name of the LORD Jesus Christ. Amen.

Bible Verses On God's Creation and the Stars

Gen 1:1 In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth.

Skipping Ahead:

...Gen 1:16 And God made two great lights; the greater light to rule the day, and the lesser light to rule the night: he made the stars also.

Amos 5:8 Seek him that maketh the seven stars and Orion, and turneth the shadow of death into the morning, and maketh the day dark with night: that calleth for the waters of the sea, and poureth them out upon the face of the earth: The LORD is his name...

Amos 5:14 Seek good, and not evil, that ye may live: and so the LORD, the God of hosts, shall be with you, as ye have spoken.

Amos 5:15 Hate the evil, and love the good, and establish judgment in the gate: it may be that the LORD God of hosts will be gracious...

Be A Stable Christian & Not Double Minded—Plus Bible Verses

by Jared Dyson in Devotionals

1Th 5:8 But let us, who are of the day, be sober, putting on the breastplate of faith and love; and for an helmet, the hope of salvation.

1Th 5:9 For God hath not appointed us to wrath, but to obtain salvation by our Lord Jesus Christ, 1Th 5:10 Who died for us, that, whether we wake or sleep, we should live together with him.

1Th 5:11 Wherefore comfort yourselves together, and edify one another, even as also ye do.

Several years ago, I had the opportunity to meet someone whom I was told I would find interesting. This person has done a lot of things in life. Many considered him a genius, but others considered him unstable. Ask him about some of the world's most technical things, and he can probably teach a college course on it.

When I met him, I was immediately fascinated. He could explain some things that were well beyond my comprehension. But I noticed one thing about this person. I wouldn't necessarily call him stable. His mind often went in millions of different directions. He quickly changed his mind, opinion, and beliefs. He didn't value consistency; he craved constant change and chaos.

Pro 14:3 In the mouth of the foolish is a rod of pride...

Jas 1:8 A double minded man is unstable in all his ways.

Pro 24:21 My son, fear thou the LORD and the king: and meddle not with them that are given to change:

Pro 24:22 For their calamity shall rise suddenly; and who knoweth the ruin of them both?

Rom 1:21 Because that, when they knew God, they glorified him not as God, neither were thankful; but became vain in their imaginations, and their foolish heart was darkened.

Rom 1:22 Professing themselves to be wise, they became fools,

The truth is that our world is filled with unstable people. These people constantly change their ideas, minds, or beliefs. Instead of being met with someone that is consistent and certain, they are wavering. Just turn on the television and watch the news. You will see politicians and popular leaders (even church leaders) who change to fit what is popular.

Our world has enough instability without Christians being unstable, too. In this verse, we read the words "be sober." We often align this as not being under the influence of alcohol or drugs which is true but also our understanding should be that we are stable. We are steadfast, without influence, and vigilant.

In a constantly wavering world, Christians should be the one source of stability that can be relied on. Instead of wavering to the world's influences, we should be steadfast in our faith and vigilant for the cause of Christ. Are you a stable Christian? Are you wavering to the world's influences, or are you steadfast in your faith and for the cause? Our circle of influence needs us to be a stable Christians.

Scott Johnson's Response: Tracy: Yes, I have warned about this for many years; known as the 'North American Super State'. This will be one of the 10 regions/kings that the Bible talks about in the tribulation. See:

Dan 7:23 Thus he said, The fourth beast shall be the fourth kingdom upon earth, which shall be diverse from all kingdoms, and shall devour the whole earth, and shall tread it down, and break it in pieces.

Dan 7:24 And the ten horns out of this kingdom are ten kings that shall arise; and another shall rise after them; and he shall be diverse from the first, and he shall subdue three kings.

Dan 7:25 And he shall speak great words against the most High, and shall wear out the saints of the most High, and think to change times and laws: and they shall be given into his hand until a time and times and the dividing of time.

As far as I know this is the first time I talked about this:

Imminent North American Super-State-Part 1

By Dr. Scott Johnson | September 9, 2007 The North American Union had its original roots in NAFTA which is part of a global plan to reorganize the world into 10 Super Nation states, of which NAFTA is one. This plan fulfills Daniel 7:7-8, 23-25 and sets the stage for fulfillment of Rev 17:12-17! Remember that NAFTA was officially formed in 1993 as an economic union. The steps we are seeing here now are the steps to move an already-existent NAFTA into a political nation. Even though the Presidents of the United States and Mexico, and the Prime Minister of Canada denied several weeks ago that the purpose of their annual meeting is to create a North American Union/NAFTA SuperState, evidence continues to pile up that NAFTA is, indeed, coming together rapidly.

Satanic Idol on Display at Iowa State Capitol, GOP Lawmakers Defend

The Satanic Temple, a "non-theistic religious group" that promotes ritualistic abortions, installed the display last week, which features a ram's head gilded with mirrors on a mannequin cloaked in red with a pentagram that will remain until Friday, Dec. 15.

“We’re going to really relish the opportunity to be represented in a public forum. We don’t have a church on every street corner,” the group’s co-founder Lucien Greaves said.

Rep. Brad Sherman (R) said placing the Satanic statue in the Capitol building is unconstitutional, citing the preamble of the state’s constitution.

The Baphomet idol is “a tortured and twisted interpretation of law that affords Satan, who is universally understood to be the enemy of God, religious expression equal to God in an institution of government that depends upon God for continued blessings,” Sherman wrote.

“I am calling for our governor to have this blasphemous display removed immediately based on the grounds that it is unconstitutional and offends God upon whom the State of Iowa depends for blessings,” he concluded.

But Gov. Kim Reynolds (R) and State Rep. Jon Dunwell (R) faced backlash for defending the idol placed in the Capitol building, saying it was within the Satanic Temple’s free speech rights.

Christian Military Vet Says He Decapitated Satanic Statue In State Capitol

A military veteran says he decapitated the head of a statue Thursday put on display by The Satanic Temple (TST) at the Iowa State Capitol.

The statue was that of Baphomet, the body of a man and the head of a goat, which TST placed in the state capitol building earlier in December. Michael Cassidy, a former Navy pilot and Christian, said he beheaded the statue and threw the head in a trashcan before turning himself in to the police, according to The Sentinel. (RELATED: Satanic Temple To Host ‘Let Us Burn’ Events At State Capitols To Promote ‘Religious Liberty’)

“The world may tell Christians to submissively accept the legitimization of Satan, but none of the founders would have considered government sanction of Satanic altars inside Capitol buildings as protected by the First Amendment,” Cassidy told The Sentinel in a statement. “Anti-Christian values have steadily been mainstreamed more and more in recent decades, and Christians have largely acted like the proverbial frog in the boiling pot of water.”

The Iowa State Police confirmed to the Daily Caller News Foundation that Cassidy had been arrested after tearing down the statue.

The veteran also cited 1 John 3:8, which states that “The reason the Son of God appeared was to destroy the works of the devil”.

Cassidy, who ran for a seat in the House of Representatives in Mississippi in 2022, was allegedly charged with fourth-degree criminal mischief and TST’s Iowa chapter is reportedly planning on pressing charges. Cassidy is being represented by Davis Younts, an attorney and retired Air Force lieutenant colonel who formerly served in the JAG Corps.

“He believes that the blasphemous statue was an affront to God and that it should not be displayed in a government building,” Younts told the DCF. “The civil authorities failed to act and so he engaged in a peaceful protest.”

The HEXagram & the Mark of the Beast & the Hebrew Roots Connection-Part 2

Many believe the six-pointed star/HEXagram is a Jewish/Christian symbol but nothing could be further from the truth as it is one of the highest most wicked of all occult symbols. This is a very prevalent symbol in the Hebrew Roots / Messianic movement. The six-pointed star/HEXagram is a curse mark no matter what name it may have: Star of David, Solomon’s Seal, Double Triangle, Shield of David, etc. When an occult practitioner puts a curse on someone, he uses the HEXagram. ‘Brethren, my heart’s desire and prayer to God for Israel is, that they might be saved. For I bear them record, that they have a zeal for God, but not according to knowledge.’ (Rom 10:1-2) It is not my goal to condemn the Jewish people, but to condemn the six-pointed star, a cursed symbol.

The hexagram star was mentioned and condemned by the God of Israel in Amos 5:26 where it was called by Him: ‘the star of your god, Moloch’ or otherwise called ‘Chiun’. Reference was also made to the Israelites having it in the wilderness in Acts 7:43 by Stephen where it was called the Star of Remphan. All these names refer to the ‘god’ Saturn. Now, the name SATURN in Chaldee is pronounced Satur; but, as every Chaldee scholar knows, consists only of four letters, thus – Stur [ed. Star?]. This name contains exactly the Apocalyptic number.’ (Hislop, p. 269) S = 060 T = 400 U = 006 R = 200: = 666 Now Saturn is also the sixth Planet from the Sun, has six letters and Saturn is associated with Satan which has a very similar spelling.

SATANIC SYMBOLS ARE EVERYWHERE WITH DEVASTATING CONSEQUENCES—The Hexagram is just one of them—The Hexagram also relates heavily to X-mas / Saturnalia

Psalm 64 – Gods Judgment on Wickedness – A Christians ‘Door of Hope’

By Dr. Scott Johnson | August 12, 2007--This is a very important teaching regarding imprecatory prayers and why the judgment of God on wickedness, has always been a Bible believers “Door of Hope”. We will explore many scriptures to validate this but this is not a teaching that is usually ever heard or preached on in the modern-day churches of America. If we as Bible believing Christians can get a hold of this Biblical concept, the Lord will be able to work through us (individually and collectively) in a mighty way. Beyond salvation this is one of the most important issues that the modern day Bible believer needs to understand, and hopefully this will be a big encouragement to you as well.

We will also be exploring the various things that can hinder our prayers and what the prerequisites are for the Lord to hear our prayers. I will be giving my personal testimony regarding these issues as well, as the tenets of this teaching have totally changed my life for the better.

This teaching was originally inspired by Pastor John Weaver’s sermon: ‘A Door of Hope’ See link below.

Urine Therapy Exposed as Evil --Recently I have received many inquiries from well-meaning Christians regarding the potential benefits of "Urine Therapy" & this is my response--Scott Johnson “Urine Therapy” also relates to Tantric sex yoga, where drinking your own urine and eating your own feces are practiced & encouraged.

Rick Warren’s Latest Demonic Trap Exposed–The “New Health and Wellness Initiative” Promoting Tantric Sex Yoga, Meditation and Reiki–Part 1 By Dr. Scott Johnson |

False religion and urine therapy

The origin of this unusual practice (urine therapy) seems to be certain religious rites among Hindus, where it is called amaroli in tantric religious traditions.

This was incorporate into the Hindu Ayurvedic medicinal system. Tantric Yoga is otherwise known as a form of sexual Yoga. It is a main tenet of the Ordo Templar Orientis (OTO) a religious offshoot of child molestor and murderer, and high level occultist/Satanist Alester Crowley. He was known as the great beast. The OTO heavily involves Tantric yoga with their occult religious practices. Unfortunately it is not even appropriate to state their beliefs in regard to Tantric Yoga, as they are so debased. Since urine is emitted from the same bodily organ used in sex (at least in a male), perhaps it was thought that by drinking one's urine one was swallowing some sort of sexual energizer. In any case, it is unlikely that Indians some 4,000 years ago had scientific reasons for drinking their own urine.

It is also possible that this practice (urine therapy) is related to superstitions based on sympathetic magic. Sympathetic magic is the basis for most forms of divination.

Sympathetic magic is probably the basis for such notions as karma, synchronicity, eating the heart of a brave but defeated warrior foe, throwing spears at painted animals on cave walls, wearing the reindeer's antlers before the hunt, having rape rituals to increase the fertility of the crops. Sympathetic magic is surely the basis for homeopathy (see below) and remote healing.

In Siberia, some found drinking urine was a way to continue the hallucinogenic and spiritual effects of special mushrooms:

A notion which seems to be accepted by urine therapy proponents is that urine is really blood, since it is the by product of blood filtering by the kidneys. This statement is actually true, but obviously we cannot call urine blood; but it is a 100% byproduct of blood. If taken at face value then we must look to the Word of God to see how God feels about drinking blood (of which urine is a 100% by product). After the vegetation was utterly destroyed by the flood and Noah came out of the ark, God gave permission to mankind to eat flesh foods. "And God blessed Noah and his sons, and said unto them, Be fruitful, and multiply, and replenish the earth. . . . Every moving thing that liveth shall be meat for you; even as the green herb have I given you all things." Genesis 9:1-3. There was, however, a restriction placed upon the human race: "But flesh with the life thereof, which is the blood thereof, shall ye not eat." Genesis 9:4.

This restriction was reaffirmed after the children of Israel left Egypt. Through the prophet Moses, God said: "It shall be a perpetual statute for your generations throughout all your dwellings, that ye eat neither fat nor blood." Leviticus 3:17.

Orthodox Jews have followed these Levitical restrictions generation after generation since Leviticus 3:17 is a perpetual statute that applies to all mankind not only the Jews. It is a reproach to God to consume blood or any by product of blood. (See farther below for more information)

Amazingly many use the Bible to justify the practice of urine therapy from the Bible verse below.

"Drink water from your own cistern, flowing water from your own well." (Proverbs 5:15)*

Well this is a classic case of pulling one portion of Scripture out of the Bible and perverting it. In order to interpret this verse we must look at the whole context of the chapter. This proverb is clearly a warning to for men to stay away from promiscuous woman.

Pro 5:1 My son, attend unto my wisdom, and bow thine ear to my understanding: Pro 5:3 For the lips of a strange woman drop [as] an honeycomb, and her mouth [is] smoother than oil: Pro 5:4 But her end is bitter as wormwood, sharp as a twoedged sword. Pro 5:5 Her feet go down to death; her steps take hold on hell. Pro 5:8 Remove thy way far from her, and come not nigh the door of her house: Pro 5:15 Drink waters out of thine own cistern, and running waters out of thine own well. Pro 5:16 Let thy fountains be dispersed abroad, [and] rivers of waters in the streets. Pro 5:17 Let them be only thine own, and not strangers' with thee. Pro 5:18 Let thy fountain be blessed: and rejoice with the wife of thy youth...Pro 5:20 And why wilt thou, my son, be ravished with a strange woman, and embrace the bosom of a stranger?

In other words this is an admonition to stay faithful to your own wife and not to be joined with a harlot. This has nothing to do with drinking your own urine.

Listener Comment & Warning on Urine Therapy

Thanks for the article on urine therapy. As for the Tantric aspects, I can vouch for the deep evil of that form of Hinduism. When I was a student in India I interviewed some Aghori Tantrics, and no religion, not even voodoo, sinks to such low levels of demonic depravity as Aghori Tantra, which included fornication with prostitutes, drinking of great amounts of whiskey, and the consumption of human excrement and human flesh.

Although, Gandhi was mild in comparison that naked savage, as Churchill aptly called him, drank his own or cows urine every day. He was a skinny weakling who was as physically decrepit as he was spiritually.

Your servant in Christ, John Hinton

Subject: Homeopathy has roots in occult vitalism and other New Age occult beliefs

Dr J: When my child was a toddler she had horrible teething problems. We looked everywhere for something that wasn't harmful and would help sooth her. We found some homeopathic teething tablets that seemed to work. At the time we did not know what homeopathy was, what ingredients were really in it, or what the strength/dilutions meant, and back then the research was not so readily available. In homeopathy there is a specific process that must be followed called dilution and succussion. This process is also called dynamization or potentization by homeopaths. The more diluted a substance is the more potent they believe it becomes. This process of diluting a substance then shaking and banging the container firmly on a surface must be followed precisely in order to release a therapeutic 'immaterial and vital' force into this substance (the substance be shaken a minimum of 100 shakes each time it is diluted). This vital force is supposed to be held in the substance via a concept known as water memory. Substances that are used in homeopathy are chosen because they cause the same symptoms as the disease they are supposed to treat (like cures like). The active ingredient is often a poison (like they use belladonna, strychnine, lead, mercury, arsenic, or botulism) but they are given names that the average person would never know (rhus tox = poison ivy, another ingredient in homeopathy). But don't worry too much, the dilution and succussion process make the poison undetected in most but not all homeopathic products. They also say that due to the process of potentization (dilution and succussion) they say the substance is changed to no longer be harmful. They don't explain exactly how this happens, it seems the devil is in the details.

How then does homeopathic medicines actually cure anything? Many who are against homeopathy in favor of conventional medicine will say it is just placebo effect but in my opinion that does not explain it all away so easily. It's the process that is supposed to impart a FORCE to the substance that is supposed to heal (think energy medicine, chi, prana). So what is this force that is imparted? If it does what they say it does then this is witchcraft and Christians should have no part of it but instead warn others of the danger.

There's more to the story about the teething tablets we gave our daughter... After we started giving our daughter the teething tablets she slept better and seemed to feel better however in the following weeks and months something really odd and scary started happening. Our daughter had started to see imaginary visitors that were so vivid to her and with the details she gave we knew it simply wasn't her imagination, there was no way it could have been, she was too young to understand what she explained happened. We did not know what was causing it to happen until after we stopped using the teething tablets. Then we realized that the homeopathic teething pills were responsible because it all stopped happening. Since that day the company had an FDA recall for varying amounts of belladonna in the product that we gave to our daughter (meaning they had not been diluted enough to make the poison not toxic). Coincidence? I don't think so. --- And have no fellowship with the unfruitful works of darkness, but rather reprove them. Ephesians 5:11 ---

A man recently wrote the following:

"We were introduced to homeopathy recently by some folks in our church. We go to an independent fundamental Baptist church and some of the ladies in the church introduced my wife to this approach to medicine. It sounded too good to be true. My wife and I went to a meeting recently when the person presented homeopathy. She didn't go into the occult side of things but did mention a couple times about an ‘energy.’ We were then approached by a brother in our church who said they heard that the idea of homeopathy was spreading quickly through the church ladies and warned me against this approach to medicine. He gave me an article to read from Logos which blasted homeopathy as occultic. Other articles, written by evangelicals, said it was a good approach to medicine and wasn’t occultic. So we are a little confused.”

Homeopathy is definitely associated with occultic principles. (We would note that the terms “homeopathy” and “naturopathy” are sometimes used interchangeably, but we are using them according to their official meanings.)

The man who wrote to us said, “She didn’t go into the occult side of things but did mention a couple of times about an “energy.” That is the occult side of things! Traditional medicine does not have a mystical energy!

Another give-away is that homeopathy claims not only to be able to provide physical healing but also to “transform and improve a person’s emotional and mental state” (Dana Ullman, Homeopathy A-Z, p. 5).

As we will see, homeopathy is the treatment of illnesses with occultic water. Homeopaths usually criticize the practice of traditional medicine and the use of pharmaceutical drugs. Dana Ullman, for example, accuses doctors of medical child abuse for prescribing drugs to children (Elaine Lewis, “An Interview with Dana Ullman: Treating Children with Homeopathic Medicines,” April 2005, <http://www.hpthy.com/interviews/danaullman2.asp>). While it is true that modern medicine is not infallible and can be wrongly used and abused, it is also true that it has provided mankind with wonderful remedies that did not exist even a few decades ago. The invention of vaccines and antibiotics alone has resulted in a tremendous increase in the quality of life in modern society. Through the practice of modern medicine, people routinely survive diseases and wounds that would have killed them 50 years ago. The negative attitude toward modern medicine that runs rampant throughout the holistic health care field is foolish.

Homeopathy was developed in the 18th century by Samuel Hahnemann (1755-1843). His book Organon of the Art of Healing remains the foundational text in the field. At the 1960 Montreux International Congress on Homeopathy, the 160th anniversary of the Organon was celebrated. The congress said, “The Organon is for the homeopath what the Bible is for the Christian.”

David L. Brown observes that Hahnemann was “drawn like a magnet to occult ideas” (“New Age Medicine: Homeopathy,” Logos Resource Pages). He rejected the Christ of the Bible, identified with Eastern religions, and took Confucius as his model. One biographer says, “The reverence for Eastern thought was not just Hahnemann’s personal hobby, but rather the fundamental philosophy behind the preparation of homeopathic remedies” (Samuel Pfeifer, Healing at Any Price, 1988, p. 68). He was a follower of Emanuel Swedenborg, who taught his followers to enter an alternative state of consciousness in order to commune with spirits. Hahnemann called the occultic practices of Franz Mesmer “a marvelous, priceless gift of God” by which “the vital energy of the healthy mesmerizer endowed with this power [can be brought] into another person dynamically” (Organon of Medicine, 6th edition, pp. 309, 311). Hahnemann held to the pantheist view that God is in all things.

At the heart of homeopathy is the Hindu concept that there is a vital force or life energy that permeates all things (Keith Souter, Homeopathy: Heart and Soul, p. 19). Homeopathic remedies are thought to “act upon the Vital Force to restore balance within the body.”

David Brown says: “If you know New Age and occult philosophy you will recognize that what is in focus here is pantheism, that is, the belief that divinity or life force is inseparable from and immanent in everything. Leading homeopath Herbert Robert put it this way, relating homeopathy’s vital force to a pantheistic deity in his Art of Cure by Homeopathy. He said the ‘vital force’ of homeopathy was part of ‘the moving Energy, the activating Power of the universe,’ as being ‘passed on in all forms and degrees of living creatures,’ and as permeating the universe. Daisy and Michael Radner see the connection between homeopathy and occult energy fields. ‘Like Chinese medicine, homeopathy posits an energy field or vital force. Disease is a disorder of the body’s energy field, and the way to cure it is to manipulate that field. The energy field of the medicine stimulates that body’s own fluid to induce healing.’”

In reality, homeopathic remedies are so highly diluted that they are nothing more than water. The dilutions are done according to the “Centesimal scale” of 1:100. 1C (or CH1) refers to one part of an original tincture of some substance mixed in 100 parts of water. One part of that super diluted mixture becomes the next “tincture.” At 3C “the mother tincture will be diluted to one in a million” and at 6C “the dilution will be one in a billion” (Homeopathy: Heart and Soul, p. 23). Homeopathic doctor Keith Souter admits that a 12C solution is “unlikely to have even a single molecule of the original compound left.” Yet he recommends 30C or 200C potencies (p. 26)!

Dr. H.J. Bopp of Switzerland, who has studied homeopathy carefully, says: “Any patient receiving a homeopathic treatment at CH30 should be under no illusions as to its composition. There is no longer any of the named material substance in his pill or liquid whatsoever.”

Homeopathic practice claims that the diluted solution is effective because it has undergone a process known as dynamization or potentialization, which makes it possible to contact and retain a hidden power in the liquid. Keith Souter calls potentialization “one of the bedrocks of homeopathy” (p. 19). Hahnemann “believed that spiritual reality was more important than material reality” and “came to regard the ‘spiritual essence’ of a drug as more important than its physical substance” (The Hidden Agenda, p. 99). Hahnemann “insisted that not only the diluted medicine but the actual process of diluting a medicine--the shaking and mixing--imparted healing power to the substance. ... The vial containing the medicine had to be struck against a leather pad a number of times, so that the drug could be 'dynamized' and act' spiritually upon the vital forces' of the body" (pp. 100, 102).

Homeopathic practitioner Andrew Weil says:

"Homeopaths use remedies containing no drug materials, yet they believe in the existence and therapeutic power of some other aspect of the drug--of its idea, if you will, or its ghost or spirit. Truly HOMEOPATHY IS SPIRITUAL MEDICINE consistent with its founder's views on the relative importance of spiritual verses material reality" (Health and Healing, 1988, p. 37).

The book The Science and the Art of Homeopathy by J.T. Kent says: "In the universe, everything has its own atmosphere. Each human being also possesses his atmosphere or his aura ... it occupies a very important place in homeopathic studies" (p. 108). Kent says the homoeopath must learn to see "with the eyes of the spirit" (p. 120).

The Swiss Journal of Homeopathy says that the homeopathic cure has an occultic mind of its own. It "knows just where to locate the originating cause of the disorder and the method of getting to it" and "neither the patient nor the doctor has as much wisdom or knowledge" (No. 2, 1961, p. 56). This is exactly what is said for Reiki "energy."

Many homeopaths use radionic pendulums (to detect and analyze human "energy fields" and to occultic "douse" for answers to questions) and astrology in their diagnosis. They also communicate with spiritualists in their search for cures. Dr. Bopp interviewed a woman who prior to her conversion to Christ had worked in a homeopathic laboratory of high standing in France. She said that when she was interviewed for the job she was asked for her astrological sign and queried as to whether she was a medium. When she passed the interview and was hired, she learned the secret of the inner working of the laboratory, that they researched new treatments by questioning spirits during séances! This woman renounced homeopathy after she was converted.

What about homeopathic healings? They could either be demonic or psychosomatic. Dr. G. Kuschinsky, who wrote a basic course in pharmacology in German, said, "Homeopathic substances may be admitted in the realm of suggestion, seeing that they possess neither main nor secondary effect."

Dr. Bopp concludes with this warning:

"It would be naive to expect a clear response, a telling disclosure from doctors or chemists who give homeopathic treatment. There are to be sure some honourable and conscientious ones seeking to utilize a homeopathy detached from its obscure practices. Yet THE OCCULT INFLUENCE, BY NATURE HIDDEN, DISGUISED, OFTEN DISSIMULATED BEHIND A PARASCIENTIFIC THEORY, DOES

NOT DISAPPEAR AND DOES NOT HAPPEN TO BE RENDERED HARMLESS BY THE MERE FACT OF A SUPERFICIAL APPROACH CONTENTING ITSELF SIMPLY WITH DENYING ITS EXISTENCE.

“HOMEOPATHY IS DANGEROUS! It is quite contrary to the teaching of the Word of God. It willingly favours healing through substances made dynamic, that is to say, charged with occult forces. Homeopathic treatment is the fruit of a philosophy and religion that are at the same time Hinduistic, pantheistic and esoteric.

“The occult influence in homeopathy is transmitted to the individual, bringing him consciously or unconsciously under demonic influence. ... It is significant frequently to find nervous depression in families using homeopathic treatments” (Homeopathy Examined, translated from French by Marvyn Kilgore, 1984).

New Age Medicine: Homeopathy--Pastor David L. Brown, Ph.D.

Compiled & Edited David L. Brown, Th.M. -- New Age/Occult Researcher Introduction

Would you go to see a witch-doctor to cure a physical ailment? There might be some reading this research report that would, but few Christians would seek help from someone that they knew practiced occult medicine, using demonic powers for healing. The problem is, there is a whole new breed of healers using occult means and occult powers for healing. They neither dress like nor look like the witch-doctors you see in the pages of National Geographic. They look like you and me. I'll never forget the time when a Christian woman came into my office and began pouring out her heart. She was going through "deep water" as it were. I asked her some questions and to my surprise I discovered she had been seeing a psychic. She came to me because her problems had dramatically worsened since then... nightmares, evil thoughts, depression, self-destructive thoughts. I told her that she was involved with the occult and God forbids all occult practices. I read and explained Deuteronomy 18:9-14. She protested. She said that the psychic had read the Bible to her, prayed with her and assured her that her gift was from God. This is not true. Acts 16:15-18 makes it clear that psychic powers are the result of demon possession. Further, Acts 13:10 gives us the Biblical evaluation of those who practice the occult --

And said, O full of all subtlety and all mischief, thou child of the devil, thou enemy of all righteousness, wilt thou not cease to pervert the right ways of the Lord?

I then urged the woman to confess her involvement with the psychic as sin, repent and renounce all advice and association with the psychic reader.

My point is simply this, many New Age/Occult healing practices are disguised. Sometimes those involved quote the Bible and pray with their patients. But underneath the facade you will find the occult operating. That's what is happening with homeopathy. It is my sincere prayer that you will read this research report and see how the "Angel of Light" has cleverly disguised his lies. Because of this disguise, many Christians are buying into homeopathy. May you know the truth and may the truth make you free.

Homeopathy was developed by a German mystic physician named Christian Friedrich Samuel Hahnemann who lived between 1755-1843. Although there are three different streams of homeopathy since its development, homeopathy has changed very little.

1. The Traditional Homeopath -- This stream of homeopathic practitioners follows the occult theories of the father of homeopathic medicine, Samuel Hahnemann.
2. The Parapsychologically oriented Homeopaths -- Those who follow this homeopathic path try to update the traditional methods of the 1800's and bring them into the 20th Century. One of their "scientific Methods" is the practice of almost infinitely diluting its "medications."
3. The Demythologized Homeopath -- Those who follow this stream mistakenly think homeopathic medicines may work through unknown scientific principles, but questions the possibility that these medicines can really be effective in dilution so high that not even one molecule of the original medicine remains.

But, regardless of which stream one follows, the practices are still the same. In fact, "To his supporters, Hahnemann is the single genius in the history of recorded medicine."¹

This system bases treatment on Similia similibus curantur which basically boils down to what you might call, "like cures like." That is that the same substance causing symptoms in a healthy person will cure those symptoms in a sick person. One of the big problems is that homeopathy claims to correct an imbalance or problem in the body's "vital force" or life energy. These imbalances, they claim, will sooner or later cause disease. We will take a closer look at the issue of "vital force" later in this report.

But there are also other equally disturbing problems with homeopathy. Many of the basic elements that C. F. Samuel Hahnemann brought into homeopathy are from the mystical & occult realm. Let's consider some of them.

Elements of Homeopathy from the Mystical and Occult Realm

- Freemasonry

To begin with, "We know that he was a member of a Lodge of Free Masons."² In my research library I have many old Masonic publications. They are filled with mysticism and the occult. In his studies for advancement in the Masonic order, Hahnemann would have been exposed to many of these ideas. It becomes obvious that Freemasonry influenced him, for on the title page of his "Bible of Homeopathy" are two interesting words -- Aude-Sapere. Where did that come from? What does it mean? The motto of Freemasonry is Aude Sapere which means, Dare To Be Wise. Hahnemann "borrowed" the Masonic motto and placed it on the title page of his "Organon".

- Swedenborgianism

I am the Mid-West bureau chief for the INDEPENDENT TV/NEWS SERVICE of Ft. Lauderdale, Florida and hold press credentials from a Wisconsin news organization. August 23, 1993 I covered the Parliament Of The World's Religions, held at the Palmer-House Hilton in Chicago. It was a smorgasbord of Apostate "Christian," New Age, Occult religions. Invocationary "prayers" were offered by many, including a Catholic, a Unitarian, a Witch who "prayed" to Isis and a Swedenborgian. The Swedenborgians were high profile at the PWR. They had a double-wide exhibit in the display area. A brief look at the material I collected from their display shows that they blend mysticism, the occult and Christianity together.

Perhaps you are wondering what this has to do with Hahnemann. Let me tie it together for you. Hahnemann was an ardent follower of Swedish mystic philosopher Emanuel Swedenborg (1688-1772) and Swedenborg was his mentor. Since Hahnemann followed Swedenborg you need to know what the man's key teaching was. The key tenet of Swedenborg's doctrine was his method of arriving at truth. "As employed by Swedenborg himself, it consisted of a series of Revelations, by which immediate and indubitable [unqu estionable] intercourse [communication] with the spirit world was obtained."³ To put it simply Swedenborg taught his followers how to enter a state of consciousness that would put them in touch with spirit entities. He would claim that they were good spirits though anyone knowledgeable in the Scriptures would identify them as demons. Actually what you have here is what the Bible forbids as necromancy (see Deuteronomy 18:9-12). One researcher hits the nail on the head when he says Swedenborg was a "powerful spiritist and medium."⁴

How did this affect Hahnemann? "Hahnemann himself claimed to be 'inspired' in his homeopathic writings."⁵ Now this is not an obscure fact among homeopathic practitioners. In the Swiss Homeopathic Journal, #4, 1960 the president of the International League of Homeopathy noted this fact to a group of homeopaths when he said,

It's futile to reject this or that principle announced in the 'Organ' [Organon]. There remains more than enough to recognize the unfathomable intuition and divinitory spirit of its author.⁶

Many homeopaths look at his book as a divinely mystical book. When a man claims divine revelation or inspiration as the source of his writings, that should immediately raise huge red flags in the minds of any Christian. It is only the Bible that is inspired by God (2 Tim. 3:16-17).

- Paracelsianism

Martin Gumpert wrote a book entitled, Hahnemann: The Adventurous Career of a Medical Rebel. In this book it reveals that Hahnemann studied and delighted in the teachings of a Swiss occultic medical philosopher named Paracelsus (1493-1541). Paracelsus developed a medical philosophy that combined the esoteric occult teachings of the Cabala with the facts and fancies of science. His "medical" philosophy was occult oriented without a doubt. The teachings of Paracelsus stimulated Hahnemann's thinking and he developed some of his doctrine based on the occult teachings of Paracelsus. Hahnemann was drawn like a magnet to occult ideas and the teachings of Franz Mesmer just added to the heap.

- Mesmerism

Franz Mesmer (1733-1815) was a Swiss-German physician that founded the doctrine of animal magnetism, often called mesmerism. What Mesmer uncovered was actually an occult art that had been used for centuries by Shamans (witch doctors) to bring people under their control. Mesmer learned the technique that allowed him to produce an abnormal condition resembling sleep in another person. During this state, the mind of the individual remained passive and was subject to the will of the operator. Mesmer used this hypnotic state to heal patients that were sick. In fact, in his Homeopathic Bible, the Organon, Hahnemann compared the similarities between the practice of homeopathy and mesmerism. Consider this quote from the 6th edition of the Organon -- I find it yet necessary to allude here to animal magnetism, as it is defined, or rather Mesmerism. [...] It is a marvelous, priceless gift of God [...] by means of which the strong will of a well intentioned person upon a sick one by contact and even without this and even at some distance, can bring the vital energy of the healthy mesmerizer endowed with this power into another person dynamically [...] The above mentioned methods of practicing mesmerism depend upon an influx of more or less vital force into the patient [...]"⁷

Oh, by the way, what Hahnemann has just described is modern psychic healing. Animism, Hinduism, Confucianism and Eastern Religion

During my research I became increasingly aware that this man rejected the Bible and God's "wisdom that is from above" and followed the earthly, sensual and devilish wisdom from beneath (James 3:15-17). Then I came across a quote that reveals his view of Christ! Hahnemann was offended by the life of Jesus Christ. He mocks Jesus Christ, calling Him "the arch-enthusiast" His biographers write -- He took offense at the arch-enthusiast Jesus of Nazareth, who did not lead the enlightened on the straight way to wisdom but who wanted to struggle with publicans and sinners on a difficult path toward the establishment of the kingdom of God. . . . The man of sorrows who took the darkness of the world on Himself was an offense to the lover of etheric [highly refined, heavenly] wisdom" [Hahnemann].⁸

How can a Christian follow the "inspired" teachings of a Christ rejecter like C. F. Samuel Hahnemann? In some cases is it because of ignorance. In other cases Satan has blinded their minds. Let's move on.

According to Martin Gumpert, Samuel Hahnemann was influenced by animism.⁹ And he was also into other Eastern religions. One biography reveals "he is strongly attracted to the East. Confucius is his ideal."¹⁰ This is well documented by a letter Hahnemann wrote.

"This is where you can read divine wisdom, without [e.g., Christian] miracle-myths and superstition. I regard it as an important sign of our times that Confucius is now available for us to read. Soon I will embrace him in the kingdom of blissful spirits, the benefactor of humanity, who has shown us the straight path to wisdom and to God, already 650 years before the arch-enthusiast...."¹¹

It is little wonder that Samuel Pfeifer says, "The reverence for Eastern thought was not just Hahnemann's personal hobby, but rather the fundamental philosophy behind the preparation of homeopathic remedies."¹² In an excellent Christian book published in Northern Ireland, H.J. Bopp concludes after reading Hahnemann and other homeopathic writings that --

[...] the vocabulary is esoteric and the ideas are impregnated with oriental philosophies like Hinduism. The predominant strain of pantheism would place

God everywhere, in each man, each animal, plant, flower, cell, even in homeopathic medicine."¹³

The Doctrine of Vital Force

Even if we were to exclude all the above influences that play a part in homeopathy (which we can't), there is yet one major, Major, major problem. That is the doctrine that underlies all homeopathic treatment. That is the doctrine of vital force. This was mentioned in a quote from Hahnemann on Mesmerism. But what does it actually mean?

"What Hahnemann taught was that mystical energies were at the base of both human nature and the medicines themselves, thus at the very base of creation itself. This is why many commentators, both sympathetic and critical, teach that Hahnemann was referring to new age spiritual or cosmic energy when talking of his vital force."¹⁴

If you know your New Age & occult philosophy you will recognize that what is in focus here is pantheism, that is, the belief that divinity or life force is inseparable from and immanent in everything. Leading homeopath Herbert Robert put it this way, relating homeopathy's vital force to a pantheistic deity in his Art of Cure by Homeopathy. He said the "vital force" of homeopathy was part of "the moving Energy, the activating Power of the universe," as being "passed on in all forms and degrees of living creatures," and as permeating the universe:

If therefore this force, this energy, actuates or permeates all forms and degrees of life from the most humble and inconspicuous to the very planets, we may reasonably assume that vital force is the most fundamental of all conditions of the universe, and that the laws governing the vital force in the individual are correlated with the laws which govern all vital force, all forms of energy, wherever or however expressed. [...] This energy [...] is responsible for all growth and all development in all spheres of existence.¹⁵

Daisie and Michael Radner see the connection between homeopathy and occult energy fields.

Like Chinese medicine, homeopathy posits [assumes as fact] an energy field or 'vital force.' Disease is a disorder of the body's energy field, and the way to cure it is to manipulate that field. The energy field of the medicine stimulates that body's own fluid to induce healing. As with Chinese medicine, it is maintained that the energy fields are similar to those of modern physics. Again the principle cited is the interchangeability of matter and energy.¹⁶

So how is one healed by homeopathy? "The healing power", say the homeopaths, "is coming from cosmic power transferred to the remedy through the ritual of potentiation" (Organ 2:12). The "ritual of potentiation" is a reference to the diluting and shaking of the homeopathic medicines. That, according to homeopaths, enhances and increases the power of the medicine and that power is then transferred to the person. In fact, "some leading homeopaths have confessed that the energy they claim to manipulate in curing people is indistinguishable from that occult energy in general which has gone by a wide variety of names throughout history."¹⁷

What is frightening is the fact that one homeopathic Doctor, "Vithoukaskas", openly reveals that the real purpose of homeopathy is "to help open the higher centers [of the brain] for spiritual and celestial influx."¹⁸

What's he talking about? Demonic invasion! Physician H. J. Bopp relates his own clinical experience: "The occult influence in homeopathy is transmitted to the individual, bringing him consciously or unconsciously under demonic influence. [...] It is significant frequently to find nervous depression in families using homeopathic treatments."¹⁹

Other homeopaths admit an occult connection. Homeopathic authority James Kent states that there are two worlds, the physical world and the invisible world. He says that the whole of homeopathy is bound up in the invisible world, which is indistinguishable from the spiritual world of the occult realm.²⁰

Perhaps Richard Grossinger, author of Planet Medicine: From Stone Age Shamanism to Post-Industrial Healing does the best of summing up the information I have just presented to you --

Homeopathy is neither the first nor the last attempt to develop a scientific Vitalist [occult] medicine. Alchemists, gnostics, animists, and other naturalist-magicians worked for millennia toward a cure based on the life force in the primal energy of nature. Goethe, Steiner, Jung, and Reich followed. [...] It [homeopathy] persists [today] as a clinical occult discipline.²¹

He further states,

Psychic healing, homeopathy, acupuncture, orgone therapy, and various shamanisms and voodoo all suggest that there must be an energy outside of contemporary definition."²²

Homeopathy is a Stepping Stone to Other Occult Activities

2 Corinthians 11:14-15

And no marvel; for Satan himself is transformed into an angel of light. Therefore it is no great thing if his ministers also be transformed as the ministers of righteousness; whose end shall be according to their works.

Though many homeopaths attempt to "dress up" this mystical occult medicine in clothes of respectability, not all homeopaths play that game. Leading Swiss homeopath, Dr. Adolf Voegeli is one such person. When he was asked how he explained the working of the cosmic energy in homeopathy he responded, "You know, I believe in the power of the zodiac." He does not keep this belief a secret either. In an article on the mechanisms of homeopathy published in the Zeitschrift fuer Klassische Homoeopathie (Journal for Classical Homeopathy) the bibliography resembles a collection of occult, hinduistic, and anthroposophical literature.²³

Many homeopaths diagnose on the basis of astrological signs or otherwise employ astrology in their practice.²⁴ For example, one homeopath confesses, "In homeopathy we have to put more stress on individual differences, and that leads us to an interest in such things as astrology and acupuncture"²⁵

Others use divination to find a cure. Dr. Voegeli, a famous homeopathic doctor, has confirmed that a very high percentage of homeopaths work with the pendulum.²⁶ Dr. Pfeifer, M.D., also notes the use of pendulums by homeopaths because "it is easier to take a short cut with the radionic pendulum."²⁷ For example, former Lutheran pastor, Bolte, got his "gift" of soothsaying by means of a radionic pendulum. Like many other homeopaths, he chooses the appropriate remedy for a patient by using the pendulum. In his booklet From Pendulum Research to Miraculous Healing he writes:

I would sit at the desk, take the pendulum out, let it circle over Schwabe's list of homeopathic remedies and then order the remedy at their pharmacy in Leipzig."²⁸ [Note that since homeopathic "medicines" are all diluted so far as to contain practically none of the original substance, it would logically follow that it should make no difference at all which one is prescribed. Bolte's claim of success as a result of prescribing random remedies only serves to support the fact that they are all the same... ordinary water.]

Still others use even more hard core occult means. There are groups whose [homeopathic] research is carried out during seances, through mediums who seek information from spirits. The testimony of a person who worked in an important homeopathic laboratory of high standing in France is very interesting. She tells about the interview she had with the former director and founder of the establishment with a view to her recruitment. After a short introduction, this director asked her which astrological sign she was born under. He then wished to know whether she was a medium. As this was so, he confided to her the secret of the practices of the place. New treatments were researched there during seances, through the agency of persons having occult powers -- mediums by which to question spirits.²⁹

The frosting on the occult cake comes from a former new age healer and psychic who says "it is a fact that many homeopathic practitioners try to make sure their remedies are working by putting a magic spell on them".³⁰

In conclusion I issue this warning to all Christians. Homeopathic practices can and do open the door of your mind to demonic influences. Though the occult influence in homeopathy is often disguised, nonetheless it is there. Allow me to share a second time this quote from one Christian researcher -- "The occult influence in homeopathy is transmitted to the individual, bringing him consciously or unconsciously under demonic influence [...] It is significant frequently to find nervous depression in families using homeopathic treatments."³¹ Ephesians 5:11 instructs us, "And have no fellowship with the unfruitful works of darkness, but rather reprove them."

At the heart of homeopathy is the Hindu concept that there is a vital force or life energy that permeates all things (Keith Souter, Homeopathy: Heart and Soul, p. 19). Homeopathic remedies are thought to "act upon the Vital Force to restore balance within the body."

David Brown says: "If you know New Age and occult philosophy you will recognize that what is in focus here is pantheism, that is, the belief that divinity or life force is inseparable from and immanent in everything. Leading homeopath Herbert Robert put it this way, relating homeopathy's vital force to a pantheistic deity in his Art of Cure by Homeopathy. He said the 'vital force' of homeopathy was part of 'the moving Energy, the activating Power of the universe,' as being 'passed on in all forms and degrees of living creatures,' and as permeating the universe. Daisie and Michael Radner see the connection between homeopathy and occult energy fields. 'Like Chinese medicine, homeopathy posits an energy field or vital force. Disease is a disorder of the body's energy field, and the way to cure it is to manipulate that field. The energy field of the medicine stimulates that body's own fluid to induce healing.'

In reality, homeopathic remedies are so highly diluted that they are nothing more than water. The dilutions are done according to the "Centesimal scale" of 1:100. 1C (or CH1) refers to one part of an original tincture of some substance mixed in 100 parts of water. One part of that super diluted mixture becomes the next "tincture." At 3C "the mother tincture will be diluted to one in a million" and at 6C "the dilution will be one in a billion" (Homeopathy: Heart and Soul, p. 23). Homeopathic doctor Keith Souter admits that a 12C solution is "unlikely to have even a single molecule of the original compound left." Yet he recommends 30C or 200C potencies (p. 26)!

Dr. H.J. Bopp of Switzerland, who has studied homeopathy carefully, says: "Any patient receiving a homeopathic treatment at CH30 should be under no illusions as to its composition. There is no longer any of the named material substance in his pill or liquid whatsoever."

Blood In Meat Warning & How to get it out

Hosea 4:6: "My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge..."

Jesus prayed to the Father in John 17:17: "Sanctify them through thy truth: thy word is truth."

After the vegetation was utterly destroyed by the flood and Noah came out of the ark, God gave permission to mankind to eat flesh foods. "And God blessed Noah and his sons, and said unto them, Be fruitful, and multiply, and replenish the earth. . . . Every moving thing that liveth shall be meat for you; even as the green herb have I given you all things." Genesis 9:1-3. There was, however, a restriction placed upon the human race: "But flesh with the life thereof, which is the blood thereof, shall ye not eat." Genesis 9:4.

This restriction was reaffirmed after the children of Israel left Egypt. Through the prophet Moses, God said: "It shall be a perpetual statute for your generations throughout all your dwellings, that ye eat neither fat nor blood." Leviticus 3:17.

Orthodox Jews have followed these Levitical restrictions generation after generation. But since Leviticus 3:17 is the only dietary commandment that was a "perpetual statute" that is the only one we are going to concentrate on for this teaching.

Bernard J. Bamberger, in his article entitled "Kosher," defines the term and describes the implementation of these Levitical principles: "Kosher" says Mr. Bamberger, is a "rabbinic term, usually applied to food permitted to be eaten by traditionally observant Jews, kosher (or kasher) is a Hebrew word that means 'fit, proper.' The Jewish dietary laws, based on the Bible (Leviticus 11; Deuteronomy 14), concern animal products only.

Kosher foods include barnyard fowl, the meat of cattle, sheep, and goats (and their milk), and such fish as have fins and scales--excluding shellfish, eels, and so on. Poultry and quadrupeds must be killed by specially trained and licensed slaughterers in accordance with detailed rules; the carcasses are drained of blood and inspected to ensure that the animals were not diseased. Unless it is to be broiled, meat must be thoroughly salted and later rinsed before cooking, to remove any remaining blood.-- "Kosher" Grolier Multimedia Encyclopedia, 1997 edition.

Jewish law states that kosher animals must be slaughtered according to a strict set of guidelines, the slaughter (shechita) being designed to minimize the pain inflicted. A professional slaughterer, or (shochet), uses a large razor-sharp knife with absolutely no irregularities, nicks or dents. A single cut is made across the throat, severing both carotid arteries, both jugular veins, both Vagus nerves, the trachea and the esophagus, usually causing death in 3-4 seconds. Once killed, the animal is opened to determine whether there are any irregularities or growths (i.e. cancer), on its internal organs, some of which can render the animal non-kosher. The term "Glatt" kosher means strictly kosher where the glatt (lungs) are carefully examined for adhesions (i.e. cancer). In the Old Testament a violation of Lev. 3:17 would result in the separation of the transgressor from the congregation of Israel. "And whatsoever man there be of the house of Israel, or of the strangers that sojourn among you, that eateth any manner of blood; I will even set my face against that soul that eateth blood, and will cut him off from among his people." Leviticus 17:10.

To eat the blood of animals, which is almost always present in the meat tissue that you buy at the butcher shop, to eat meat that is not kosher as served in most restaurants, and to consume barbecues that are not kosher as served at social meetings, are grievous sins before the Lord. Modern day slaughter methods do not emphasize the draining of the blood in animal carcasses, they prioritize speed and maximum production of the meat.

Common mammal slaughterhouse stunning methods:

- Captive bolt stunning – A "pistol" is set against the animal's head and a metal rod is thrust into the brain.
- Electric stunning – Current produces a grand mal seizure.

One other thing to bring up before we go further is the The Mad Cow Disease scare which has brought to light several disquieting features regarding the raising of food animals. It seems that for decades British and North American farmers have been feeding their beef and dairy cattle, which as you mentioned, are vegetarian (in this case, herbivores) cheap protein supplements made from articles which include sheep brains, spinal cords and other animal parts. Certain of these substances were banned as a result of Mad Cow. However in the U.S. and in most other places the practice continues unabated. Indeed, offal (the ground remains of dead animals), from sheep, cattle, pigs, as well as animal feces, is routinely fed to food animals in the form of rendered pellets, powder or meal. In addition, massive quantities of blood meal, bone meal and other animal byproducts find their way into food animal's feed. It is grossly unnatural and dangerous to feed blood and other animal parts to cattle, which are natural vegetarians. And herein lies the problem. Who knows what diseases are transmitted as a result of this criminal violation of the laws of nature? There has never been one case of mad cow disease from a cow that was grass-fed as the Lord made them to be. Studies indicate grass-fed beef (cattle raised in pasture) is much healthier to eat than grain-fed beef (cattle raised in confinement). Grass-fed beef is up to three times leaner than grain-fed beef, and can have up to 15 fewer calories per ounce than meat from a grain-fed cow. Grass-fed meat also provides more balanced omega-3s, omega-6 fatty acids, beta carotene, vitamin E and folic acid. Mad cow disease has never been found in a 100% grass-fed cow (See:

<http://www.organicconsumers.org/madcow/grassfed111505.cfm>)

Meat is commonly served permeated with fat, usually because it suits ones tastes better. Both the blood and the fat of animals are consumed habitually by most Americans. But the Lord gave special directions that these should not be eaten. Why? Because their use would make a diseased flow of blood in the human system. The disregard for the Lord's special directions has brought a variety of difficulties and diseases upon human beings. . . . If they introduce into their systems that which cannot make good flesh and blood, they must endure the results of their disregard of God's Word." Counsels on Diet and Foods, 393-394.

To illustrate the practice of eating blood in the flesh of animals go to I Samuel 14: 32-34: Jonathan and his arms bearer had engaged in battle with the Philistines after they had a sign from the Lord to do so. After having twenty of their soldiers killed within the space of half an acre of land, the Philistine army panicked and began to flee in great fear. When king Saul received news of the confusion in the enemies' camp, he ordered an attack. After a long pursuit of Israel's enemies, the people were very weary. They "flew upon the spoil, and took sheep, and oxen, and calves, and slew them on the ground: and the people did eat them with the blood. Then they told Saul, saying, Behold, the people sin against the LORD, in that they eat with the blood. And he said, Ye have transgressed: roll a great stone unto me this day. And Saul said, Disperse yourselves among the people, and say unto them, Bring me hither every man his ox, and every man his sheep, and slay them here, and eat; and sin not against the LORD in eating with the blood. And all the people brought every man his ox with him that night, and slew them there."

It would behoove those who believe that, under the gospel dispensation, mankind is free to ignore the Old Testament prohibition of eating blood with the meat tissue, to seriously consider the special consensus that the Council of Jerusalem (A.D. 50) took regarding this specific topic. The apostle James, chairman of this ecclesiastical council, in his closing remarks summarized the unanimous resolution arrived at by the church at large through the Holy Spirit. Here are his words:

"For it seemed good to the Holy Ghost, and to us, to lay upon you no greater burden than these necessary things; that ye abstain from meats offered to idols, and from blood, and from things strangled, and from fornication: from which if ye keep yourselves, ye shall do well. Fare ye well." Acts 15:28-29.

Let us not overlook that this resolution took place under the guidance of the Holy Spirit after the death of Christ on the cross and His resurrection. Thus Biblical evidence supports the concept that the health-related regulations of Leviticus 3:17 in the Old Testament are still in effect today. The other restriction given in Leviticus 3:17: "It shall be a perpetual statute for your generations throughout all your dwellings, that ye eat neither fat nor blood". Now animal fat is almost always present in meat served in various restaurants, or purchased over the counter. In many cases it is the presence of this burned fat--its flavor and odors--which is very appealing to many people.

In I Samuel 2:12-17 we find an insightful story of two individuals who were victims of an appetite for fat--particularly regarding the eating of flesh with fat in it:

"Now the sons of Eli were sons of Belial (Websters 1828 defines Belial as: "Wickedness and or Worthless"); they knew not the LORD. And the priests' custom with the people was, that, when any man offered sacrifice, the priest's servant came, while the flesh was in seething, with a fleshhook of three teeth in his hand; and he struck it into the pan, or kettle, or caldron, or pot; all that the fleshhook brought up the priest took for himself. So they did in Shiloh, unto all the Israelites that came thither. Also before they burnt the fat, the priest's servant came, and said to the man that sacrificed, Give flesh to roast for the priest; for he will not have sodden (Websters 1828 defines sodden as: "Boiled") flesh of thee, but raw. And if any man said unto him, Let them not fail to burn the fat presently, and then take as much as thy soul desireth; then he would answer him, Nay; but thou shalt give it me now: and if not, I will take it by force. Wherefore the sin of the young men was very great before the LORD: for men abhorred the offering of the LORD." I Samuel 2:12-17.

When persons wished to present a sacrifice of peace offering on the altar, the offering was brought in the first instance to the priest, and as the Lord's part was burnt, the parts appropriated respectively to the priests and offerers were to be sodden. But Eli's sons, unsatisfied with the breast and shoulder, which were the perquisites appointed to them by the divine law (Exd 29:27 Lev 7:31, 32), not only claimed part of the offerer's share, but rapaciously seized them previous to the sacred ceremony of heaving or waving (see on Lev. 7:28-34): When the flesh was boiling for the offerer to feast upon religiously with his friends, they sent a servant with a flesh-hook of three teeth, a trident, and that must be stuck into the pot, and whatever that brought up the priest must have (v. 13, 14), and the people, out of their great veneration, suffered this to grow into a custom, but after awhile a remedy was pleaded for this manifest wrong. Though the people tamely yielded to their unwarrantable demands from them, they were declared that God should not be robbed: Let them not fail to burn the fat presently, v. 16. Let the altar have its due, for that is the main matter. Unless God have the fat, they can feast with little comfort upon the flesh. It was a shame that the priests should need to be thus admonished by the people of their duty; but they regarded not the admonition. The priest will be served first, and will take what he thinks fit of the fat too, for he is weary of boiled meat, they must give it to him raw; The effect was, First, That God was displeased: The sin of the young men was very great before the Lord, v. 17. Nothing is more provoking to God than the profaning of sacred things, and men serving their lusts with the offerings of the Lord. Secondly, That the Lords Biblical Religious practices of that time suffered by it: Men abhorred the offerings of the Lord. All good men abhorred their management of the offerings, and too many insensibly fell into a contempt of the offerings themselves for their sakes. It was the people's sin to think the worse of God's institutions, but it was the much greater sin of the priests that gave them occasion to do so. From the thank offering, they were supposed to get the shoulder portion, after the fat was burnt to God, but they wanted to take more from God and from the people, including the fat that was forbidden. Now many may think they don't eat animal fat, but don't forget about foods cooked in animal fats. Now the willful ignorance, negligence, or disobedience to a plain command from the Lord can have grievous consequences for both ourselves and our loved ones lives; not to mention the account we will have to give at the Judgment Seat of Christ. The above story should be sufficient evidence for us to avoid the eating of meat with fat or blood.

Responsibility for Light: One question we could ask ourselves as Christians is: 'Am I practicing true temperance in all things?' 'Is my diet such as will bring me in a position where I can accomplish the greatest amount of good?' If we cannot answer these questions in the affirmative, we could stand ashamed before God, for He will hold us all responsible for the light which has shone upon our path. The time of ignorance God winked at, but as fast as light shines upon us, He requires us to change our health-destroying habits, and place ourselves in a right relation to His physical laws."

Hosea 4:6: "My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge: because thou hast rejected knowledge, I will also reject thee, that thou shalt be no priest to me: seeing thou hast forgotten the law of thy God, I will also forget thy children."

Action Points: To explore this subject further I highly recommend reading the "Makers Diet" by Jordan Rubin: <http://www.makersdiet.com> . This is an insightful book full of good solid Biblical dietary recommendations.

Note: If Kosher meat is not an option you can go a long way to remove the blood in the meat by letting the meat soak in water with an 1/8 cup of vinegar added for 30-60 minutes. Preferably 'Bragg's Organic Apple Cider Vinegar'. Natural salt should also be added to the water. The vinegar and the salt will help to purge out the blood and toxins. The meat can be kept in a plastic bag with holes in it to let the solution permeate the meat. Afterward the meat should be broiled ideally and this also removes more blood and toxins. Before broiling, the meat should be salted and more vinegar applied to further the removal of blood and toxins. Remember this is an ideal procedure to use on all meat as even Kosher meat has some residual blood.
