Ephesians 5:11, 13-16: "And have no fellowship with the unfruitful works of darkness, but rather reprove them. But all things that are reprov'd are made manifest by the light: for whatsoever doth make manifest is light. Wherefore he saith, Awake thou that sleepest, and arise from the dead, and Christ shall give thee light. See then that ye walk circumspectly, not as fools, but as wise, Redeeming the time, because the days are evil."

The 1828 Noah Webster Dictionary defines:

Reprove: To blame, to convince of a fault, or to make it manifest, to excite a sense of guilt.

Circumspectly: Cautiously; with watchfulness every way; with attention to guard against surprise or danger.

Matthew 24:24: "...if it were possible, they shall deceive the very elect."

II Corinthians 2:11: "Lest Satan should get an advantage of us: for we are not ignorant of his devices."

II Chronicles 7:14: "If my people, which are called by my name, shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin, and will heal their land."

Working for ICE 'is h* right now,' as Obama plans amnesty for illegals

Morale among officers at Immigration and Customs Enforcement, already low, has reached a new bottom as illegal immigrants expecting amnesty from President Obama taunt and ridicule the overworked officers, according to a new report.

"Yes," said one, "working for this agency is h* right now."

That was the latest message to immigration policy critic Jessica M. Vaughan, director of policy studies for the Center for Immigration Studies. She has charted the woes of the officers who carry out the president's orders.

In a new paper, she wrote: "The president's gradual, calculated dismantling of our immigration system has caused morale to plummet in the agencies of the Department of Homeland Security. Career immigration officials have courageously objected in public, and sometimes resorted to lawsuits to draw attention to the administration's subversion of the law. In denial about their principled objections to his scheme, now the president is hoping to stifle their voices by offering them a pay increase as part of this outrageous plan. His assumption that they are motivated by money shows just how little respect he has for the men and women who have devoted their careers to public service in immigration."

Vaughan told Secrets that she has been concerned about morale in ICE and raised the issue with Homeland Secretary Jeh Johnson.

She said that officers are concerned that illegals with criminal records are being released under Obama's policies, and that some immigrants taunt the officers, believing that the policies protect them.

Report: 42 percent of new Medicaid signups are illegal alien criminals & their children

Primarily illegal alien criminals and their U.S.-born children make up more than 40 percent of new Medicaid recipients at a cost of $4.6 billion, according to an analysis of government data.

The Center for Immigration Studies, a low-immigration advocacy group, released this report early Thursday.

The report was issued as President Obama prepared to unveil his executive action to reduce deportations and allow more illegal immigrants to remain in the country.

Video: ObamaCare's Architect Confesses to Fraud

MIT Professor Jonathan Gruber just can't keep his mouth shut.

A fourth video solidifying the relationship between him and the Obama Administration has now surfaced. What follows is a compendium of brazen directives to undermine the American people. His treasonous, cult-like zeal for the financial burden he and others campaigned into the lives of the average citizen, should be viewed by everyone in this country. The video speaks for itself.

Melissa Francis: When I Worked At CNBC They Stopped Me From Telling The Truth About Obamacare

Jeff Dunetz | Truth Revolt November 15, 2014--During her Friday program on the Fox Business Network, Melissa Francis made a truly scandalous revelation: "When I was at CNBC, I pointed out to my viewers that the math of Obamacare simply didn't work. Not the politics by the way; just the basic math. And when I did that, I was silenced."

Francis began her program with two of the recent Jonathan Gruber videos in which he admits that when he helped craft Obamacare, he picked verbiage that would fool "stupid" Americans. Francis, who has a degree in economics from Harvard, followed the clip with her account of being taken out to the woodshed at CNBC after explaining that the basic math of Obamacare didn't make sense. She said: "Straight from the horse's mouth, Jonathan Gruber telling you that the architects of Obamacare think that you're stupid and most importantly, they are absolutely counting on your lack of economic understanding. They aren't the only villains in this story, though. They are also depending on the liberal media to help them cover up the truth. So far, NBC, ABC, the L.A. Times and the Associated Press and others have been only too happy to comply. Those outlets have not even mentioned the video evidence from Jonathan Gruber. It is shocking. But it actually doesn't surprise me. Because when I was at CNBC, I pointed out to my viewers that the math of Obamacare simply didn't work. Not the politics by the way; just the basic math. And when I did that, I was silenced."

I said on the air that you couldn't add millions of people to the system and force insurance companies to cover their preexisting conditions without raising the price on everyone else. I pointed out that it couldn't possibly be true that if you like your plan you can keep it. That was a lie. And, in fact, millions of people had their insurance canceled. As a result of what I said at CNBC, I was called into management, where I was told that I was, quote, "disrespecting the office of the president" by telling what turned out to be the absolute truth.

Your "Children Will Be Fined" If You Fail To Sign Up For Obamacare: People Are Going To Be In for A Shock

Mac Slavo | SHTFplan.com November 15, 2014--Free and affordable health care just gets better and better. In 2015 the government will be activating some new "incentives" embedded in the Affordable Care Act in an effort to get more people to sign up.

But, as is often the case when the government says one thing, they mean exactly the opposite. In this case, when they say incentive what they really mean is that you are going to be penalized if you fail to acquire government mandated health insurance. But not just you. Your children, who apparently no longer belong to you anyway based on a recent court ruling, will be fined for your failure to get them on the insurance rolls:

Penalties for failing to secure a health-insurance plan will rise steeply next year, which could take a big bite out of some families' pocketbooks.

"The penalty is meant to incentivize (Comment: She means blackmail!) people to get coverage," said senior analyst Laura Adams of InsuranceQuotes.com. "This year, I think a lot of people are going to be in for a shock."

The financial penalty for skipping out on health coverage will more than triple to $325 per person in 2015, or 2 percent of income, depending on whichever is higher.

Children will be fined at half the adult rate, or $162.50 for those under 18 years old.

Source: CBS News

So, that's your strong-arm/blackmail "incentive". Either sign up for Obamacare at a rate of roughly $750 a month or more for a middle-class family of four, or pay a $325 penalty per person or two percent of your income, whichever is higher. Plus, if you have kids, they've been "incentivized" too!

Moreover, if you fail to sign up for Obamacare and subsequently refuse to pay your penalty your house could be raided by armed IRS agents, seized by the government, and you'll be imprisoned for tax evasion.

Welcome to the new America, where the government now has the power to compel you to purchase products from private companies under the threat of imprisonment or death. Yes, death. Because if you run from those armed IRS agents they're going to use their brand new militarized AR-15's to ensure your compliance.

At this point the only chance Americans have for the complete destruction of the Affordable Care Act is for a Supreme Court ruling expected in the Spring of 2015. If the court rules against Obamacare over its illegal federal subsidies then the law could fall apart almost instantly.

Cindy Vinson and Tom Waschura were big believers in the Affordable Care Act. They vote independent and are proud to say they helped elect and re-elect President Barack Obama.

Yet, like many other Bay Area residents who pay for their own medical insurance, they were floored last week when they opened their bills: Their policies were being replaced with pricier plans that conform to all the requirements of the new health care law....

"Of course, I want people to have health care," Vinson said. "I just didn't realize I would be the one who was going to pay for it personally."

Russell Moore, Rick Warren to Join 'Pope Francis' With Muslims, Buddhists for Interfaith Conference

November 7, 2014 | ROME – Russell Moore, the president of the Ethics and Religious Liberty Commission of the Southern Baptist Convention, and Saddleback megachurch leader Rick Warren will team up with Roman Catholic Pontiff Francis later this month for an interfaith Vatican conference on marriage and family.

"Complementarity of Man and Woman," will be held Nov. 17-19 at the Vatican, and is expected to feature more than 30 speakers from over 20 countries. According to the Catholic News Service, those of the Jewish, Islamic, Buddhist, Hindu, Jaina Shasana, Taoist and Sikh religions will be present, as well as Roman Catholics and professing Christians.

The event is sponsored by the Pontifical Council for the Family, the Pontifical Council for Interreligious Dialogue, and the Pontifical Council for Promoting Christian Unity.

"I hope that this gathering of religious leaders can stand in solidarity on the common grace, creational mandate of marriage and family as necessary for human flourishing and social good," Moore wrote in a blog post this week entitled "Why I'm Going to the Vatican." "I also hope that we can learn from one another about where these matters stand around the world."

Rick Warren, the author of "The Purpose Driven Life," has spoken glowingly of Pope Francis during several public interviews about the pontiff and the Roman Catholic religion.

"[Pope Francis] is doing everything right. You see, people will listen to what we say if they like what they see," Warren stated on Catholic television network EWTN earlier this year. "His kissing of this deformed man, his loving the children, this authenticity, this humility, the caring for the poor; this is what the whole world expects Christians to do. And when they go, 'Oh, that's what a Christian does.'—In fact, there was a headline here in Orange County—and I loved the headline—I saved it. It said, 'If you love Pope Francis, you'll love Jesus.'"

Comment: Like this selfless act by Satan, I mean Pope Francis:

Pope Francis wants you to forgive 'evil' priests who sexually abused children

Pope Francis made his first public plea for forgiveness on Friday for the "evil" committed by priests who molested children, using some of his strongest words yet on the Roman Catholic Church's sexual abuse crisis.

The Argentine-born pontiff said the Church, which last month named a high-level group on the scandal including an abuse victim, had to take a stronger stand on a scandal that has haunted it for more than two decades.

"I feel compelled to personally take on all the evil that some priests — quite a few in number,... to personally ask for forgiveness for the damage they have done for having sexually abused children," he told members of the International Catholic Child Bureau.

Or what about this one:

STUNNER from Pope: Church Should Stop Being "Obsessed" with Abortion, Gay marriage and Contraception

The meeting follows a recent synod featuring over 200 Roman Catholic bishops who gathered in Rome for two weeks to discuss marriage and family issues, such as homosexuality, cohabitation and divorce. The initial report generated controversy and concern over its inclusive tone, as it stated that "[h]omosexuals have gifts and qualities to offer to the Christian community." It was later left out of the submitted draft as a consensus could not be reached on the matter.

Muslim Imam Leads Prayer & Praises Allah on the U.S. House Floor

Regarding the recent Republican victories watch them bow at the sound of the name of Allah, they are in league with Islam, the harlot of Arabia. With newly re-elected Speaker of the House John Boehner presiding AND BOWING HIS HEAD, the Imam for the Islamic Center of Central Jersey praised Islam's Allah from the House floor as the God who reigns supreme. Here is the shocking video of Imam Hamad Chebli delivering the Islamic prayer; Boehner can be seen behind him:

Play to 2:42: <http://youtu.be/gA7mS77fhYQ>

Jeremiah 7:28: "But thou shalt say unto them, This is a nation that obeyeth not the voice of the LORD their God, nor receiveth correction: truth is perished, and is cut off from their mouth."

Chebli didn't just appear at the House floor; he also delivered Islamic prayers at the National Cathedral, which was prepared for Muslim prayers with rugs.

Numerous speakers, including Cathedral officials and local Muslim leaders, echoed Rasool's message [Muhammad's Message] about the urgent need for religious understanding and collaboration.

Rev. Gary Hall, dean of the Cathedral, spoke of St. Benedict, whom he said believed equally in the importance of prayer and hospitality. Marveling at the sounds of Arabic prayers, which he called "a beautiful sacred language in a beautiful sacred space," Hall said he hoped the service would serve as a beginning for future efforts to work together for good.

II Corinthians 6:14-18: "Be ye not unequally yoked together with unbelievers: for what fellowship hath righteousness with unrighteousness? and what communion hath light with darkness? And what concord hath Christ with Belial? or what part hath he that believeth with an infidel? And what agreement hath the temple of God with idols? for ye are the temple of the living God; as God hath said, I will dwell in them, and walk in them; and I will be their God, and they shall be my people. Wherefore come out from among them, and be ye separate, saith the Lord, and touch not the unclean thing; and I will receive you, And will be a Father unto you, and ye shall be my sons and daughters, saith the Lord Almighty."

Comment: And with headlines like the ones below (just from the last week) it is total confirmation Christians and the world in general need to be yoking themselves up with the "Religion of Peace" Islam!!!

Christian booted from National Cathedral speaks out

Leo Hohmann On 11/15/2014

Christine Weick is approached by security at the National Cathedral in Washington Friday, Nov. 14, as she stands up to proclaim "Jesus is our Lord and Savior"

It was supposed to be a shining moment for proponents of the interfaith movement.

The Islamic "jummah," or Friday call to prayer, would be held on America's grandest Christian stage -- the National Cathedral in Washington, D.C.

It was a bold move that had never been tried. Leaders of the Episcopal cathedral said sending prayers up to Allah from a Christian church would show the world that two religions at odds with each other for centuries could "approach the same God" as one body of believers.

The stage was set. The prayer rugs were neatly arranged facing Mecca. The lights shone down on the imam for his opening remarks.

Not so fast.

Christine Weick, a 50-year-old Michigan woman with flowing blonde hair who lives out of her car, rose from the packed National Cathedral, the hall of halls in terms of religious prominence in America, and moved toward the front of the church.

She pointed to the cross hanging overhead.

The Muslims had set up their prayer rugs in such a way that their backs were turned on the cross, which they consider an alien religious symbol. Jesus was a prophet but was not the son of God and never died on a Roman cross, according to Muslim teaching. Yet, they found themselves staring at a woman who demanded the cross become the center of attention. She then blurted out the message she had traveled all the way from Tennessee to deliver.

“Jesus Christ died on that cross. It is the reason we are to worship only Him. Jesus Christ is our Lord and Savior,” she said. “We have built enough of your mosques in this country. Why don’t you worship in your mosques and leave our churches alone?”

She immediately heard voices in the crowd yelling for security.

“Black coat, white scarf, blonde hair!” yelled one. “We need to get her out of here now!” someone else cried out.

“They were yelling for security, and by that point I was already done saying what I came to say,” Weick told WND.

She was promptly escorted out of the sanctuary by two men in suits, who handed her off to a police officer.

Watch video of Christine Weick get removed from National Cathedral after standing up and proclaiming Jesus Christ during Muslim prayer service: <http://www.wnd.com/2014/11/christian-booted-from-national-cathedral-speaks-out/>

She had instantly become a folk hero of sorts for thousands, if not millions, of Christians who read what happened or watched the video that was posted on the Internet.

Now Weick wants everyone to know that she did not get arrested and she is safely back in her SUV, heading back to Tennessee.

“It was quite an overwhelming day yesterday,” she said.

And while she was lauded for her bravery, she confided she was “literally scared to death” as she waited for the right moment to stand up and proclaim the gospel message.

“They never said a word to me. Two guys came up and got me. I remember one large man in a suit taking me by the arm, very strongly but he did not hurt me,” she said.

“He just put an arm on me and said, ‘We are walking this way.’ Then comes the police officer, and I’m thinking, ‘OK I’m done.’ I’m still in the sanctuary at this point, so I put out my hands for the officer to arrest me, but he just held my hand and walked me to the back of the church.

“He handed me over to a woman officer, who takes me to the front doors of the church. She hands me to another officer, who takes me to another officer in the foyer, who takes me out to the road. Not one of them said a word. I was free to go.”

She said she told the last officer who led her to the road to have a good day, to which he gave no response. She returned to her vehicle and soon afterward drove home.

Except she doesn’t have a home. She said her husband divorced her last year “over a spiritual conflict,” and her family disowned her because she took a stand against same-sex marriage and other “moral issues.”

Weick said she learned of the Muslim prayer service two days before it was scheduled to happen through an article posted on the Drudge Report. The more she thought about it, she felt the Lord was telling her to go to Washington and say something.

“My blood began to boil as I read the comments of how this is to be such a wonderful event and how religious tolerance can, for the first time, be shown in our nation’s capital,” she said.

Still, she had nervous doubts about making the 400-mile trip from Kingsport, Tennessee.

“That article got my attention. And then I Goggled the Washington National Cathedral, and I got more information about the service,” she said.

She found out from the cathedral’s website that the event was for “invited guests only.”

“That’s when I knew I had to be creative, and so did God,” she said.

She wasn’t sure what type of creativity would be required or even if she was doing the right thing as she headed out on the road to D.C. In fact, she almost turned around.

A sign of confirmation

“I was driving there on my way from Tennessee, and I’ve got a lot of doubts in my mind: Am I going to make a fool of myself? Am I going to be in jail for the weekend?”

But as she drove down the highway in the right lane, she passed a strange woman.

“There’s this woman stepping out of her vehicle on the side of the road, clapping and giving me two thumbs up, and I’m like, ‘That was the strangest thing,’” she said. “The first thing that went through my mind was, ‘That’s my confirmation right there.’ That’s all I needed, and from that point on I knew this was something I’m going to do; and that was the catapult that moved me to keep going towards Washington.”

She said she told only four people where she was going and what she planned to do. She asked for prayer.

“I said I need you to pray for me, this is what God has put in my bones to do,” she said. “It didn’t hit me until I got in the cathedral and saw all the people and the cameras sitting on my right, and I’m thinking, ‘This is a big deal. I am going to be put in jail!’”

She credits God for getting her into the massive church, which was guarded like Fort Knox. Everyone had to go through a checkpoint to make sure they weren’t armed or posed a threat.

“It was a God thing how I got past all that security in the beginning. They never ID’d me, and I had brought my ID with me just in case, and I thought that would be my downfall, being from Michigan, that they would say, ‘What is she doing here?’ Weick said. “According to reports, this was a heavy security event. They checked every bag and every person that walked in there. I bet some security people are in big trouble today.”

She said she slipped through unnoticed, first by following a security guard and then later by engaging in conversation alongside a woman with press credentials.

“I just followed those security officers when they were going from place to place. I just followed them,” she said. “It was almost like they didn’t see me. Like I was invisible.”

Hiding in the bathroom

Weick got through the security line about 10:15 a.m., more than an hour and a half before the prayer service started. She needed to lie low to avoid detection.

She noticed a janitor’s closet was left open near the bathroom and briefly thought about hiding in it. But a fear of being locked in persuaded her against that option.

She slipped into the bathroom instead.

“When I was in the bathroom hiding out, that’s when it hit me: I think I’m invisible, I really wondered, the way it happened, just strange, just totally strange; and someday I’m going to ask God how that all worked out,” she said.

While hiding in the bathroom and waiting for the service to start, she rehearsed over and over what she would say. She prayed constantly, with emphasis on Psalm 27.

A woman was washing her hands at the sink as Weick left the stall where she was hiding. The woman had a press tag on her blouse.

“I asked her if she knew what time the service was to start and she replied, ‘In a few minutes. Do you know where to go?’ I didn’t.”

“Follow me and I will take you to the front,” the woman said.

“I walked with her into the main foyer up to the security line. We walked right past the guards and into the sanctuary! I was invisible.”

Still, the butterflies fluttered in her stomach.

“As she took her seat she was shocked at what she saw. About a hundred people were sitting in chairs around rugs that were placed on the floor. Muslim women, separated from the men, were seated on the rugs. To her right was the news media with their cameras and recording equipment. In front of her were the prayer rugs.”

"Then it hit me... I had such an angst come over me. Seeing these Muslims sitting on their rugs ready to bow to a god, causing such an abomination in the house of the Lord," she said.

The imam said the call to prayer would begin momentarily and spoke some words in Arabic. Weick felt her heart thumping in her chest.

"I prayed... 'Lord! Tell me when!' At that moment I saw a figure of Christ on the cross some distance away. I stood up.

"I was so nervous; you'll never know how scared I was," she said. "All I kept thinking was, 'I can do all things through Christ who strengthens me; that's my only strength.' I could not do it through me. But we have an amazing God. He shows his strength in my weakness. That's my motto."

She started to speak, firmly and loudly but not out of control. What she said was not the same as what she had rehearsed in the bathroom stall.

"I did not plan on those exact words coming out. I was going to say it differently. I was planning to say, 'I serve a risen Savior, and Muhammad is dead.' But I saw the cross and it just popped out of my mouth. I was not going to say it that way. I rehearsed it the other way over and over in the bathroom, because my biggest fear was making a fool of myself; but it didn't happen that way."

Even if she had failed and made herself a fool, it could not be more painful than what she has already gone through over the past year, she said.

"I took a very strong stand on something last year. My husband divorced me over it. It broke my heart. I have a lot of heartache back home, a lot of hurt," she said. "And I felt the Lord telling me, 'You are going to go from place to place for me.'"

While she lives out of her car, she doesn't consider herself homeless.

"Don't be sorry for me. I have a very nice SUV. I go out to eat, I have a bank account," she told WND.

"I am just too Dutch to pay 60 or 70 bucks for a hotel every night when I can spend my nights in my car. And I travel every night from place to place, and that is what I was doing when I saw the story in the Drudge Report."

WND's first story on the prayer service drew hundreds of comments from readers. Many lauded the lone, unidentified woman who stood up and rebuked what they saw as a worship service to a false god inside a prominent American church.

Among the comments:

- "They shielded their eyes from the Christian cross, but could not shield their ears from the truthful words of this one brave woman."
- "We should all pray to have the courage this woman displayed. The world needs it. Our nation desperately needs it. Jesus Christ IS Lord."
- "I would speculate that the brave woman who proclaimed the Gospel was the only Christian present— and they threw her out," commented a reader who quoted from John 16:2: "They will put you out of the synagogues. Indeed, the hour is coming when whoever kills you will think he is offering service to God."
- "Bless this woman! Jesus Christ is the Messiah and Salvation for all that believe. Acts 4:12 automatically comes to mind. Islam and Christianity are opposed to each other, no matter what any Pope, Priest and Cardinal says. You cannot deny the Son and have the Father and Islam denies Jesus is the Son."

But Weick said she did nothing outside of what God gave her the strength to do, and she doesn't see herself as any hero of the faith. The weakest of Christians could easily do the same thing, she said.

"That's why I posted on Facebook this morning. I was like, 'Come on Christian soldiers we need to fight, and we need to fight using the gospel, the Word of God,'" she said. "There are Muslims everywhere, just walk up to them and say, 'Jesus Christ is Lord.' Be brave.

Psalm 94:16: "Who will rise up for me against the evildoers? or who will stand up for me against the workers of iniquity?..."

I'm hearing that many Muslims are getting dreams. Maybe all it takes is one to have a dream after being told Jesus Christ is Lord, I don't know. That is God's deal. Let Him work it out. We just need to be bold in the Lord and we don't need to be burning their mosques down, like they burn our churches. We have the gospel and that is our only weapon we need. Jesus is Lord, and we need to proclaim it, but how many times do we do it?"

But before Weick became bold, she was humbled.

Pro 15:33 The fear of the LORD is the instruction of wisdom; and before honour is humility.

"It was a situation in my life, how God yanked every anchor in my life over the last five years, just everything that would keep a normal woman, a normal mother, at home just got yanked out from under me," she said. "I have a son and a daughter, and they disowned me. I took a stand against gay marriage and I lost them. That is my heartache. And it hurts me so much. And I wonder what they think now when they see me on the news."

Weick said she doesn't know what her next "assignment" will be, but she knows now she can tackle almost anything.

"I told the Lord last night, 'OK, you can take me now,' but I don't know," she said. "I think He may have other plans for me, per Jeremiah 29: 11."

Jer 29:11 For I know the thoughts that I think toward you, saith the LORD, thoughts of peace, and not of evil, to give you an expected end.

Subject: Re: [Contending for Truth:] Fema Coffins Transport Pictures

Scott, I was traveling to boise idaho 2 days ago. I saw a semi transporting fema coffins. Here are the pics. If you zoom in you can see our location going to Idaho. The other freeway sign was in Utah, Far West.

DROUGHT: Some California Children bathing once a week, sharing same tub of water...

Showers were one of the first things to go when the spring dried up at the Markegard ranch south of Half Moon Bay.

Forced to rely on trucked-in water, the four children — ages 4, 6, 7 and 12 — now bathe once a week, often sharing the same tub of water.

“The cleanest kid goes first,” said their mother, Doniga Markegard, 33, who on a recent morning soaked her two youngest, daughters Quince and Quill, followed by 7-year-old Larry. The historic statewide drought has struck especially hard along the southern San Mateo County coast. While other parts of the Bay Area are served by big water agencies with steady if shrinking supplies, most of the homes and small farms here, less than an hour’s drive from Silicon Valley, rely on creeks and wells, many of which have stopped flowing.

There is a blanket prohibition on all of our military in that area against any phone, text or email contact with anyone back home in the states.....i.e. they are forbidden to tell friends or family what they are being forced to do

Last night I was listening to Aaron Klein's radio broadcast. - www.am970theanswer.com -

[7 - 9 PM Eastern] - and a woman caller said that her son is one of the 4,000 U.S. military who were sent to Liberia ("to fight Ebola") by the current WH occupant. Her son told her in the one and only phone call that he managed to make since his arrival there, that the troops are serving as HOSPITAL ORDERLIES!! They've been ordered to empty patients' bed pans and change filthy bed sheets infected with urine, vomit and fecal matter. He never said anything about how the troops are 'building clinics' for new Ebola patients.....just emphasized what this 'mission to fight Ebola' really IS.....and there is a blanket prohibition on all of our military in that area against any phone, text or email contact with anyone back home in the states.....i.e. they are forbidden to tell friends or family what they are being forced to do by this disgusting weasel playing CIC on TV.

ITEM: Our esteemed and most beloved Janet Levy sent me a brilliant and jarringly realistic reply to one of my Ebola ALERTS last Friday. Janet's reply was stark! She wrote: ...ask yourself why this miserable excuse for an American president would send 4,000 of our outstanding military to serve as hospital orderlies in what is currently the most dangerous environment on the planet - even WITH state of the art Hazmat gear. Where does our Constitution say that an American president can use our military in such an atrocious way, which deliberately exposes them to a disease that kills hundreds of people daily in the region to which these young Americans were ordered.....You don't hear an outcry about this because the top military command has placed a gag order upon all of our troops who are walking around, performing tasks about which they were never told before being shipped directly into harm's way!...More Americans must learn about what Barry Soetoro and Valerie Jarrett have done with our military. This information must be distributed. The media aren't going to report a thing about this. You can bet on it. Nov 10, 2014

The Ebola Breakout Coincided With UN Vaccine Campaigns

The ebola pandemic began in late February in the former French colony of Guinea while UN agencies were conducting nationwide vaccine campaigns for three other diseases in rural districts. The simultaneous eruptions of this filovirus virus in widely separated zones strongly suggests that the virulent Zaire ebola strain (ZEBOV) was deliberately introduced to test an antidote in secret trials on unsuspecting humans.

The release of ebola may well have been an act of biowarfare in the post-colonial struggle to control mineral-rich West Africa .

Earlier this year, rural residents eagerly stood in line to receive vaccinations from foreign-funded medical programs. Since the cover-up of the initial outbreak, however, panicked West Africans rural folk are terrified of any treatment from international aid programs for fear of a rumored genocide campaign.

Operation Depopulation Exposed: Africa

United Nations organizations are being accused of sterilizing millions of girls and women under the guise of an anti-tetanus vaccine program sponsored by the Kenyan government. Kenyan Catholic Bishops say their worst fear has been proven right; a current WHO vaccine campaign is not about eradicating neonatal tetanus. Instead it's a well-coordinated mass sterilization exercise using a proven anti-fertility vaccine.

Transhumanism, Vaccinations, DNA and Corrupting the Seed of Mankind-Part 2 September 27th, 2009 |

Transhumanism advocate Natasha Vita-More (MSc, MPhil, PhD Candidate) states "A transhuman is a human in transition. We are transhuman to the extent that we seek to become posthuman and take action to prepare for a posthuman future. She goes on to state: Whether it is the shingles or the flu, the proactive development of molecular agents, such as nanorobots, to combat these and other protagonist viruses is the right thing to do...building a strong defense through nanomedicine to combat viruses is a worthy undertaking."

Christian author Sharon Gilbert states: "Transhumanism, also known as the H+ movement envisions a higher lifeform surpassing homo sapiens in favor of homo sapiens 2.0, a bioengineered construct that fuses man's original genome with animal and/or synthetic DNA. For decades, laboratories have created chimeric combinations of animal, plant, and even human DNA under the guise of medical research. The stated goal is to better man's lot by curing disease, but this benign mask hides an inner, sardonic grin that follows an ancient blueprint to blend God's human creation with the seed of fallen angels: 'You shall be as gods'. I warn of a day when true humans may unknowingly receive transhuman instructions via an implant or injection. A seemingly innocuous vaccine or identification 'chip' can initiate intracellular changes, not only in somatic or 'body' cells but also in germline cells such as ova and sperm. The former alters the recipient only; the latter alters the recipient's doomed descendents as well."

The interpretation of Genesis 6:4 that the Nephilim are half human, half fallen angel makes this whole concept very simple to understand. God made a way for man to be saved from his sin through grace by faith in His Son but He did not make a way for the angels that rebelled to be saved. Therefore, a mixture of the two kinds would be a corruption and the result a 'fallen race'. It is interesting that Genesis tells us that 'all flesh' was corrupt in the days of Noah. What does that mean? We know that God destroyed all the animals as well as all people except those brought on the ark with Noah and his family. We will explore this topic further in this study. Now, what is man doing in creating these hybrids whether they are human/animal or plant/animal? Man is mixing kinds together and creating a corrupt and defiled race. It does not matter what the percentage of human verses cow DNA there is, do cows go to heaven? Frankly, man is messing with things he has no right to manipulate – he is in effect trying to play 'God', which goes right back to the original sin in the garden.
