In years gone by, our forests have birds that stay until first big storms ,, which we haven't had yet. I'm out in woods daily with my dogs and not a single tweet. Our little Mountain Chickadees weren't bountiful starting in spring. We usually have 100s of them in our bushes,, not this year. They are tearing down every available patch of trees , putting up housing. I think the birds, our Elk, coyotes are all staying further away from town, they used to walk in my yard and we just don't have them in all our usual spots. (Comment: Increasing Wi-Fi, Smart Meters, 5G, etc) The animals do know and us sensitive people do as well. Humans are destroying their habitats. It's affecting the humans as well...Each year our monsoon season brings less rain too.. I'm in Evergreen country but many pines are losing needles n dying. It doesn't look like Bark Beetle either,, I don't know what it is ? (Comment: Increasing Chemtrails

Is President Trump really so concerned about the flow of drugs 'poisoning Americans,' when he just pardoned a notorious drug trafficker and warp speeds harmful pharmaceuticals? Words are one thing, actions are another... let's examine the Trump record on the poisonous drugs harming Americans, both legal and illegal--It starts with his chief of staff and all around devil; Susie Wiles
Anyone who still believes the Trump administration's newly scheduled wars in Latin America are in any way related to stopping drugs from killing Americans is not paying attention to the full spectrum of policies coming out of this administration.

Instead of listening to Trump's many bombastic public statements in a vacuum, let's examine the record of his actions.

This administration has an obsession with drugs. Even known harmful drugs have been embraced and promoted by President Trump in his first and second terms.

There is now plenty of evidence that Trump's Operation Warp Speed project, which he placed under the direction of former pharma executive General Gustav Perna and the U.S. military, led to mega-deaths in the United States and the world. Speed came at the cost of any valid clinical trials, with needles entering arms under Emergency Use Authorization with only two months of safety data on the FDA's books. And it paid off in the form of record profits for Pfizer and Moderna... See the link at the top for the rest of this large report.

Some Clarity and How to Purchase on the Anti-Nanotech Devices

What do this anti-nanotech gadgets do?

Their purpose is to disengage any programmed nanoparticles and nano-assembly within your body. But wait... what are nanoparticles and how do they get there?

Nanoparticles are incredibly small (nano-sized) programmable substances, like silica, titanium dioxide, and others. One use for them is in medicine to make a drug more effective, for example, a pain-killing drug can be combined with something like titanium dioxide (TO2). The TO2 is programmed (think computers) to deliver the drug to the part of the body that needs it. Its job is to get it there fully and quickly, making the drug more effective. Sounds great, right?

Well, the problem is that these particles are not just in drugs – they are in many things nowadays, such as food packaging, food itself (especially packaged foods), clothing, pesticides, other air pollutants, and many more. Just take a scroll through Nanowerk.com and you will see how nanotech is used in a myriad of ways now.

When they collect in the body, they then self-assemble into fibres and wires. They interact with radio and microwave frequencies, such as cell phone towers, and when these waves hit your body, the particles, wires, and fibres activate inside you.

<<Image from Rice University's video on self-assembling nanoparticles

Do you wonder why you still can't sleep? This could be it.

Still can't figure out why your legs hurt or your memory is horrible? This could be it.

Take a look at my last blog post to see photos of these fibers and other structures that I and others have seen come out of our bodies and a video from Rice University demonstrating this in the lab.

So now, how do the anti-nano devices work?

They essentially scramble the program and can also break the network of fibres by emitting an electromagnetic pulse (EMP). This is done by placing the device against your body. It's similar to placing a strong magnet onto your credit card. What happens to the credit card?

The program is wiped out – your name and address, the balance, the account number are all erased. The devices do this AND can literally break the fibres, as we have seen these things come out of us in pieces.

Once you use the device on yourself, the next step is to utilize some detoxing methods that will help you flush those broken-up pieces out and to get your system clean again. This is what I teach in my workshop – the methods to putting these things into your routine so that you can once and for all recover from your chronic issues and have your life back again.

Campbell's admission of violating the law came just two months before Garza provided the damaging recording he claimed was Bally to Detroit's Local 4 News, which broadcast portions of it.

In the audio, a speaker identified as the executive is heard saying: 'We have s**t for f***king poor people. Who buys our s**t? I don't buy Campbell's products barely anymore. It's not healthy now that I know what the f**'s in it.'

The speaker also referenced 'bioengineered meat,' and while such products are allowed for sale in the US, companies are required to label them.

Also called cultured, cell-based, or lab-grown meat, it is real animal meat produced by growing animal cells in a controlled environment instead of raising and slaughtering livestock.

The process involves taking a sample of animal cells, cultivating them in a nutrient-rich solution within bioreactors, and then structuring the resulting muscle and fat tissues into a food product.

Outrage builds as 'Franken-milk' made in labs prepares to hit US grocery shelves
A Frankenstein-like milk that comes from lab-grown 'mammalian cell cultures' is just months away from being sold in US grocery stores, but it's already facing fierce resistance.

Dubbed UnReal Milk, the new beverage is not produced by real animals, but comes from large lab tanks called bioreactors that use special animal cells which produce the same proteins, fats, and carbs found in regular cow's milk.

The makers of the milk alternative, Brown Foods, plan to start selling UnReal Milk in US stores in 2026, with public taste tests happening now.

Co-founder of Brown Foods Sohail Gupta even told Forbes: 'Though we are starting with cow milk, using our technology we can produce milk of any mammalian species, including human milk.'

The announcement of a cow's milk that doesn't actually come from cows has been met with skepticism by many on social media, including some calling on lawmakers to outlaw the product before it even goes on sale.

'Ban that crap now,' one person on X wrote.

'I want nothing to do with this "Lab grown garbage" I don't trust these biotech mad men and women!' another person declared.

Tick Tock: It's Only a Matter of Time Before Dangerous Tick-Disease Research Causes a Disaster-If It Hasn't Already

The very first cases of Lyme disease were recorded just miles from the US biological weapons facility at Plum Island, in a place called Old Lyme, Connecticut. At the time, the mid-1970s, scientists at Plum Island were researching—yep, you guessed it—the use of ticks as vectors for biological weapons. That kind of research dates back to the Second World War at least, and it's probable insects were used as weapons in the Korean War; although the US government has always denied it.

And then you have that meat-allergy disease—alpha-gal syndrome, to give it its proper scientific name. Governments, the scientific establishment, NGOs, activists and retarded celebrities are all bombarding us on a daily basis and telling us we have to eat less meat to save the planet; and there's a shady little bioethicist from Princeton who says we should be made allergic to meat so we can't eat it even if we want to: and then, lo and behold, tens of thousands—maybe hundreds of thousands—of Americans are coming down with alpha-gal syndrome and suffering hideous digestive discomfort every time they eat a sausage or a steak. And so they stop eating meat, of course.

In fact, people are now dying of alpha-gal syndrome. Earlier this month, I reported on the tragic case of a Virginia man who ate a hamburger and died within hours. He first experienced symptoms while out camping with his family—they had a steak meal that left him in so much pain he told his son he thought he was going to die—and then two weeks later, at a barbecue, he actually did die. Post-mortem testing showed he had been sensitized to alpha-gal, and his wife confirmed her husband had suffered multiple tick bites over the summer. Alpha-gal syndrome is mainly transmitted by the lone-star tick, so called because it has a mark on its back that looks like a single star.

As I reported over the weekend, a second case of death-by-meat-allergy has now been reported, this time in Australia.

Alpha-gal syndrome (AGS) has been intentionally engineered into the tick population (just like Lyme disease) to stop the consumption of red meat and is a serious, potentially life-threatening allergy to alpha-gal that can develop after a tick bite!

CDC confirms oil of lemon & eucalyptus as effective as DEET According to the CDC, oil of lemon eucalyptus could be a much safer and more natural weapon than DEET.

It's easy to say you'll never use DEET, that is until you come down to South Carolina. My home state boasts mosquitoes that rival your house pet in size and stature. But still, many fear the toxicity of DEET and try to avoid it even with those mini-monsters landing on you noon and night. According to the CDC, oil of lemon eucalyptus could be a much safer and more natural weapon. The CDC confirmed that oil of lemon eucalyptus can be as effective as DEET in repelling mosquitoes, a story reported on Mattermore:

Oil of lemon eucalyptus [active ingredient: p-menthane 3,8-diol (PMD)], a plant-based repellent, is also registered with EPA. In two recent scientific publications, when oil of lemon eucalyptus was tested against mosquitoes found in the US it provided protection similar to repellents with low concentrations of DEET

Mattermore reports that until recently, DEET was the only repellent recommended by the CDC, and approved for individual use by the Environmental Protection Agency

(EPA). Oil of lemon eucalyptus is plant-based repellent oil made from leaves of Eucalyptus citriodora.

Concerns with DEET

The most serious concerns about DEET are with the central nervous system:

Dr. Mohammed Abou-Donia of Duke University studied lab animals' performance of neuro-behavioural tasks requiring muscle coordination. He found that lab animals exposed to the equivalent of average human doses of DEET performed far worse than untreated animals.

Children with DEET toxicity reported lethargy, headaches, tremors, involuntary movements, seizures, and convulsions though the amount that led to this toxicity was unreported, according to the CDC.

Dr. Johnson's Comment: See below for my most current updated information and protocol for Lyme Disease. It is my opinion that if you did all three products listed below you could greatly reduce the amount of Invive Silver that would need to be taken, which would save you a massive amount of money. The Biocidin LSF is expensive at 92.00 a bottle but each bottle has 100 doses and you would only need 2 doses a day, so one bottle would last 50 days.

Mild Silver Protein Therapy: Doctor's Desk Reference

Dosage Guidelines for Lyme Disease:

LYME DISEASE, SYSTEMIC For 120 lb. individual

Invive Mild Silver Protein 5000ppm: 4 tsp. (20 ml) twice a day till asymptomatic

Note: If you think you have been bitten just take the above dosage for a week and then discontinue.

Note: Decrease or increase dosage 5 ml(or 1tsp) for every 30 lbs above or below 120 lbs for each protocol above (in this way you can calculate this for children as well, as the dosage is weight dependent not age dependent). There are 24tsp. in each 5000ppm bottle of Invive. Hold each dose in the mouth for at least 2 minutes before swallowing. You can use something like organic peppermint to kill the taste and brush your teeth after each dose. Adding 20-30 drops of pharma grade DMSO into the 5000ppm silver bottle will also help penetration. If you are a higher body weight you can break the dosages up into like 3-4 doses.

Subject: Lyme disease and Colloidal Silver

Hi Dr. Johnson, I was previously suffering from Lyme disease until I purchased and took Invive's colloidal silver. I have now been symptom free for over a year now and I wanted to thank you for the advice you gave me through email as I was taking it. I have a friend who has been suffering from chronic Lyme's disease. She has been using a Rife machine in addition to antibiotics for treatment. I told her about Invive's colloidal silver so she started taking and has been taking colloidal silver for a couple months per the appropriate protocol while still using the Rife machine. She initially experienced a herxheimer reaction as expected. After the initial symptoms passed she switch to the maintenance dosage of MSP.

She recently experienced another herxheimer reaction. Should she switch back to the initial dosage of MSP? Is there any concern about an extended use of MSP if she continues to have severe reactions for a long extended period of time? Are there any concerns regarding the use of a Rife machine while taking colloidal silver at this time?

Thanks,

Dave A

I would have her follow the protocol listed in the attachment (see above) until she tests negative. If you could forward this email to her that would be great. She may be negative now but the only way to know is to get tested.

No, there is no problem with doing the silver and the rife machine. I used to own one as well.

No unless she is doing a half a bottle a day of the 5000ppm for months on end there is no concern about the silver. See the 2nd attachment.

Half of World’s Muslims Are Inbred Due to Generational Incest--Here’s an explanation for Islamic terrorism that’s never proffered: Insanity and Stupidity. A never-spoken-about problem with Muslims is their inbreeding as a result of their long and deeply-ingrained practice of marrying first cousins — a practice that has been prohibited in the Bible since the days of Moses.

The author of this report points out that cousin marriage was sanctioned by Muhammad and has been going on now for 50 generations (1,400 years) in the Muslim world. This practice of inbreeding will never go away in the Muslim world since Muhammad is the ultimate example and authority on all matters, including marriage.

Sennels warns that massive inbreeding in Muslim culture has done virtually irreversible damage to the Muslim gene pool, including extensive damage to Muslims' intelligence, sanity, and health. (Similar effects were seen in the Pharaonic dynasties in ancient Egypt and in the British royal family, where inbreeding was the norm for a significant period of time.)

Rep. Ilhan Omar's Links to Massive $1 Billion Somali Fraud Scheme Revealed: IS ANYONE SURPRISED? IT'S RUMORED THAT SHE MARRIED HER BROTHER TO STAY IN COUNTRY FOR CRYING OUT LOUD!

Rep. Ilhan Omar (D-MN) has glaring ties to the $1 billion Somali food fraud scam in Minnesota, a report has revealed.

As The Gateway Pundit reported, 70 members of the Somali community in Minnesota were involved in stealing $250 million in COVID funds that were intended to feed children. Millions of dollars were stolen from American taxpayers and sent overseas to Somalia, and 80% of the money has not been recovered.

Seven defendants were tried in connection with the scheme on charges related to stealing more than $40 million in taxpayer funds, and five were found guilty.

However, the FBI is still investigating an attempt by a Somali woman to bribe one of the jurors with $120,000 in cash.

However, the fraud extends deeper, with multiple schemes of this nature occurring over the last five years.

On Monday, employees from the Minnesota Department of Human Services accused far-left Governor Tim Walz of orchestrating a sweeping cover-up to shield the massive fraud ring from detection.

Walz not only ignored early warnings but also actively retaliated against agency employees who sounded the alarm, according to employees.

Now, Omar finds herself in the crosshairs of the scandal. The New York Post published alarming evidence that shows she not only threw parties for one of the restaurants involved in the scheme, but she also personally knew one of its convicted owners.

Moreover, she INTRODUCED legislation that led to a quarter of a billion in fraud.

NYC Mayor & Muslim Zohran Mamdani Vows to Shut Down Pro-Life Pregnancy Centers

Zohran Mamdani is now the Mayor-elect of New York City. During his campaign, he "vowed to 'protect New Yorkers from' pro-life pregnancy centers which he accused of spreading ‘false or deceptive information.’” His threat refers directly to CompassCare. CompassCare runs the only three pro-life medical pregnancy centers in all of New York City. His threat mimics the lawsuit brought by pro-abortion activist Letitia James, New York’s Attorney General, who endorsed Mamdani’s mayoral bid.

Many people are asking how the newly elected, self-avowed, Islamic communist will impact the already battered Christian pro-life medical pregnancy centers like CompassCare. The Christian pro-life pregnancy network is already managing lawsuits with New York State Legislation, lawsuits with New York City ordinances, lawsuits from New York Attorney General Letitia James, Big Tech censorship, and security concerns of a resurgence of pro-abortion violence, emboldened by the revolutionary rhetoric from Marxist politicians in Democrat clothes.

I’ll let you in on a little secret: neither Mamdani nor ostensibly pro-abortion Democrats care about women’s rights or abortion. If they did, they would recognize that abortion is the glove that covers the fingerprints of sex trafficking syndicates in NYC and that abortion increases a woman’s risk of breast cancer by 44%, future preterm deliveries by 52%, and carries a 5X increased risk of suicide. They care about what abortion gives them. Ginning up the masses around women’s rights propaganda is emotional manipulation serving only to gain public support to dismantle the rule of law under color of law.

Protecting a government-fabricated right to abortion ultimately conflicts with the unalienable right to life for a baby or the freedoms outlined in the 1st, 5th, and 14th Amendments. This legal deconstruction paves the way to place more power in the hands of a few who seek to enslave a tunnel-vision population intent on satisfying their sexual appetites; which is totally Satanic and pure evil!
