Ephesians 5:11, 13-16: "And have no fellowship with the unfruitful works of darkness, but rather reprove them. But all things that are reprovved are made manifest by the light: for whatsoever doth make manifest is light. Wherefore he saith, Awake thou that sleepest, and arise from the dead, and Christ shall give thee light. See then that ye walk circumspectly, not as fools, but as wise, Redeeming the time, because the days are evil."

The 1828 Noah Webster Dictionary defines: "Reprove": To blame, to convince of a fault, or to make it manifest, to excite a sense of guilt. "Circumspectly": Cautiously; with watchfulness every way; with attention to guard against surprise or danger.

Matthew 24:24: "...if it were possible, they shall deceive the very elect."

II Corinthians 2:11: "Lest Satan should get an advantage of us: for we are not ignorant of his devices."

II Chronicles 7:14: "If my people, which are called by my name, shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin, and will heal their land."

Luke 21:36 Watch ye therefore, and pray always, that ye may be accounted worthy to escape all these things that shall come to pass, and to stand before the Son of man.

Matthew 24:13 But he that shall endure unto the end, the same shall be saved.

"Communications": companionship, communion

"It does not take a majority to prevail... but rather an irate, tireless minority, keen on setting brushfires of freedom in the minds of men." Samuel Adams

“The average age of the world's great civilizations has been two hundred years. These nations have progressed through the following sequence: from bondage to spiritual faith, from spiritual faith to great courage, from courage to liberty, from liberty to abundance, from abundance to selfishness, from selfishness to complacency from complacency to apathy, from apathy to dependency, from dependency back to bondage.” Alexander Fraser Tytler

As a south Florida resident this is accurate. There was unexplained power outage for a long period of time. No answers. No reason given. Nothing. The only way we could communicate with each other was through the ring app. Then suddenly that was shut down. If there were any witnesses to anything like this, you can trust me when I say their phones etc were confiscated or simply wiped! I don't know about flights grounded as I wasn't actively trying to book a flight. I heard nothing about that. But the unexplained power outage I can attest to.

It may sound crazy -- but just bear with me on this: one possible answer as to why no one was able to record or take a picture of what happened may be because of their phones being intentionally wiped of data. In other words, whatever event happened could have caused triggering of some type of emergency protocol which locates all smartphones in a given location and wipes out all recorded visual content within a given time period. So basically, people may have indeed taken pictures or videos -- but it was wiped out. In theory, this can be done because all cell phones have GPS capabilities which cannot be fully turned off. As well, even if someone put their phone into airplane mode -- the visual content would be immediately wiped out once the phone was either reconnected to the Internet via WiFi or cellular data. This is because the visual data has both time code and GPS data embedded into it. You may think you can turn this data off for privacy -- but believe me -- it's still there nevertheless. I would even go so far as to say that those people who had the aforementioned happen to them -- received some kind of warning to keep quiet about what happened. I also say this because of what happened with the recent coof thing. This is where functionality was intentionally forced onto all smartphones to warn of nearby people who had the coof. At first one could delete this functionality because it was just an app. Then it was baked into the firmware of the phones in such a way that you could not easily remove it. You also could not turn it off because it would just turn itself back on. In my case, at a point during the coof -- I had to deal with this functionality turning on and warning me multiple times within a day. Again, all of the aforementioned was accomplished in the same manner as my theory -- because my smartphone knew where I was. Again, call me crazy -- and say "oh they wouldn't do that" -- but nevertheless -- the fact remains that they already have done that. And given any type of situation which may warrant this type of activity -- they will do it again.

I can only imagine how terrifying these creatures must have been. As for no footage...Maybe this would be a good reason to start carrying an independent camera wherever you go, weather digital or film but not on your cell phone.

I think people should start carrying digital/polaroid/disposable cameras; something that can't be accessed by the higher ups that can be saved and shared

The reason you may not be seeing any posts from people who were in the mall, is because they were forced to stay silent and maybe even forced to give up footage they had on their phones. It wouldn't be the first time the government threatened citizens who saw something they shouldn't have.

Las Vegas here, witness to a stampede of hundreds of teenagers who crashed an event I worked last year that led to some teens shooting and injuring a girl. Also just followed closely the shooting at UNLV because my son goes to school in the building where the incident happened. Neither occurrence had ANYWHERE near the amount of police presence that were at that mall. Not even close. I think that's what's weird about this whole thing and what people can't wrap their minds around - regardless of what else may or may not have happened, the sheer amount of police at the scene was very curious and doesn't fit the narrative.

My husband and I saw a suspected Nephilim in Idaho during the day at a grocery store of all places. We were in shock. People were not saying anything. My husband and I looked at each other and said, "I think that's a Nephilim." It looked like a man, a very tall man. I would guess him to be around eight feet tall or taller. His body was in what our cultural standards would call "perfect shape". He had not a flaw. He was buying flowers for a woman. The reason we know that is because we heard him talk to the cashier about what he was doing with the flowers. It was mind blowing to see such a thing. After he left and we went back to our vehicle, both of us were wondering if anyone else saw what we saw.

Honestly, I think a lot of people are asleep. My church friend has actually been down in Miami for the past 2 weeks and I asked her if she heard about this. She said yes and that it was just teenagers fighting. I'm like, "ma'am. I have never in my life seen that many police cars for a few teenagers fighting with non-lethal weapons" and I told her about everything being shut off and she just seemed to have no further thought towards it. Like where is everyone?! How is that ok?!

This is how the authorities get away with this stuff, because people have been programmed to just believe what they say.

A woman took some of the Miami footage and changed it to black and white and discovered a strange giant creature.

I served in Afghanistan as a Marine, as well as a private security contractor. A guy I know who was in Afghan as a security contractor in 2001-2003 said there was talk of a SF team coming across a giant man that they had killed. In the early years of the Afghan war it was like the Wild West. Contractors would trade Jack Daniel's for grenades and rockets because all they had was 7.62 and 5.56 weapons for personal security details, moving individuals from point A to B. You had to drive 100+ miles an hour everywhere you went. Everyone was in soft skin vehicles back then, absolute chaos and very dangerous. Interesting that this guy I worked with confirmed there was talk of a giant in those days when I asked him about it after the LA interview broke. This dude is a no nonsense individual. He worked in Iraq/afghan as a contractor/ supervisor for over 11 years...

76 Christian Universities Caught Promoting Abortion and Planned Parenthood

The Pro-Life Generation is celebrating the 697 Christian colleges and universities across the country who uphold the basic biblical principle that life begins at conception by not promoting Planned Parenthood or the abortion industry. Sadly, 70 other Christian schools have varying degrees of support for abortion or abortion vendors like Planned Parenthood easily found on their websites.

This information comes from a newly released report by the Demetree Institute for Pro-Life Advancement, which investigated all 767 colleges and universities affiliated with Christian churches in the United States throughout 2023. According to our findings, 76 — or one in ten Christian schools — maintained some type of relationship with Planned Parenthood and the abortion industry.

Considering that Planned Parenthood sells the most abortions compared with any other vendor and is proven to set up shop in college towns (with 87% of its locations within five miles or less of a college campus), it comes at no shock that the abortion giant has also crept its way into faith-based schools. What is a surprise, however? Post-Roe v. Wade, there is a growing number of Christian school administrations, health centers, and professors willing to compromise Biblical values by supporting or advertising for the abortion industry.

In fact, according to these new findings, the number of Christian schools supporting Planned Parenthood or abortion industry directly has increased by 10% since 2021.

We concluded our research in 2021 with only 69 remaining infracted schools (those found in some sort of pro-abortion relationship) but found as many as 76 infracted schools by 2023. This means that rather than celebrating the end of Roe's tyranny, some Christian schools actually broke their silence on the issue in favor of abortion.

Take Holy Cross College, a Jesuit Catholic college in Massachusetts, for instance. It was awarded an A+ grade in 2021; however, following the reversal of Roe, their Women and Gender Studies department used the school's website to "condemn" the decision, demonstrating their commitment to abortion over biblical values.
