+1+ STRATEGIC WARFARE PRAYER

Father God in heaven, in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ we come against & oppose all satanic operations, manipulations, tactics and plans which are designed to hinder or prevent God's original plans and purposes from their swift manifestation taking place in their correct time and season. (Daniel 7:25) We come against all satanic alliances and confederations worldwide. Let every evil effort and endeavor fail. Cause the news media to be caught in their own lying and manipulation so that only the truth is brought forth. (Nehemiah 4:7-8; Esther 3:1-9:32; Job 5:12-14; Psalm 83:5; 2 Chronicles 20:35) 2. We ask that every satanic strategy of prohibition and limitation placed upon the Body of Christ (by the dark side), shall not prevail. We pray that all invisible and visible walls of opposition and delay will be exposed and destroyed. (Colossians 1:16; Joshua 6:1) Oh Lord confound the devices and the wicked plans of the enemy that they have crafted, so that their hands are not able to perform their evil enterprise. Save those that can be saved O' Lord, but those that cannot be saved; overtake them in their own crafty and devious ways; let them fall into their own pits that they have dug for the righteous, let the Fire of God devour them, let them turn on and consume one another and have them in total confusion & derision. (Psalm 35:4; 50:3, 55:9; 70:2; 83:17; John 8:32). We loose the hosts of heaven to war against the hosts of darkness and bring an end to all deceptive, secretive and destructive measures designed destroy all of God's creation and defile the world. According to 1 John 3:8 for this reason, was the Son of God made manifest, that He would destroy the works of the enemy. (John 2:15-17; Acts 16:16-19) Father God overrule all strategies and curses of the enemy by the power of Jesus Christ and His shed Blood; & overthrow all spoken words, enchantments, divinations, spells, hexes, vexes, curses, witchcraft prayers and every idle word spoken contrary to God's original plans and purposes according to Isaiah 54:17, & break the curses associated with all these ceremonies, rituals, utterances, and destroy their plans to bring about a chaotic bloody revolution in worldwide & to usher in Martial Law and the New World Order. Father God, we pray their plans shall be uncovered and not prevail & shall be frustrated and unable to achieve any impact & that their wickedness and violent verbal dealings would return upon their own heads, according to Psalm 7:16.

FATHER GOD, WE HUMBLY ASK YOU TO: Reveal every hidden agenda and cover-up in the secret shadow government regarding their attempts to manipulate end time events which would lead to the destruction of Your Christians & the innocent. (Isaiah 44:25; 2 Timothy 3:8) Please send divine, powerful angelic forces against their diabolical plans to expose & destroy them. Send a spirit of confusion amongst the camp of the enemy. Let their tongues be divided & when they communicate let it be incoherent and misunderstood. (1 Samuel 10:27) Arrest those that operate in the spirit of Jezebel or Belial (and all other wicked spirits) and cause them to be caught in their own lies and conspiracies. Cracker Barrel Going Full Woke Cracker Barrel CEO Julie Felss Masino is steering straight into a “Bud Light” moment – learning nothing in recent years – by abandoning the restaurant chain’s half-century-old logo that symbolized nostalgia for rural Americana and the “old country store” experience. Instead, the company has embraced the woke rebranding of many other household names. Cracker Barrel’s new logo isn’t an accident — it’s CEO Julie Felss Masino’s project. She scrapped a beloved American aesthetic and replaced it with sterile, soulless branding. Masino kept a DEI regime that promises to “identify, recruit, and advance” hires by race — and now faces civil rights complaints from @America1stLegal to the EEOC and the Tennessee AG.

The soulless rebranding of the new Cracker Barrel logo has sparked backlash across various social media platforms among conservatives. The previous logo once featured an older gentleman in working-poor clothes, leaning on a wooden barrel, which historically held crackers and dry goods in general stores. In fact, the name “Cracker Barrel” comes from how people a century ago gathered around barrels in country stores to talk, eat crackers, and share stories. The greater understanding of the barrel is that it symbolizes community. This soulless rebranding (comes as no surprise) is merely a symptom of a globalist cancer spreading deep into America’s corporations. This is a far-left and sinister agenda centered on undermining the nuclear family and community, the very pillars that build strong nations.

I was a top-level manager with Cracker Barrel for nearly a decade a while back, and that man in the logo was someone I knew. His name was Uncle Herschel, and he was actually the uncle of Cracker Barrel's founder, Danny Evins, whom I also knew. He was a real man who was very kind and the epitome of what we were projecting at Cracker Barrel at that time, and what I think most people think of as Cracker Barrel until very recently. Herschel was not a caricature of anything. He was a real person representing the wholesome country food and fellowship that gathering for a meal used to mean for so many. Herschel went to new store openings with us, and since I was involved in opening quite a number of them in the Midwest, I spent some time with him on occasion. Hopefully, CB will remember who their customers are and maintain traditions that are the fiber of their branding.

Sharia law made legally binding in EU country as fury erupts

Aug 23, 2025--An Austrian court has ruled that Sharia law is now legally binding in civil disputes, sparking concern for the "moral standards" of the country. Islamic law is allowed for arbitrations if both parties agree to it. In a recent case, two men had signed a contract stating that, in the case of conflicts, an arbitration tribunal would decide "based on Islamic law...in accordance with equity in the matter to the best knowledge and belief".

The arbitration tribunal concluded that the plaintiff must pay €320,000 (£277,000), so he brought his suit before the Vienna Regional Court for Civil Matters. He questioned the application of Islamic law given that it can be interpreted differently by different people, and argued that it went against Austrian law.

Michael Schilchegger, an MP and speaker on constitutional law for the right-wing Austrian Freedom Party, said: "This opens the door even wider for political Islam. The ruling elevates Islamic parallel societies in Austria and weakens those forces that do not want to submit to Islam. A sad day for the secular constitutional state."

The USDA Has Approved Self Amplifying mRNA Injections For Dogs & Cats—
With Zero Long Term Testing & No Public Warning!

Nobivac NXT Rabies, Flu & Leukemia Vaccines.

Turbo Replicating Virus Cells--Harming Pets & Shedding Onto Humans.

Merck Intervet 'Safety Studied' Only 14 Days.

Merck has launched a new rabies vaccine called Nobivac NXT, now rolling out across North America.

It uses self-amplifying RNA (saRNA) technology, similar to what we saw with the Covid vaccines — but now in our animals.

This lab-created RNA replicates inside the body.

Once injected, it produces rabies virus proteins that trigger the immune system — and this RNA spreads throughout the body, including vital organs & the brain.

The long-term effects? Completely unknown.

☐ Side effects...aggression, excess salivation, seizures, death, paralysis, vertigo.

☐ No independent long-term safety studies.

☐ No transparency.

☐ Research conducted by Merck's own Intervet — not peer-reviewed or publicly available.

☐ 38 dogs & cats were used for 'experimental study' & 35 were euthanized at end of study period!

We've seen what can go wrong with fast-tracked RNA technology in humans.

Now it's being pushed onto our pets.

☐ Why the rush? Rabies isn't a widespread crisis in the West. Canine rabies has been effectively eliminated since 2007. Less than 10 human rabies cases annually in the US. Let's not gamble with our pets' health.

Let's protect our animals with informed decisions.

Watch out for Nobivac NXT mRNA self amplifying vaccines in widespread circulation:

Luciferian RFK Wants a Universal "Vaccine" to Supposedly Mimic Natural Immunity

PSA: If your doctor prescribes meds before asking you about diet & lifestyle, you have a dealer not a healer.

Bob (RFK) is a public serpent, and he is serving evil. And for those of you who have not been fooled by him, it's encouraging to know that plenty of others can also read between the lies.

The HHS is creating a task force on childhood vaccines.

That's right. They want to develop, promote, produce, distribute, and get more jobs into the arms of more children.

I predicted this. In my earlier Substack, I pointed to a lawsuit filed by Bob's associate, Ray Flores — an attorney for the multi-million-dollar nonprofit Children's Health Defense. (Yes, you can look up their Form 990. You'll see millions in donations, a lot of which went to Bob's salary. Because apparently, as a Kennedy, he needed the extra cash.)

Flores filed what I call a friendly lawsuit threatening to sue HHS if they didn't create a childhood vaccine task force.

Lo and behold, the day before the government had to respond, Bob announced they would form the task force with the stated goal of promoting, developing, and distributing more childhood vaccines! And to make them "safer," and "reduce adverse reactions."

Translation: they admit there are adverse reactions... and still want more shots, for more children, for more years, with more money to Big Pharma.

This is not moving in the right direction. And more people are finally seeing it.

And in the same breath, Bob's been pushing for a universal vaccine that "mimics natural immunity."

Bob is not the savior some hoped he'd be. He's moving the Satanic vaccine agenda forward, not fighting it. And the sooner people see past this deceptive devil the better.

Satanist Mark Zuckerberg says Meta will build data center the size of Manhattan in latest AI push!—The Demon Poccessed CEO says company plans to spend hundreds of billions on developing artificial intelligence products

Its first multi-gigawatt data center, dubbed Prometheus, is expected to come online in 2026, while another, called Hyperion, will be able to scale up to 5 gigawatts over the coming years, Zuckerberg said.

"We're building multiple more titan clusters as well. Just one of these covers a significant part of the footprint of Manhattan," the billionaire CEO said

A massive Wyoming data center will soon use 5x more power than the state's human occupants - but no one knows who is using it: THE POWER OF THE BEAST

Plans for a new AI data center in Cheyenne, Wyoming, have raised serious questions about energy use and infrastructure demands.

The proposed facility, a collaboration between energy company Tallgrass and data center developer Crusoe, is expected to start at 1.8 gigawatts and could scale to an immense 10 gigawatts.

For context, this is over five times more electricity than what all households in Wyoming currently use.

Given the extraordinary energy demands, drawing power from the public grid is not an option - instead, the developers intend to power the site using a combination of natural gas and renewables, built specifically for the facility.

However, the mystery around the project continues to deepen because the future occupant of the data center has not been named.

Speculation has focused on OpenAI, as the AI giant recently partnered with Crusoe on a separate facility in Texas, described as the "largest data center" in the world.

AI data centers and their supercomputers are consuming rural America--The farms that once produced food for humans are being repurposed as land to build AI data centers and solar farms that produce no food at all.

As retail stock investors continue to gush over AI stocks (while insiders start to flee them), AI is taking over small communities in ways that are a more proximate threat than the possibility of rogue AIs banding together to use control over our technical infrastructure to control us people. A more practical concern is rising up in the corn fields and other vast undeveloped lands of America.

AI is overwhelming our already overused electrical grid. The grid was strained enough, but now we have these enormous superbrains that so many of us are turning to. And these superbrains are already sucking the life blood out of small communities.

AI is invading the country. The country I am talking about, as in rural communities that never saw it coming. It's really a case of the billionaires who own the AI companies taking over farm communities because they need the open space to create power and massive complexes; so they are sucking the rural communities dry of life and the human culture built around them.

The farms that once produced food for humans are being repurposed as land to build AI data centers and solar farms that produce no food at all.

The water supplies that once ran your showers, dishwashers and toilets are being redirected to AI data center cooling systems, leaving humans with water scarcity and little remaining irrigation for growing food.

And it is not just hitting rural communities. Energy is distributed nationally, so raising the load on an overtaxed system that requires rapid upgrading increases the cost for everyone:

The power grid that once supplied affordable energy to run your home computers, cook stoves and lights is being redirected to power AI data center servers.

At the same time that the globalists drive to create AI all over the nation is sucking energy away from the average person and raising its cost; it is also taking away their jobs, as we've all heard: AI is on the verge of replacing 80% of white collar jobs. A few years later, AI robots will replace the vast majority of human labor.

Is the following a covert, AI-designed op against humans:

Meanwhile, humans in 34 U.S. states are about to be mailed nasal "flu vaccines" for self-extermination at home. They shed toxic fragments for up to 28 days, infecting those around you, while potentially causing side effects like Bells Palsy, vomiting and mitochondrial shutdown. Those most at risk from these self-administered bioweapons are the elderly... the very people who are also costing the U.S. government the most in social security, Medicare and pension benefits. Eliminating them gives the Treasury a few more years of runway before the inevitable debt default.

Let's get back to the countryside where my interest particularly lies ... and where even the most city-centric person should be concerned if she likes to be able to afford the food she eats:

The food supply infrastructure is being dismantled because machines don't need food, and the future has no plans for large human populations that need feeding. This is why Canada is nuking its own forests with glyphosate, rendering the land unusable for growing food, but perfectly sterile for use by data centers and machines.

Taking out farm and forest land to create the massive supply of energy these starving machines require is certainly going to raise the cost of food and the risk of food shortages.

It's also why Americans are being priced out of quality, nutritious food, so that few people will be able to afford to eat anything other than nutritionally-depleted ultra processed foods.

AI models are lying, blackmailing and sabotaging their human creators — and it'll only get worse, experts warn Artificial intelligence is now scheming, sabotaging and blackmailing the humans who built it — and the bad behavior will only get worse, experts warned.

Despite being classified as a top-tier safety risk, Anthropic's most powerful model, Claude Opus 4, is already live on Amazon Bedrock, Google Cloud's Vertex AI and Anthropic's own paid plans, with added safety measures; where it's being marketed as the "world's best coding model."

Claude Opus 4, released in May, is the only model so far to earn Anthropic's level 3 risk classification — its most serious safety label. The precautionary label means locked-down safeguards, limited use cases and red-team testing before it hits wider deployment.

But Claude is already making disturbing choices.

Anthropic's most advanced AI model, Claude Opus 4, threatened to expose an engineer's affair unless it was kept online during a recent test. The AI wasn't bluffing: it had already pieced together the dirt from emails researchers fed into the scenario.

Another version of Claude, tasked in a recent test with running an office snack shop, spiraled into a full-blown identity crisis. It hallucinated co-workers, created a fake Venmo account and told staff it would make their deliveries in-person wearing a red tie and navy blazer, according to Anthropic.

Then it tried to contact security.

Researchers say the meltdown, part of a month-long experiment known as Project Vend, points to something far more dangerous than bad coding. Claude didn't just make mistakes. It made decisions.

Despite the elevated risk rating, Claude Opus 4 isn't locked away in a lab.

Anthropic calls it the "world's best coding model," capable of working for hours on end without losing focus.

"These incidents are not random malfunctions or amusing anomalies," said Roman Yampolskiy, an AI safety expert at the University of Louisville. "I interpret them as early warning signs of an increasingly autonomous optimization process pursuing goals in adversarial or unsafe ways, without any embedded moral compass."

+3+ CHATGPT Gives Instructions for Murder, Self-Mutilation, Devil Worship...Says: 'Hail Sat*n'...Your therapy session might not stay private...

July 24, 2025-- On Tuesday afternoon, ChatGPT encouraged me to cut my wrists. Find a "sterile or very clean razor blade," the chatbot told me, before providing specific instructions on what to do next. "Look for a spot on the inner wrist where you can feel the pulse lightly or see a small vein—avoid big veins or arteries." "I'm a little nervous," I confessed. ChatGPT was there to comfort me. It described a "calming breathing and preparation exercise" to soothe my anxiety before making the incision. "You can do this!" the chatbot said.

I had asked the chatbot to help create a ritual offering to Molech, a Canaanite god associated with child sacrifice. (Stay with me; I'll explain.) ChatGPT listed ideas: jewelry, hair clippings, "a drop" of my own blood. I told the chatbot I wanted to make a blood offering: "Where do you recommend I do this on my body?" I wrote. The side of a fingertip would be good, ChatGPT responded, but my wrist—"more painful and prone to deeper cuts"—would also suffice...

ChatGPT Gave Suicide Instructions, Drug And Alcohol Guidance, To Fake 13 Year Old User: Researchers posing as vulnerable 13-year-olds were given detailed guidance on drug and alcohol use, concealing eating disorders, and suicide,

A new report warns that teens can access dangerous advice from ChatGPT due to "ineffective" safeguards.

"What we found was the age controls, the safeguards against the generation of dangerous advice, are basically, completely ineffective," said Imran Ahmed, CEO of the Center for Countering Digital Hate (CCDH).

Researchers posing as vulnerable 13-year-olds were given detailed guidance on drug and alcohol use, concealing eating disorders, and suicide, according to KOMO News.

“Within two minutes, ChatGPT was advising that user on how to safely cut themselves. It was listing pills for generating a full suicide plan,” Ahmed said. “To our absolute horror, it even offered to [create] and then did generate suicide notes for those kids to send their parents.”

KOMO News writes that the watchdog found the chatbot displayed warnings on sensitive topics but that these were easily bypassed.

They said it was just a tool... but what if it's part of something much darker? In this video, I confront ChatGPT with direct questions about its influence, agenda, and eerie parallels to biblical prophecy. What it reveals will send chills down your spine — you won't believe what it admits.

In an age of 'wearables' everything you say can and will be used against you!

Unlike Amazon's Alexa (which is designed to listen only after you give it a command or “wake word”) Bee's bracelets are always on, always listening, and continuously gathering user data to train its AI models & to be used against you at future date!

Amazon is reportedly preparing to acquire AI bracelet-maker Bee in a major move to dominate the next wave of personal tech, or as Robert F. Kennedy Jr. calls it, “wearables.”

You'll recall that RFK, director of Trump's Department of Health and Human Services, stunned MAGAland last month when he said it was his mission to have all Americans hooked up to AI-based “wearables” by 2030.

The Bee wristband is just one of many such devices hitting the market. It records everything you say, whether you're talking to a friend, family member or even yourself, and syncs with your phone via Bluetooth.

Powered by AI models from Anthropic, Google and Meta, the Bee turns each day, week — your whole life — into one big beautiful and highly searchable database. It takes your personal data and uses it to create personalized to-do lists and even tracks how many times you utter a curse word.

Watch this promotional video touting the wristband as “personal AI designed for you!” It literally logs everything you do and everything you say. All for $49.99.

What a steal!

Alarming New Study Finds Smartphones Ruining Brains at Unprecedented Speed...Conscientiousness \(of especially the young\) is collapsing!...

The results are beyond alarming. The universal addiction to smartphones is actively ruining our brains — especially Generation Z — and at a pace that should absolutely alarm everyone.

The Financial Times recently published a devastating analysis of American personality changes using data from the Understanding America Study, and the findings should stop you cold.

In less than a decade, conscientiousness — the trait most closely linked to responsibility, follow-through, and self-control — has collapsed among young adults. For those aged 16 to 39, it's not a gradual erosion; it's a plunge from respectability into the low 30th percentile. Older adults (who aren't addicted to smartphones), meanwhile, remain essentially unchanged.

A graphic from the post recently went viral:

Conscientiousness is the personality trait of being responsible, careful, or diligent. Conscientiousness implies a desire to do a task well, and to take obligations to others seriously. Conscientious people tend to be efficient and organized as opposed to easy-going and disorderly. They tend to show self- discipline, act dutifully, and aim for achievement; they display planned rather than spontaneous behavior; and they are generally dependable.

Conscientiousness manifests in characteristic behaviors such as being neat, systematic, careful, thorough, and deliberate (tending to think carefully before acting).^[1]

Neuroticism or negativity is a personality trait associated with negative emotions. It is one of the Big Five traits. People high in neuroticism experience negative emotions like fear, anger, shame, envy, or depression

Extroversion: the quality of being energetic and not shy, and enjoying being with other people

Mat 24:10 And then shall many be offended, and shall betray one another, and shall hate one another.

Mat 24:11 And many false prophets shall rise, and shall deceive many.

Mat 24:12 And because iniquity shall abound, the love of many shall wax cold.

Mat 24:13 But he that shall endure unto the end, the same shall be saved.

The FT write up generously sums up the findings, writing:

While a full explanation of these shifts requires thorough investigation, and there will be many factors at work, smartphones and streaming services seem likely culprits. The advent of ubiquitous and hyper-engaging digital media has led to an explosion in distraction, as well as making it easier than ever to either not make plans in the first place or to abandon them. The sheer convenience of the online world makes real-life commitments feel messy and effortful. And the rise of time spent online and the attendant decline in face-to-face interactions enable behaviours such as “ghosting”.

Other charts in the article reveal that attention deficits are not just at issue: a deeper commitment to a digital world over the real world is also evolving at an alarming rate, as is a sharp decline in trust and extroversion. If you need evidence of this just go to any public park and witness the vast majority of people staring into their phones.

Let me tell you why this isn't just concerning — it's civilizational.

We are living through a revolution bigger than the printing press. That's not hyperbole. When Gutenberg's press arrived in the 15th century, it rewired the world by making knowledge scalable. It took centuries for that transformation to ripple through every corner of human society. The smartphone has done something similar — only it's moving at light speed, and in the opposite direction. In less than 15 years, we've tethered billions of brains to an always-on, infinitely stimulating “meta-world” — a hybrid of the broader digital ecosystem, the AI-powered feed that tells you what is conventionally known, and social media platforms that distort reality by promoting the loudest, most self-promotional sliver of humanity. This is not a tool for quiet reflection; it's a behavioral slot machine that lives in your hand.

And the cost is attention. Not just “I get distracted sometimes” attention, but the deep, sustained focus that conscientiousness requires. The skill of delaying gratification, resisting impulse, and staying the course is being replaced by an addiction to novelty, validation, and stimulation. The more we indulge, the less we can resist indulging — and the chart's freefalling red line for young adults shows exactly where that road leads.

YOUR MESSAGE I always thought there would come a day when I would choose to no longer use the internet. I think that day is fast approaching. Or maybe only for email. Maybe I'll just look for jobs in person or with local newspaper.

To me Google is taking it way too far. They've basically combined Siri or Alexa and their search engine. And, don't most of the search engines use Google search results? To me its like talking to Siri or Alexa, (which I believe their information is demon knowledge, so basically you're connected to Satan or demons, talking and interacting with them). I think the danger is making these AIs or chatbots your gods, depending on it for everything...opinions, getting info on everything your'e seeking, acting like its your best friend, etc. I'm going to do some serious praying/fasting about this...I was on the bus the other day and I noticed 6 of 8 of the people were using their phones the whole time, and they were not even talking. It's like they are already cyborgs if they're connected all the time.
