Ephesians 5:11, 13-16: "And have no fellowship with the unfruitful works of darkness, but rather reprove them. But all things that are reprov'd are made manifest by the light: for whatsoever doth make manifest is light. Wherefore he saith, Awake thou that sleepest, and arise from the dead, and Christ shall give thee light. See then that ye walk circumspectly, not as fools, but as wise, Redeeming the time, because the days are evil."

The 1828 Noah Webster Dictionary defines:

Reprove: To blame, to convince of a fault, or to make it manifest, to excite a sense of guilt.

Circumspectly: Cautiously; with watchfulness every way; with attention to guard against surprise or danger.

Matthew 24:24: "...if it were possible, they shall deceive the very elect."

II Corinthians 2:11: "Lest Satan should get an advantage of us: for we are not ignorant of his devices."

II Chronicles 7:14: "If my people, which are called by my name, shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin, and will heal their land."

I John 4:18: "There is no fear in love; but perfect love casteth out fear: because fear hath torment. He that feareth is not made perfect in love."

Heb 13:6: "So that we may boldly say, The Lord is my helper, and I will not fear what man shall do unto me."

II Timothy 1:7: "For God hath not given us the spirit of fear; but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind."

Egypt's Internet Kill Switch: Coming To America

Infowars.com--January 28, 2011

In response to widespread protests and mass unrest, the authoritarian Egyptian government has completely shut down the country's access to the internet, eliminating the use of social networking websites, other effective tools of communication and organization, and effectively sealing Egypt off from the rest of the world.

Internet intelligence authority Renesys has confirmed that "virtually all of Egypt's Internet addresses are now unreachable, worldwide."

"Approximately 3,500 individual BGP routes were withdrawn, leaving no valid paths by which the rest of the world could continue to exchange Internet traffic with Egypt's service providers." Renesys' analysis states.

Vodafone said in an emailed statement: "All mobile operators in Egypt have been instructed to suspend services in selected areas. Under Egyptian legislation, the authorities have the right to issue such an order and we are obliged to comply."

Prior to the complete shut down, tweets and live mobile phone feeds from the Egyptian protests in Suez and Cairo were providing up to the minute coverage. Links to photos on Twitpic, videos on YouTube and postings on Facebook were aiding protesters organize their movements.

As The Electronic Freedom Foundation notes, "When protestors in Cairo's Tahir Square experienced an outage in cell phone data service, nearby residents reportedly opened their home Wi-Fi networks to allow protesters to get online."

The Egyptian authorities could not stand for this. Following the revelation of Associated Press footage showing a protester being shot dead in the street, as a result an apparent Internet kill switch was thrown. Qatar-based Al-Jazeera channel put the death toll at 150 and said that 4,000 people had been injured since the unprecedented mass protests against Mubarak's autocratic regime began on Tuesday.

The action is unprecedented in Internet history. It is clearly the action of a desperate tyrannical government on its last legs.

Egyptian President Hosni Mubarak's government is also reportedly arresting bloggers, attacking journalists, and rounding up anyone else the regime sees as dissidents.

Still, the Obama administration, which currently funnels $1.3 billion in military aid to the Egyptian government per year, refuses to condemn the Mubarak regime, and further more, is looking to embrace the exact same internet control mechanism in America. Indeed, when Senator Joe Lieberman attempted to justify draconian legislation that would provide President Obama with a figurative kill switch to shut down parts of the Internet indefinitely, he cited the Communist Chinese system of Internet policing as model which America should move towards.

“Right now China, the government, can disconnect parts of its Internet in case of war and we need to have that here too,” Lieberman told CNN’s Candy Crowley last June.

Of course, the Chinese government routinely shuts down the already heavily filtered internet at any politically sensitive time, not only “in case of war” as Lieberman claims.

Furthermore, Twitter, Facebook and Youtube are all permanently banned.

News websites in China now require users to register their true identities in order to leave comments, so that any dissident can be tracked and appropriately dealt with. A truly frightening Orwellian reality you may think, yet this exact move towards abolishing Internet anonymity and creating a virtual ID card is a key centerpiece of the US government’s cybersecurity agenda.

The ‘Protecting Cyberspace as a National Asset Act’ (PCNAA), which now includes a removal of all judicial oversight, is still circulating and will be voted on later this year.

Lieberman has stated that the legislation should be made a top priority.

The recent actions of the Egyptian government in the face of widespread public backlash, and the ongoing stifling of the free flow of information in China should provide a stark warning to Americans that such Internet control mechanisms are the tools of oppressive authoritarian governments and have no place in a free society.

Are You Ready For The Universal Internet ID That Barack Obama Wants To Impose On All Of Us?

The Obama administration is developing a "universal Internet ID" program that would watch, track, monitor and potentially control your activity on the Internet. These "trusted identities" are being touted as a way to increase safety and security on the Internet and as a way to eliminate the need for dozens of different usernames and passwords.

Right now, Obama administration officials are trying to make it seem as non-threatening as possible. They are insisting that it will not be mandatory. They are insisting that it would be impossible for hackers to steal the universal Internet identities. They are insisting that none of our personal information will be gathered or used by federal agencies. But in light of how regularly the government has abused our liberties and freedoms in recent years in the name of "security", should we really believe what they are saying about this new universal Internet ID?

Perhaps to assuage concerns about "Big Brother", the Obama administration is proposing that the U.S. Commerce Department be the one to oversee these new universal Internet identities.

But how long do you think it would take for the Department of Homeland Security (along with several dozen other government agencies) to get involved in "administering" these "trusted identities"?

The potential for government abuse of such a system is absolutely staggering. As we have seen so many times over the past few years, when you give government bureaucrats an inch, often they end up taking several miles.

So what are some of the other potential problems of such a system?

Well, by creating a "master key" to the Internet for each and every individual, if it is lost or stolen you could literally lose everything you have worked so hard for in a single day. Imagine what could happen if a very evil hacker gained instant access to your bank account, your credit cards, your Paypal account, your email, your Facebook account, your Twitter account, your Ebay account, your Amazon account, your blogs, your websites and everything else of importance on the Internet that belongs to you.

Just imagine the damage that could be done.

In addition, it would only be a matter of time before this universal Internet ID becomes "a de facto national ID".

In fact, it is not hard to imagine that "in the name of security" Americans would soon be required to link the universal Internet ID to biometric information or even link it to a microchip implant of some sort.

Of course this new program is going to "start out as voluntary", but how many times before has the government introduced "voluntary" programs that later became mandatory?

Once this universal Internet ID is implemented, it is only going to be a matter of time until many different federal agencies and a significant percentage of large corporations begin demanding that people start using it. Eventually it would become extremely difficult to function on the Internet without one. Once that point arrives, it would only be a very small step to make it mandatory for everyone.

WASHINGTON -- Chinese-born pianist Lang Lang gave a musical shout out to America-hating patriots in his homeland when he played at the White House state dinner last week.

During his performance, Lang tinkled the ivories with the famous anti-American propaganda tune "My Motherland" -- the theme song from the Chinese-made Korean War movie "Battle on Shangangling Mountain."

Chinese President Hu, the guest of honor at the dinner, surely recognized the melody. The song has been a favorite anti-American propaganda tool for decades.

Lang apparently knew exactly what he was playing.

'I think playing the tune at the White House banquet can help us, as Chinese people, feel extremely proud.' - said Pianist Lang Lang

A White House spokesman declined to comment on the song selection, instead directing questions about Lang's performance to the National Security Council staff, which was not available to comment.

The 1956 film "Battle on Shangangling Mountain" depicts Chinese troops pinned down under enemy fire on the mountain. Then reinforcements arrive and the troops attack the US soldiers, whom the Chinese refer to as "jackals." The song Lang played in front of Hu and President Obama includes the verse: "When friends are here, there is fine wine/But if the jackal comes/What greets it is the hunting rifle."

Lang, who performed for the state-dinner music program that the White House billed as "quintessentially American," was more blunt in a blog. "Playing this song praising China to heads of state from around the world seems to tell them that our China is formidable, that our Chinese people are united; I feel deeply honored and proud," Lang wrote, according to a report by Epoch Times.

The anti-US musical interlude at the White House touched off some patriotic chest-thumping on Chinese blogs. "Those American folks very much enjoyed it and were totally infatuated with the melody!!! The US is truly stupid!!!" wrote one blogger.

Welcome To 1984: Your Papers, Please

January 20, 2011 by John Pugsley

Driving from California to East Texas, my daughter and grandson were 90 miles into the Lone Star state when traffic was stopped at a road block just outside the little town of Sierra Blanca.

Drug-sniffing dogs worked down the line of cars. Under treatment for a medical condition for which her California doctor prescribed medical marijuana, my daughter had a small amount in her luggage in the trunk. The dogs immediately sniffed it. She showed the police her medical authorization, but California law didn't apply in Texas. She and my grandson were arrested, taken to jail and put into a holding tank with a dozen or more men and women who had been arrested for the same crime.

A few days later, singer Willie Nelson was arrested at that same checkpoint. My daughter was fined $550. Perhaps Willie got off just signing a few autographs.

A short time later my grandson and I drove back to California. A dozen or so miles after crossing into California, we were suddenly funneled into another roadblock... only this time it was manned by half a dozen armed Border Patrol agents.

We were asked to state our citizenship, and then carefully scrutinized by an unsmiling officer who finally waved us through.

An even more sobering surprise awaited us...

We were stopped at a second roadblock 20 miles later... and yet again 15 miles after that. Three roadblocks between the California border and San Diego!

Never in six decades of driving in the United States had I ever experienced being stopped at even one checkpoint. My only prior experience was in Nicaragua in 1956 when that country was under the strong-arm dictatorial rule. Every few kilometers my companions and I were stopped by armed soldiers, questioned and required to show passports. We were all grateful to be from the "land of the free," where such things couldn't happen...

The rise of checkpoints in America, as well as the indignities we suffer at the hands of airport Transportation Security Administration agents, is merely outward evidence of a much deeper net being cast around individual liberty.

According to a recent Washington Post investigative report, "Top Secret America," a web of 3,984 Federal, state and local law enforcement agencies, complete with technologies used on the battlefields of Iraq and Afghanistan, has been developed by the FBI. The process is constructing a database with the names and personal information of thousands of U.S. citizens and residents whom any local police officer or a fellow citizen might believe to be acting suspiciously.

Department of Homeland Security Secretary Janet Napolitano, who as Governor of Arizona built one of the strongest state intelligence organizations to supposedly stop illegal immigration and drug importation, has launched a "See Something, Say Something" campaign to encourage citizens to become informants. It started with traffic signs asking drivers entering the nation's capital for "Terror Tips" and to "Report Suspicious Activity." Recently, she called on Walmart, Amtrak, major sports leagues, hotel chains and metro riders to join the surveillance network, admitting that, "This represents a shift for our country."

One can't help but reflect on George Orwell's dystopian novel, 1984. Published in 1949, it is a nightmarish depiction of what life could be like if the repressive nature of government was extrapolated from those post-World War days into the future. Orwell's prescience is unnerving.

Cognitive scientist Steven Pinker tallied the similarities between Orwell's novel and today's world in his 2003 book, The Blank Slate. The elements of that Orwellian nightmare are either proposed or already here. Government euphemisms... national identity cards... surveillance cameras on streets and in shopping malls, and drones... satellites in the sky... personal data on the Internet... endless wars with shifting enemies... dossiers in government databanks... and ever-increasing controls on the actions and statements of individual citizens.

From checkpoints and electronic strip searches at airports... to your banker being forced to report suspicious deposits to being locked up for not disclosing all of your assets to the IRS... the signs are clear: 1984 is here. Whether it's a War on Drugs, Illegal Immigration, or Terrorist... it is all a war on individual sovereignty.

Winston Smith, the protagonist in Orwell's novel, rebels against Big Brother. His fate is arrest and torture. O'Brien, a member of the Inner Party and the person in charge of torturing and converting Smith back into a docile slave, tells Smith about the future: "If you want a picture of the future, imagine a boot stamping on a human face — forever."

Winston, tortured and barely able to speak, replies: "You could not create such a world... it is impossible to found a civilization based fear and hatred and cruelty... there is something in the universe, some principle, some spirit that you will never overcome."

As the novel ends, Winston Smith has given up hope in such a principle. "Everything was all right, the struggle was finished. He had won the victory over himself. He loved Big Brother."

There are many today who have found their own peace through a love of Big Brother. For those of us who believe in sovereignty, the spirit Smith believed in is still real. Individual sovereignty is the antithesis of a totalitarian world of surveillance, roadblocks and Newspeak. There is a principle, a spirit that can't be overcome, and that is the determination to live free... I hope it survives.

Hi! I'm trying to get the message out about a new video called "Lord, Save Us From Your Followers". I saw this documentary last night on TBN. It is bashing all Christians who preach righteousness. This film portrays all of us as haters and racists. It even calls homosexuals our brothers and sisters. It was shocking! It pushes us toward a one world system. All the stores across the country will be promoting and selling it.

God bless,
Michelle Hyder

Dan Merchant is the author of a new book titled "Lord Save Us From Your Followers". Merchant's book, published by Thomas Nelson, is similar in nature to Dan Kimball's "They Like Jesus But Not the Church". The message in Merchant's book is basically that since the world doesn't like Christians, it must be the fault of Christians who spend too much time "preaching" the Gospel as opposed to just listening and befriending unbelievers without trying to convert them. The subtitle on Merchant's book is "Why is the Gospel of Love Dividing America?" suggesting that a "true" gospel message would not be dividing but rather uniting people.

Luke 12:51-53: Jesus Said: "Suppose ye that I am come to give peace on earth? I tell you, Nay; but rather division: For from henceforth there shall be five in one house divided, three against two, and two against three. The father shall be divided against the son, and the son against the father; the mother against the daughter, and the daughter against the mother; the mother in law against her daughter in law, and the daughter in law against her mother in law."

John 15:18 ¶ If the world hate you, ye know that it hated me before it hated you.

John 15:19 If ye were of the world, the world would love his own: but because ye are not of the world, but I have chosen you out of the world, therefore the world hateth you.

John 15:20 Remember the word that I said unto you, The servant is not greater than his lord. If they have persecuted me, they will also persecute you;

Review:

In LORD, SAVE US FROM YOUR FOLLOWERS, filmmaker Dan Merchant travels the country in a white jumpsuit covered with contradictory bumper stickers to elicit people's feelings about Jesus, the Church and Christians.

Dan interviews apostate Tony Campolo, who quotes Augustine, "The Church is a whore but she's my mother." Then, for a long period of time, he reviles evangelicals for taking moral stands on issues such as abortion and homosexuality.

Merchant finally ends up in a confession booth at a homosexual fair where he apologizes to homosexuals for how horribly the Church has treated them, then apologizes for all the alleged sins of the Church as well as his own sins.

Dan clearly believes in a Gospel of love, and he clearly wants to talk with these people about Jesus. He doesn't seem to be concerned with whether the homosexuals accept Christ but only is concerned that they know he loves them and that Jesus loves them. What Dan has done, regrettably, is develop his own false gospel taking both himself and all his followers ultimately into hell and the Lake of Fire.

Beatification Will See Pope's Blood Built Into Altar

Beatification is a recognition accorded by the Catholic Church of a dead person's entrance into Heaven and capacity to intercede on behalf of individuals who pray in his or her name (intercession of saints). Beatification is the third of the four steps in the canonization process. A person who is beatified is given the title "Blessed".

Canonization is the act by which the Catholic Church or another religious group declares a deceased person to be a saint and is included in the canon, or list, of recognized saints. Originally, individuals were recognized as saints without any formal process

788 AD The worship of relics and images established by the Roman Catholic Church.

2nd Commandment: (Exo 20:4-5 KJV) Thou shalt not make unto thee any graven image, or any likeness of any thing that is in heaven above, or that is in the earth beneath, or that is in the water under the earth: {5} Thou shalt not bow down thyself to them, nor serve them: for I the LORD thy God am a jealous God, visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children unto the third and fourth generation of them that hate me;

Comparison of the Catholic 10 Commandments vs. the Biblical 10 Commandments

	Catholic	King James Bible
1	I am the Lord your God: you shall not have strange Gods before me.	I am the Lord thy God which brought thee out of the land of Egypt. Thou shalt have no other gods before Me.
2	You shall not take the name of the Lord your God in Vain.	Thou shalt not make unto thee any graven image.
3	Remember to keep holy the Lord's Day.	Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain.
4	Honor your father and your mother.	Remember the Sabbath Day.
5	You shall not kill.	Honor thy father and mother.
6	You shall not commit adultery.	Thou shalt not kill.
7	You shall not steal.	Thou shalt not commit adultery.
8	You shall not bear false witness against your neighbor.	Thou shalt not steal.
9	You shall not covet your neighbor's wife.	Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor.
10	You shall not covet your Neighbor's goods.	Thou shalt not covet thy neighbour's house, thou shalt not covet thy neighbour's wife, nor his manservant, nor his maidservant, nor his ox, nor his ass, nor any thing that is thy neighbour's.

The Catholic Church removed the 2nd commandment simply because it is common practice to BOW DOWN before graven images in ALL Catholic churches; images that are also big business for the Catholic Church. So what they did to compensate for taking out the second commandment is split the tenth commandment to make their 9th and 10th commandments. (See highlighted commandments)

Not By Repentance Of Sins

"Sirs, what must I do to be saved?
And they said, Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved..." Acts 16:30-31 KJV

Former pope John Paul II will be beatified before a vial of his blood is encased in crystal and installed into an altar in Poland. The blood is a six-year-old remnant of vials taken from the late pope shortly before his death. It was saved by Cardinal Stanislaw, friend and secretary of John Paul II, who recently made the suggestion to treat the vital fluid as a holy relic.

BASIC Roman Catholic BELIEFs

Relics are the remains of holy persons (parts of their bodies or possessions), entitled to veneration. Regarding Relics of Mary, parts of her body) were venerated as relics until about the 11th century. After that theories about her bodily Assumption crowded out any thought of her having left bodily relics behind.

According to the belief of Christians of the Roman Catholic Church, the Eastern Catholic Churches, Eastern Orthodoxy, Oriental Orthodoxy, and parts of the Anglican Communion and Continuing Anglicanism, the Assumption of Mary was the bodily taking up of the Virgin Mary into Heaven at the end of her life. The Roman Catholic Church teaches as dogma that the Virgin Mary "having completed the course of her earthly life, was assumed body and soul into heavenly glory."<sup>[1]</sup> This doctrine was dogmatically and infallibly defined by Pope Pius XII on November 1, 1950...In the churches which observe it, the Assumption is a major feast day, commonly celebrated on August 15. In many countries it is a Catholic Holy Day of Obligation Every Roman Catholic altar contains two relics of martyred saints. This is because Mass was supposed to have been celebrated over the tombs of martyrs by around the 4th century. Relics fall into three classes. First-class relics are parts of a saint's body or an object used by a saint, such as a cross. Second-class relics are anything a saint used during his or her life time, such as clothing. Third-class relics are objects that have touched the saint's remains, like a piece of cloth. Traditional commentators usually held that relics can be miraculously multiplied, i.e., there could be several heads of a particular saint. (EXTERNALS OF THE CATHOLIC CHURCH, Msgr. Sullivan, p. 223).

Churches Loan Buildings to Muslims for Worship

<http://www.cbn.com/>

Some American churches have taken a controversial step to reach out to their Muslim neighbors. At least two congregations received national attention recently after they opened their doors to local Muslims, letting them use their church buildings to hold Muslim worship services.

Dr. Carlos Campo, president of Regent University, sorted through the implications of sharing worship space and discussed the best ways to display Christian outreach, on CBN News Channel Morning program, Jan. 24.

Muslims made major headlines last year when they tried to build a mosque near Ground Zero, the site of the Sept. 11 terror attacks in New York City, and a mega-mosque in the heart of the Bible belt in Murfreesboro, Tenn.

In Alexandria, Va., a local Islamic center decided to build its own mosque. In the meantime, it asked the Aldersgate Methodist Church if it could use its building for Friday prayers. "I feel like we are embodying Christianity by being welcoming," said Diane Bechtol, a member of Aldersgate Methodist.

II Corinthians 6:14 + 17: "Be ye not unequally yoked together with unbelievers...Wherefore come out from among them, and be ye separate, saith the Lord, and touch not the unclean thing; and I will receive you"

Bechtol said she does not think sharing worship space compromises her faith.

Comment: So I guess the mass witchcraft (of praying to their Moon God Allah) now being performed right in their own church could have no negative spiritual impact on their congregation.

"Jesus called us to give hospitality to strangers. To feed the poor and help the sick and this is walking the walk," she added. Comment: Enabling and aiding pagan witchcraft worship services is not to be equated with "giving hospitality to strangers, feeding the poor and helping the sick". It is the exact opposite. It reminds me of: I Corinthians 5 "It is reported commonly that there is fornication among you, and such fornication as is not so much as named among the Gentiles, that one should have his father's wife. And ye are puffed up, and have not rather mourned, that he that hath done this deed might be taken away from among you....Your glorying is not good. Know ye not that a little leaven leaveneth the whole lump? Purge out therefore the old leaven, that ye may be a new lump, as ye are unleavened.

In Cordova, Tenn., outside of Memphis, the Heartsong Church received a similar request. Pastor Steve Stone said loaning out their worship space to Muslim neighbors is a great way to share the gospel.

However, not everyone agrees that this is a biblical means of outreach.

"It is not self-evident that this duty to love your neighbor requires us to provide property for false worship," said Jason B. Hood, a writer for Christianity Today.

Hood also pointed out that supposed good works should not lead other believers to stumble.

Christians across the country may be forced to debate and decide these questions sooner rather than later -- as more Muslim communities continue to grow and expand.

Are you eating food sacrificed to idols?

When you bite into a delicious pizza, succulent sandwich or luscious lamb chops, are you possibly eating food that has been sacrificed to idols?

An outspoken American pastor says yes, and he's sounding the alarm for Christians to be aware of the Islamic influence he calls "backdoor Shariah" now nibbling its way across the fruited plain.

January 22 is the anniversary of Roe v. Wade Holocaust

Today is one of the most horrible and terrible days in the USA and in all of history. It is worse than WW I, WW II, all the wars, the holocaust, and has been responsible for more dead Americans than all the wars we have ever been involved in combined. It is worse than slavery ever was. It is more terrible than Hitler and all the tyrants combined.

Whatever else you do today, you should know that today, January 22, is the anniversary of Roe v. Wade, the day in 1973 that the US Supreme Court made murder legal in the USA. Any woman, for any reason can murder her unborn child with the government's blessing! 50 million babies have been murdered by abortionists throughout the USA since 1973.

Recently an abortionist in Philadelphia was arrested for murdering babies born alive in botched abortions and then he murdered them by snipping their spinal cords with scissors.

THE MAYANS, 2012 PROPHECY'S AND DARK gods OF HUMAN SACRIFICE

Here is a current testimony of a listener of the radio broadcast Shatter the Darkness live. He has just returned from the Mayan temple/ruins

"Russ,

I just wanted to update you on my trip to Mexico. We just got back home about two hours ago. The time my wife and I spent at Chichen Itza was both awesome and disturbing. Our guide who is of Mayan descent gave us detailed explanations of all the sites we visited. He described the meaning of all the different stone carvings on the various temples, and what the mind set, and beliefs of the people was who built them.

It was amazing how their beliefs lined right up with the "new" age movement. Serpent worship was represented on every building, and almost every site was dedicated to ritual human sacrifice. He told us that many of the Mayans and others believed that Kukulcan for the Maya or Quetzalcoatl in the Aztec belief was really Jesus. On a church he showed us where carved serpent heads had been taken from a Mayan site and used to build the church. He told use that the first Catholic priests told the people that their gods where the same as the christian Gods in order to get the people to convert. The whole area felt so heavy with darkness it was almost unbearable, and it was so sad to know that so many had willingly given their life for false gods. I tried to be polite to our guide and most of the time I prayed with my eyes opened silently so as not to make a show of what I was doing. One the last sites we visited was Cenote Sagrado it was a place where virgin girls washed in a ritual steam bath and then willingly threw themselves into the water to drown. At that place my wife and I were able to go to a place alone and fervently pray that the shed blood of Christ Jesus of Nazareth would cover all the evil deeds, deceptions, and bind any evil presence. Russ I can tell you that the power of Jesus is awesome! After we prayed we felt all the heavy darkness leave the air and lift off of us.... God bless you and your family ....Paul"

Spiritual Warfare Prayer Guidelines

Father God in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ I come before you in prayer and ask that you would cleanse and forgive me of all iniquity, sin and transgressions that I am guilty of before you in any, way, shape or form as I forgive those that have sinned against me.

Psalm 19:12-14 ...cleanse thou me from secret faults. Keep back thy servant also from presumptuous sins; let them not have dominion over me: then shall I be upright, and I shall be innocent from the great transgression. Let the words of my mouth, and the meditation of my heart, be acceptable in thy sight, O LORD, my strength, and my redeemer.

Ephesians 6:10-17: "Finally, my brethren, be strong in the Lord, and in the power of his might. Put on the whole armour of God that ye may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil. For we wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this world, against spiritual wickedness in high places. Wherefore take unto you the whole armour of God that ye may be able to withstand in the evil day, and having done all, to stand. Stand therefore, having your loins girt about with truth, and having on the breastplate of righteousness; And your feet shod with the preparation of the gospel of peace; Above all, taking the shield of faith, wherewith ye shall be able to quench all the fiery darts of the wicked. And take the helmet of salvation, and the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God:

Jeremiah 23:29: "Is not my word like as a fire? saith the LORD; and like a hammer that breaketh the rock in pieces?

Hebrews 4:12: "For the word of God is quick, and powerful, and sharper than any twoedged sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit, and of the joints and marrow, and is a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart."

Psalm 100:1-5: Make a joyful noise unto the LORD, all ye lands. Serve the LORD with gladness: come before his presence with singing. Know ye that the LORD he is God: it is he that hath made us, and not we ourselves; we are his people, and the sheep of his pasture. Enter into his gates with thanksgiving, and into his courts with praise: be thankful unto him, and bless his name. For the LORD is good; his mercy is everlasting; and his truth endureth to all generations.

Praise and worship be to the Lord Jesus Christ, the God of all created beings. For by Him; the salvation, and the power, and the Kingdom of our God and the authority of His Christ have come.

As a Christian, I now give testimony to the authority of the Lord Jesus Christ, the Messiah, the Holy One of Israel over this place (known as) _____. As a 'Born Again', saved Christian I bind & rebuke (through the Blood of the Lord Jesus Christ & the power of the Holy Spirit) any and all wicked spiritual forces of evil, including all demons, fallen angels, rulers, princes, principalities, authorities and cosmic powers of this Dark Age who are not of the true Lord Jesus Christ as He sees and numbers them in this place; & if it be the Lord's will that they be cast into the abyss until it is their time to be cast into the lake of fire for eternity & that no more evil entities will be able to come to take their place.

By the power of the Lord Jesus Christ, all forces of evil within this place are now bound, rebuked & silenced from any and all communication, interplay or interaction between themselves or any other forces of evil.

Matthew 16:19 says: “ And I will give unto thee the keys of the kingdom of heaven: and whatsoever thou shalt bind on earth shall be bound in heaven: and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven.”

I loose the Holy forces of the Lord Jesus Christ by the Blood of the Lamb, by the power of the Holy Spirit and by the Sword of the Spirit which is the Word of God. In the name of the Lord Jesus Christ I bind & rebuke any & all evil entities coming against anyone in the process of gathering here and/or against any member of their families and/or properties. I now rebuke & repel any counter-attack launched after this gathering in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ.

In the name of the Lord Jesus Christ, I now bind & rebuke any darkness brought into this place of gathering by those who gather. Such darkness is now rendered utterly powerless by the Blood of Christ Jesus, the Light of the world, and cannot communicate, interact or interplay with themselves or any other evil forces. Nor can they influence, harm or inhibit any of those who gather here.

I now seal this place by the Blood of the Lamb shed on the cross of Calvary. I invite with thanksgiving, the full and manifest presence of the Holy Spirit of God to come and dwell here with all wisdom and knowledge for the glory of God through His Son Jesus Christ, the Holy One of Israel.

In the Name of Christ Jesus, I bind & rebuke any manifestations during or after these proceedings which are not in our Lord Jesus Christ's perfect will.

I pray in the name of the Heavenly Father, In Your Loving-kindness that the Comforter (the Holy Spirit) would bring all things to our remembrance which He would have us deal with at this time and we thank You for it. I submit totally unto the Will of the Holy Father & the Son, and praise You for Your manifest presence, power and protection of Your children here today, in Jesus' mighty Name and for His sake.

Leviticus 25:23&24: "The land shall not be sold for ever: for the land is mine; for ye are strangers and sojourners with me. And in all the land of your possession ye shall grant a redemption for the land."

Psalm 24:1,2,7-10: "The earth is the LORD'S, and the fulness thereof; the world, and they that dwell therein. For he hath founded it upon the seas, and established it upon the floods.. Lift up your heads, O ye gates; and be ye lift up, ye everlasting doors; and the King of glory shall come in. Who is this King of glory? The LORD strong and mighty, the LORD mighty in battle. Lift up your heads, O ye gates; even lift them up, ye everlasting doors; and the King of glory shall come in. Who is this King of glory? The LORD of hosts, he is the King of glory. Selah."

Deut. 21:8: Be merciful, O LORD, unto thy people Israel, whom thou hast redeemed, and lay not innocent blood unto thy people of Israel's charge. And the blood shall be forgiven them.

Be merciful, O LORD, unto thy people, whom thou hast redeemed by the blood of Jesus Christ, and lay not innocent blood unto thy people's charge. And the blood shall be forgiven them.

Be merciful, O LORD, unto the unsaved, who need to be redeemed by the blood of Jesus Christ, and lay not innocent blood unto this people's charge.

Psalm 106:37-38 declares: "Yea, they sacrificed their sons and their daughters unto devils, And shed innocent blood, even the blood of their sons and of their daughters, whom they sacrificed unto the idols of Canaan: and the land was polluted with blood.

Numbers 35:33,34."So you shall not pollute the land where you are; for blood defiles the land... Therefore do not defile the land which you inhabit, in the midst of which I dwell..."

John 20:21-23" "Then said Jesus to them again, Peace be unto you: as my Father hath sent me, even so send I you. And when he had said this, he breathed on them, and saith unto them, Receive ye the Holy Ghost: Whose soever sins ye remit, they are remitted unto them; and whose soever sins ye retain, they are retained."

In the name of the Lord Jesus Christ, through of the shed blood of Jesus Christ I remit the sins that were committed over this land, the sins of shedding of innocent blood, sufferings, murders, whoredoms, sorcery, witchcraft, etc. and all abominations that were committed here.

Prayer For Unsaved or Backslidden Christian

In the name of the Lord Jesus Christ by the power of His shed Blood, the Holy Spirit, the Sword of the Spirit and his Holy angelic host, I expose all enemies of the Lord Jesus Christ operating against _____. I sever you from Satan and any power above or below you. I remove your right to afflict _____ and I proclaim your judgment. I weaken, rebuke and bind you through the shed Blood of Jesus Christ. I loose legions and legions of Holy angels to go forth to battle for _____ to bring her/him to repentance. I plead the Blood of Jesus Christ over _____. In the name of the Lord Jesus Christ, through the shed blood of Jesus Christ, in accordance with John 20:23, I remit the sins of _____. By the authority of the true Lord Jesus Christ, I bind all strongmen, evil spirits and evil entities together that are assigned to _____, and I command you to go where the Lord Jesus Christ tells you to go by the voice of His Holy Spirit; in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ. Amen!

Popularity of vampires spawns subculture, scholar says

By Laura Zuckerman— Sat Jan 22

SALMON, Idaho (Reuters) – They work as doctors and lawyers by day but lurk as vampires by night. While they may not wish to suck your blood, there are plenty of willing victims on tap, says the nation's top scholar on a subculture that emulates the undead.

Idaho State University sociologist D.J. Williams, newly hired as a consultant for a proposed television documentary about "self-identified vampires," said true modern acolytes of Dracula seek consensual blood-sharing relationships.

The popular fascination with vampires dates back to the 1897 publication of Bram Stoker's "Dracula", and later books such as Anne Rice's "The Vampire Chronicles." But it exploded in recent years with the best-selling "Twilight" series of novels by Stephenie Meyer and movie adaptations. The seductive vampire character Edward Cullen in the movie, played by actor Robert Pattinson, became a teen idol and made vampires cool.

Vampire mania has spawned an international subculture that strongly relates to traits associated with mythical vampires. They are believed to be seductive beings unafraid to explore the dark side of human nature that is usually masked for the sake of social acceptance.

What separates vampires from mere vampire wannabes -- is an internal lack of energy that makes them seek energy from external sources in this case from the blood of a willing (or unwilling) donor.

"They call it feeding," said Williams, who also moonlights as an FBI consultant for investigations involving violent criminals who are claiming to be vampires.

Williams says self-identified vampires seek significant others with an abundance of energy willing to allow them to suck blood from a small incision made high up on the chest by a scalpel.

"Quite often, they are in a relationship with a donor, where one person has energy blockages and the partner has excess energy; it's a perfect, symbiotic relationship," he said.

The arrangement is legal because it is struck between two consenting adults and aims to have no ill effect, said Williams.

He is pioneering the study of such alternative lifestyles. It took years for the scholar in forensic social work, criminal justice and leisure sciences to gain the trust of self-identifying vampires, whom he says are widely misunderstood.

"The negative discourse out there about blood and the transmission of infectious diseases just drives them underground," said Williams, who advises vampire acquaintances to abide by safe blood-drinking practices like having donors tested for HIV and other ailments transmitted by blood.

And with American serial killers such as Jeffrey Dahmer, who killed 17 young men and boys in a frenzy of necrophilia and cannibalism between 1978 and 1991, billing himself as a vampire, what's a law-abiding vampire to do?

"The vampire community would argue that Jeffrey Dahmer and others aren't real vampires, they're murderous criminals," Williams said. "Those high-profile cases damage the image of self-identified vampires."

Vampire myths span the centuries, with some pinned to real-life figures like Vlad the Impaler, a 15th-century Romanian noble known for the fearsome punishment he inflicted on enemies.

A recent UCLA study ranked vampires as the most admired of monsters.

Psalm 12:8 The wicked walk on every side, when the vilest men are exalted.

Isaiah 5:20 Woe unto them that call evil good, and good evil;

Surveys circulating among vampires ask questions about their energy level, whether they heal quickly from wounds and whether blood bothers them.

Williams said virtually every age, race, religion and profession is represented in the subculture, which is strongest in urban areas.

"They see themselves as normal, regular people in normal regular jobs: they are teachers, lawyers, accountants, they may be parents," he said. "They have normal lives but there is this aspect to needing to take energy from time to time and in certain ways." (Editing by Steve Gorman and Greg McCune)
