Ephesians 5:11, 13-16: "And have no fellowship with the unfruitful works of darkness, but rather reprove them. But all things that are reprov'd are made manifest by the light: for whatsoever doth make manifest is light. Wherefore he saith, Awake thou that sleepest, and arise from the dead, and Christ shall give thee light. See then that ye walk circumspectly, not as fools, but as wise, Redeeming the time, because the days are evil."

The 1828 Noah Webster Dictionary defines:

Reprove: To blame, to convince of a fault, or to make it manifest, to excite a sense of guilt.

Circumspectly: Cautiously; with watchfulness every way; with attention to guard against surprise or danger.

Matthew 24:24: "...if it were possible, they shall deceive the very elect."

II Corinthians 2:11: "Lest Satan should get an advantage of us: for we are not ignorant of his devices."

II Chronicles 7:14: "If my people, which are called by my name, shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin, and will heal their land."

I John 4:18: "There is no fear in love; but perfect love casteth out fear: because fear hath torment. He that feareth is not made perfect in love."

Heb 13:6: "So that we may boldly say, The Lord is my helper, and I will not fear what man shall do unto me."

II Timothy 1:7: "For God hath not given us the spirit of fear; but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind."

Bible Verses Regarding the Heart

Deuteronomy 11:16-18a: "Take heed to yourselves, that your heart be not deceived, and ye turn aside, and serve other gods, and worship them; And then the LORD'S wrath be kindled against you, and he shut up the heaven, that there be no rain, and that the land yield not her fruit; and lest ye perish quickly from off the good land which the LORD giveth you. Therefore shall ye lay up these my words in your heart and in your soul..."

Proverbs 18:13: "He that answereth a matter before he heareth it, it is folly and shame unto him."

Proverbs 14:12 & 16:25: "There is a way which seemeth right unto a man, but the end thereof are the ways of death."

Proverbs 28:26: "He that trusteth in his own heart is a fool: but whoso walketh wisely, he shall be delivered."

Jeremiah 17: 9 & 10: "The heart is deceitful above all things, and desperately wicked: who can know it? I the LORD search the heart, I try the reins, even to give every man according to his ways, and according to the fruit of his doings.

Proverbs 18:2: "A fool hath no delight in understanding, but that his heart may discover itself."

Proverbs 18:2: "All the ways of a man are clean in his own eyes; but the LORD weigheth the spirits."

Mark 7:13: "Making the word of God of none effect through your tradition..."

I Corinthians 14:33: "For God is not the author of confusion, but of peace, as in all churches of the saints."

Lindsey Williams Exclusive: NWO to Target Iran & Saudi Arabia Next, Oil to Hit $200 a Barrel 3/5

Alex welcomes to the show ordained Baptist minister Lindsey Williams. Lindsey will reveal on the Alex Jones Show today new groundbreaking information about the plans of the global elite. Because of the executive status accorded to him as Chaplain of the Alyeska Pipeline Company, Williams has been privy to the plans of the elite for years. Last year Williams predicted the price of oil would go up significantly and the market has since skyrocketed, most recently in response to the outbreak of engineered revolution and violence in the Middle East, developments also revealed to Williams by the global elite.

Bobbie Sanchez wrote: "I live in Alaska - and represent the citizens of Alaska on a committee that interfaces the oil industry with the community. In a nut shell: The Alaskan pipeline used to push 2.8 million barrels a day 30 years ago. With the Democratic party nixing any future drilling and exploration since then - the pipeline now has about 340,000 barrels a day going through. The Alyeska Pipeline Company is now finishing an upgrade to the pipeline that would allow them to either batch ship oil down the line, or, increase shipping to 4.9 million barrels. Had the Dems not stopped future drilling and exploration - the pipeline would be sending 4.9 million barrels to the USA today, and, no doubt a second pipeline would have been built in the 1990's like Alaska wanted to do. Alaska would be providing 40% of America's needs, if not more. Right now the state of Alaska is negotiating for a natural gas pipeline. Alaska has enough oil and natural gas to provide the needs of the US for about 300 years. There is more oil and gas here than the whole middle east combined. The Arctic National Wildlife Refuge (ANWR or Arctic Refuge) is a national wildlife refuge in northeastern Alaska, United States. It consists of 19,286,722 acres in the Alaska North Slope region.^[1] It is the largest National Wildlife Refuge in the country. If ANWR were a regulation foot ball field, the area of Alaska that would be used for oil production would be less than the size of a postage stamp. Before the pipeline there were 600,000 caribou in the area - now they number 2,000,000. Before the pipeline there were 5,000 polar bears. Now we have 25,000. I have been to ANWR. The place is a mosquito factory. Not some place you, your kids, grandkids, or their grandkids for generations is ever going to want to visit. Not unless you like brown water and muck up to your kneecaps, clouds of mosquitos that make it impossible to identify if it is an animal or person they are circling... If Alaska was given the 'green light' we could ramp up from 300,000 barrels a day to nearly 5 million a day in about 2-3 years. New pipelines, production, and infrastructure take about 8-10 years from concept to the first drop of oil coming out. The Alaskan Republican congressional delegation has been trying to do this for 30 years. As a long time Alaskan, all I can say is, "We told you so"."

US Gov. Software Creates 'Fake People' on Social Networks to Promote Propaganda

Posted by Darla, ADMIN / National Director on February 19, 2011 in Patriot Action Alerts

By Sean Kerrigan--The US government is offering private intelligence companies contracts to create software to manage "fake people" on social media sites and create the illusion of consensus on controversial issues.

The contract calls for the development of "Persona Management Software" which would help the user create and manage a variety of distinct fake profiles online. The job listing was discussed in recently leaked emails from the private security firm HBGary after an attack by internet activist last week.

According to the contract, the software would "protect the identity of government agencies" by employing a number of false signals to convince users that the poster is in fact a real person. A single user could manage unique background information and status updates for up to 10 fake people from a single computer.

The software enables the government to shield its identity through a number of different methods including the ability to assign unique IP addresses to each persona and the ability to make it appear as though the user is posting from other locations around the world.

Included in HBGary's leaked emails was a government proposal for the government contract. The document describes how they would 'friend' real people on Facebook as a way to convey government messages. The document reads:

- "Those names can be cross-referenced across Facebook, twitter, MySpace, and other social media services to collect information on each individual. Once enough information is collected this information can be used to gain access to these individuals' social circles.
- Even the most restrictive and security conscious of persons can be exploited. Through the targeting and information reconnaissance phase, a person's hometown and high school will be revealed. An adversary can create a classmates.com account at the same high school and year and find out the people you went to high school with that do not have Facebook accounts, then create the account and send a friend request. Under the mutual friend decision, which is where most people can be exploited, an adversary can look at a targets friend list if it is exposed and find a targets most socially promiscuous friends, the ones that have over 300-500 friends & friend them to develop mutual friends before sending a friend request to the target. To that end friend's accounts can be compromised and used to post malicious material to a targets wall. When choosing to participate in social media an individual is only as protected as his/her weakest friend."

Other documents in the leaked emails include quotes from HBGary CEO Aaron Barr saying, "There are a variety of social media tricks we can use to add a level of realness to all fictitious personas... Using hashtags and gaming some location based check-in services we can make it appear as if a persona was actually at a conference and introduce himself/herself to key individuals as part of the exercise, as one example."

Additional emails between HBGary employees, usually originating from Barr, discuss the vulnerability social networking causes.

One employee wrote, "and now social networks are closing the gap between attacker and victim, to the point I just found 112 females, wives of service men, all stationed at Hurlbert Field FL - in case you don't know this is where the CIA flies all their "private" airlines out of. What a joke - the U.S. is no longer the super power in cyber (security), and probably won't be in other areas soon."

The creation of internet propoganda software is only one of HBGary's controversial activities. According to Wikileaks competetor and occasional collaborator Cryptome.org, several other progressive organizations were intended to be targeted including anti-war activist, anti-torture organizations and groups opposed to the US Chamber of Commerce.

Facebook & Google are CIA Fronts

Sandeep Parwaga--HenryMakow.com--February 17, 2011--There used to be a saying: "No one makes a name for himself without giving something up. As a youngster, I was awed by people who "made it to the top" by creating and innovating corporations, technologies, or simply establishing themselves through sports, music, entertainment, etc. thus becoming millionaires. Now as I have grown older, I realize how illusory this paradigm really is. I came to the conclusion that if you want to reach the "top", you have to give up your soul.

Take Mark Zuckerberg for example. He is one of the most "successful entrepreneurs" in the last decade. Having made a fortune through his Facebook empire, he reaches more than 500 million people worldwide. It seems like a fairytale. A student creates a new interface to connect the people throughout the world. Well, it sounds great doesn't it? It would, if we were true.

Here is (Play this) a good video that demonstrates that Facebook was indirectly funded by the CIA with the goal of learning and storing everything there is to know about you. Why? To monitor and ultimately control.

Again, the people have been totally duped by the Facebook-mania and can only see what they are told to see. As my friends say: "It is to connect people and share information". In the wake of the recent crisis in Egypt, we might add that Facebook has become not just a data-mining operation, but also a soft power proxy for crisis-creation.

Let's look at headlines that should cast no doubt about the true character of CIAbook:

California School District Battles Truancy with GPS

By Brennon Slattery, PCWorld Feb 21, 2011--Students with a tendency towards truancy in California's Anaheim Union High School District are being assigned GPS units to make sure they're going to school on time, according to The Orange County Register. The GPS units are the size of a (chunky) cellphone and are developed by Dallas-based AIM Truancy Solutions, which operates in more than 100 middle and high schools in three states.

The Anaheim Union High School District is part of a volunteer six-week pilot program that is outfitting seventh and eighth grade students who have more than three unexcused absences with these devices. In Austin, Texas, where this experiment also ran, it was used for middle and high school students who had racked up between 20 to 25 absences.

When asked by the Orange County Register why the devices are handheld rather than strapped to the students, Miller Sylvan, regional director of AIM Truancy Solutions, said, "We don't want to criminalize the kids or have them wear any bracelet or something around their ankle that would stigmatize them."

Every school day, the participants receive an automated phone call reminding them to get to school on time. They are then required to enter a code that tracks their location during their departure for school, arrival at school, lunch period, departure from school and at 8 p.m., the Register reports.

The devices cost between $300 and $400 apiece. All together, the six-week program costs about $8 per day for each student, or $18,000. It's estimated that schools lose $35 per day for each absent student, so AIM Truancy Solution's program is a cost savings.

Some parents weren't thrilled with the program. "This makes us seem like common criminals," one parent, whose child accumulated six unexcused absences, told the Register.

But perhaps carrying a GPS unit and regularly logging one's location is better than the alternative: Police Investigator Armando Pardo told the Register that if the District Attorney prosecutes, truant students could be sent to juvie and get smacked with a $2000 fine.

"Nearly two-thirds of the students enrolled in AIM [in the fall semester of 2010] achieved perfect attendance while on the initial program, and all students combined averaged 97 percent attendance," according to a press release.

Rental Car 'Big Brother' is Watching You Down Under

Australia--February 21, 2011 | by kjb |...In Australia a new type of in-car GPS does a little bit more than help you locate the nearest Starbucks or McDonald's. This rental car GPS keeps an eye out on your driving habits as well as your location. That means the rental car company knows when you take its car somewhere it's not supposed to be, or that the flat tire you claim happened overnight was actually caused by taking the Toyota Camry on an unpaved road.

DriveMyCar Rentals is installing the new tracking devices in about 30 percent of their vehicles, as they just want to keep their cars safe and sound. If you're caught taking your car off the beaten path you'll receive a text message to remind you that you're in violation of your rental agreement. Understandably an Australian civil liberties group isn't too thrilled about the Big Brother tracking device, especially since they're concerned about the company storing your travel habits. DriveMyCar Rentals insists that everything is real time, so they don't keep a running tally or record of where you've been.

Ohio Legislature Hears Evidence Of Human-Animal Chimera Experimentation-- Ban Sought On Human Cloning And Animal-Human Hybrids

February 20, 2011--by Donna Anderson--2011 RaidersNewsUpdate.com

MEDIA ADVISORY, Feb. 20, 2011 / Raiders News Network / -- Ohio Christian

Alliance President Chris Long made the following statement: "For the past eight years, OCA has been working with members of the Ohio Legislature to ban embryonic stem cell research, human cloning, and in recent years, animal-human hybrid. Science has advanced to the point where DNA from animals and humans can be intermixed in scientific laboratory experimentation. These experimental practices simply are outrageous! Animal-human hybrid research is currently being conducted in England, which many in the international medical community now consider to be a rogue medical state. It is now known that some experimentation has taken place in some U.S.

laboratories. Ohio Christian Alliance commends State Senator Kris Jordan from Ohio's 19th District for taking the leadership role in sponsoring this key legislation."

Leading the testimony on this legislative ban will be Dr. David Prentice of the Family Research Council who states, "Creating 'experimental humans' through nuclear transfer cloning or as animal-human hybrids is an unethical use of science, and will not lead to useful medical treatments for patients. This bill should be passed quickly and the focus should be on ethical and successful research that puts the patients first."

Ohio Christian Alliance believes that no human life should begin and end as the subject of an experiment. We attest that a process that knowingly encourages human life to be created, manipulated for research, and ultimately destroyed is immoral and should be prohibited. And all who believe that human life, including nascent human life, is a unique and precious gift from our Creator have an obligation to support efforts to ban it. The bottom line is still that any ban short of a total prohibition on human cloning further devalues the sanctity of human life.

[Lady Gaga's Creative Director Laurieann Gibson Explains 'The Egg' \[AUDIO\]](#)

By Sierra Marquina

Celebrity choreographer and creative director Laurieann Gibson phoned in Monday morning to "On Air with Ryan Seacrest" to chat post-Grammys, and reveal the creation process behind the extravagant avant-garde artist that is Lady Gaga and her 'vessel.' Laurieann works with celebs from Katy Perry, Diddy, to even Jessica Alba.

And as for what everyone is wondering this Valentine's Day---What was with Gaga's egg-placenta-vessel like shape she was carried down the red carpet in last night and emerged from on stage?!

Laurieann happily explained "it was really emotional for me because when she played the record for me I was like 'my goodness, do you realize what you've given me lyrically?'" adding, "it's a record with a message so it actually took me a while with this creative process, and I couldn't sleep, and then two weeks later I called her and I was like 'I got it!... We have to birth a new race'...they have to have DNA where they can't hate."

In short, Laurieann concluded "it's a vessel, like an unstoppable pod, bringing light to a place where we need hope," adding "you have to go back and watch it and watch it again and then get ready for the video and the story will unfold."

Subject: Listener Comment: 2/21/11 Time Magazine Cover Story "2045 - The Year Man Becomes Immortal"

I was in Borders today and I saw this on the stand on my way to check out and I knew that I had to read this story. I have never bought a Time Magazine before but I just had to read this article. I have attached a Word Document with some of my findings. Please use this article and my notes any way you see fit. God Bless and thank you so much for what you do for the Body of Christ.

Jennifer

Here is a copy of the full article online - some of the comments are interesting as well on the post.

<http://www.time.com/time/health/article/0,8599,2048138,00.html>

Ok this article is very long so I went through and hi-lighted things that stuck out to me. I wrote the article's actual quotes in blue so you can tell what is my commentary and which is strictly taken from the article. Basically this technologist, Raymond Kurzweil, is suggesting that we can create super artificial intelligent computers that would then become to create even more super computers and thus mankind would be changed forever.

So a little on Kurzweil – “He’s an engineer and inventor. He founded and then sold his first software company while he was still at MIT. He holds 39 patents 19 honorary doctorates and in 1999 Bill Clinton awarded him the National Medal of Technology. He has published works one of which is best seller “The Singularity is Near” and the other is called “The Transcendent Man”. Bill Gates referred to him as “the best person I know at predicting the future of artificial intelligence.”

The article states, “Maybe we’ll merge with them to become super intelligent cyborgs, using computers to extend our intellectual abilities the same way that cars and planes extend our physical abilities. Maybe the artificial intelligences will help us treat the effects of old age and prolong our life spans indefinitely. Maybe we'll scan our consciousness into computers and live inside them as software, forever, virtually. Maybe the computers will turn on humanity and annihilate us."

"This transformation has a name: the Singularity"
And it maybe new to you, but it's nothing new. There is a "three year old Singularity University...which is hosted by NASA and Google as founding sponsors." It's said that "it will be the most important thing to happen to human beings since the invention of language."

This stuck out to me for one, anytime NASA and Google is involved in anything, the Devil is behind it. And when the article mentions language I thought of Babel. And how with one language men were going to build the tower of Babel to reach the heavens (basically try to become as gods...again).

Kurzweil believes that "technological progress happens exponentially and estimates that computers will be capable of human intelligence by 2045."

Hmmm... there's something about that date. We know that the men behind the scenes of the affairs of this world are looking forward to 2012 as this marks the "ushering in of the age of aquarius." Well 2045 is exactly 33 years from that.

"In addition to the Singularity university, which Kurzweil co-founded, there's also a Singularity Institute for Artificial Intelligence, based in San Francisco. It counts among its advisers Peter Thiel, a former CEO of Paypal and an early investor in Facebook" This institute has an annual summit and even though Artificial Intelligence is the main event, other fields are covered as well like uh, take a guess, Genetics.

At the 2010 summit, the 2nd most discussed topic was life extension. With AI, death becomes a solvable problem. "Old age becomes an illness like any other, and what do you do with illnesses? You cure them."

Well that's funny because last time I checked Corinthians 15:55 Death lost its sting and victory because of what Christ did on the cross (for believers) not because man figured out some way to get around death by fusing us with computers or downloading our consciousness into AI or some virtual world.

The article then goes on to say, "For example, it's well known that one cause of the physical degeneration associated with aging involves telomere, which are segments of DNA found at the ends of chromosomes. Every time a cell divides, its telomeres get shorter, and once a cell runs out of telomeres, it can't reproduce anymore and dies. But there's an enzyme called telomerase that reverses this process; it's one of the reasons cancer cells live so long. So why not treat regular non cancerous cells with telomerase? In November, researchers at Harvard Medical School announced in Nature that they had done just that. They administered telomerase to a group of mice suffering from age-related degeneration. The damage went away. The mice didn't just get better; they got younger."

Huge side note*Well I remembered that in the show "The Event" that the alien race aged extremely slowly. And one very rich powerful man is interested in creating something that stops his aging. The aliens had been on earth for a very long time and many of them had had children with human women, without the women knowing that the husband was an alien. And this old man was kidnapping these hybrid children to study their DNA to try to create a drug that would reverse aging.

Kurzweil takes life extension very seriously. He inherited his father's genetic predisposition for heart disease and at the age of 35 he developed Type 2 diabetes. He has "published two books on his own approach to life extension, which involves taking up to 200 pills and supplements a day. He says his diabetes is essentially cured, and although he's 62 old from a chronological perspective, he estimates that his biological age is about 20 years younger."

"For Kurzweil it's not so much about staying healthy as long as possible; it's about staying alive until the Singularity."

"Alternatively, by then we'll be able to transfer our minds to sturdier vessels such as computers and robots. He and many other Singularitarians take seriously the proposition that many people who are alive today will wind up being functionally immortal."

Hbr 9:27 And as it is appointed unto men once to die, but after this the judgment:

Hbr 9:28 So Christ was once offered to bear the sins of many; and unto them that look for him shall he appear the second time without sin unto salvation.

Kurzweil states "There are people who can accept computers being more intelligent than people, but the idea of significant changes to human longevity – that seems to be particularly controversial. People invested a lot of personal effort into certain philosophies dealing with the issue of life and death. I mean, that's the major reason we have religion."

Well as for me, I don't have a religion. I have a relationship with my Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. I am not bound, but I am free. If anything, this is Mr. Kurzweil's religion and it's built on fear of the unknown and what he cannot explain.

The article continues, "Even if you grant that the Singularity is plausible, you're still staring at a thicket of unanswerable questions. If I can scan my consciousness into a computer, am I still me? What are the geopolitics and the socioeconomics of the Singularity? Who decides who gets to be immortal? And as we approach immortality, omniscience and omnipotence, will our lives still have meaning? By beating death, will we have lost our essential humanity."

They do admit risk. “One of the goals of the Singularity Institute is to make sure not just that the AI develops but also that the AI is friendly.”

“In Kurzweil’s future, biotechnology and nanotechnology give us the power to manipulate our bodies and the world around us at will, at the molecular level. Progress hyper accelerates, and every hour brings a century’s worth of scientific breakthroughs. We ditch Darwin and take charge of our own evolution. The human genome becomes just so much code to be bug-tested and optimized and, if necessary, rewritten. Indefinite life extension becomes reality; people die only if they chose to. Death loses its sting once and for all. Kurzweil hopes to bring his dead father back to life.”

Rom 1:18 ¶ For the wrath of God is revealed from heaven against all ungodliness and unrighteousness of men, who hold the truth in unrighteousness;

Rom 1:19 Because that which may be known of God is manifest in them; for God hath shewed it unto them.

Rom 1:20 For the invisible things of him from the creation of the world are clearly seen, being understood by the things that are made, even his eternal power and Godhead; so that they are without excuse:

Rom 1:21 Because that, when they knew God, they glorified [him] not as God, neither were thankful; but became vain in their imaginations, and their foolish heart was darkened.

Rom 1:22 Professing themselves to be wise, they became fools.

Pro 16:18 Pride [goeth] before destruction, and an haughty spirit before a fall.

What BLASPHEMY! I find it funny that these people don’t believe in Christ yet they’ll quote Him. Yet this is the same carrot that Satan dangled in front of Eve. “Ye shall be as gods, knowing good and evil.” Gen 3:5

“The more you read about the Singularity, the more you start to see it peeking out at you, coyly, from unexpected directions. Five years ago we didn’t have 600 million humans carrying out their social lives over a single electronic network. Now we have Facebook. Five years ago you didn’t see people double checking what they were saying and where they were going, even as they were saying it and going there, using handheld network-enabled digital prosthetics. Now we have iPhones. Is it an unimaginable step to take the iPhones out of our hands and put them into our skulls... your average cell phone is about a millionth the size of, a millionth the price of and a thousand times more powerful than the computer Kurzweil had at MIT 40 years ago. Flip that forward 40 years and what does the world look like?”

Well I’m glad that I know Christ and I’m so glad that He is preparing a place for those who believe and confess Him. And I don’t have to worry about death and I don’t need to try to live forever. I know that I am to occupy while I’m here until He comes and then I’m going to live with Him forever. “But as it is written, Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love him.” I Corinthians 2:9 All of what these scientists can imagine up can't even begin to compare to what the Lord is preparing for those that love Him and that seek His ways and not their own. One thing I've been noticing with all the things that's going on in the world. Satan does the opposite of what God does. There is one way to the Kingdom of Heaven, yet there are many to the Kingdom of darkness. He has so many flavors of heresy, blasphemy, and deceit. That way he can fool as many people that don't believe in Christ and Christ alone. I thank God though, that Christ already has the victory and that we have the victory in Him.

More US Companies Covering Transgender Surgery

Monday, February 21, 2011--By Staff, Associated Press

San Francisco (AP) - More and more large corporations, including Coca-Cola, Campbell Soup and Walt Disney, are covering surgery for transgender employees as part of their health plans.

The trend follows a concerted push by transgender rights advocates to get employers and insurers to see sex reassignment the way the American Medical Association does - as a medically indicated rather than an optional procedure.

The number is expected to go up dramatically this year, when the nation's largest gay rights lobbying group adds availability of surgery-inclusive medical benefits to the criteria in its annual corporate diversity report card.

Kraft Foods, AT&T, Yahoo!, Eastman Kodak, Sears and State Farm are among 85 large businesses and law firms that cover the cost of at least one surgery.

California wants lesbians as mandatory 'role' models--Family advocates call plan 'worst school sexual indoctrination ever'

February 11, 2011--By Bob Unruh-- 2011 WorldNetDaily

Lawmakers in the state of California are proposing a law that would require schools to portray lesbians, homosexuals, transsexuals and those who have chosen other alternative sexual lifestyles as positive role models to children in all public schools there.

"SB 48: The worst school sexual indoctrination ever" is how officials with the Campaign for Children and Families describe the proposal, SB 48, sponsored by state Sen. Mark Leno. Openly homosexual, Leno boasts on his website of founding a business with his "life partner, Douglas Jackson," who later died of AIDS complications.

That description as "worst" is considerable, considering the Campaign for Children and Families was a key player in the battle in the state in 2007 and 2008 over a variety of laws that now forbid any "adverse" portrayal of those alternative sexual choices in school, class, curriculum and by teachers.

Find out why laws promoting homosexuality are being developed, get "The Marketing of Evil: How Radicals, Elitists, and Pseudo-Experts Sell Us Corruption Disguised as Freedom"

On its website, the organization explains the plan by "homosexual activist" Leno "would require all students starting as early as kindergarten in social studies class to admire 'lesbian, gay, bisexual, and transgender' role models.

Under this proposed law, "textbooks, teachers and school boards will be forced to promote homosexuality, same-sex 'marriage,' bisexuality, transsexuality, sex change operations, cross dressing as positive role models."

Romans 1:26-28: For this cause God gave them up unto vile affections: for even their women did change the natural use into that which is against nature: And likewise also the men, leaving the natural use of the woman, burned in their lust one toward another; men with men working that which is unseemly, and receiving in themselves that recompence of their error which was meet. And even as they did not like to retain God in their knowledge, God gave them over to a reprobate mind, to do those things which are not convenient...Romans 1:32: "Who knowing the judgment of God, that they which commit such things are worthy of death, not only do the same, but have pleasure in them that do them.

Leviticus 20:13: If a man also lie with mankind, as he lieth with a woman, both of them have committed an abomination: they shall surely be put to death; their blood shall be upon them.

Lev 18:22-30: Thou shalt not lie with mankind, as with womankind: it is abomination. Neither shalt thou lie with any beast to defile thyself therewith: neither shall any woman stand before a beast to lie down thereto: it is confusion. Defile not ye yourselves in any of these things: for in all these the nations are defiled which I cast out before you: And the land is defiled: therefore I do visit the iniquity thereof upon it, and the land itself vomiteth out her inhabitants. Ye shall therefore keep my statutes and my judgments, and shall not commit any of these abominations; neither any of your own nation, nor any stranger that sojourneth among you: (For all these abominations have the men of the land done, which were before you, and the land is defiled;) That the land spue not you out also, when ye defile it, as it spued out the nations that were before you. For whosoever shall commit any of these abominations, even the souls that commit them shall be cut off from among their people. Therefore shall ye keep mine ordinance, that ye commit not any one of these abominable customs, which were committed before you, and that ye defile not yourselves therein: I am the LORD your God.

It was just two years ago when the Campaign launched the Rescue Your Child effort to encourage parents to withdraw their children from public schools because of such indoctrination.

That followed work by the legislature and then-Gov. Arnold Schwarzenegger to establish Senate Bill 777 and Assembly Bill 392 as law. Those institutionalized the promotion of homosexuality, bisexuality, transgenderism and other alternative lifestyle choices by banning any "adverse" references in schools.

At the time, officials said SB 777 "functionally requires public school instructional materials and school-sponsored activities to positively portray cross-dressing, sex-change operations, homosexual 'marriages,' and all aspects of homosexuality and bisexuality, including so-called 'gay history.'"

The second bill, AB 394, "requires public schools to distribute controversial material to teachers, students, and parents which promotes transsexuality, bisexuality, and homosexuality, all under the guise of 'anti-harassment' training."

Those laws ban in any school texts, events, class or activities any discriminatory bias against those who have chosen alternative sexual lifestyles, according to Meredith Turney, legislative liaison for Capitol Resource Institute.

But there are no similar protections for students with traditional or conservative lifestyles and beliefs. Offenders will face the wrath of the state Department of Education, up to and including lawsuits.

California also has mandated that public schools honor Harvey Milk – a homosexual activist and reported sexual predator, as well as an advocate for Jim Jones, leader of the massacred hundreds in Jonestown, Guyana.

SaveCalifornia.com led a statewide battle against "Harvey Milk Day" before California Gov. Arnold Schwarzenegger signed the S.B. 572.

The bill designates May 22 – Milk's birthday – a date of "special significance" and encourages all California public schools to "conduct suitable commemorative exercises ... remembering the life of Harvey Milk and recognizing his accomplishments as well as the contributions he made to this state."

Congressman: AFA should welcome gay clergy, same-sex dating

February 05, 2011--LANCE BENZEL--THE GAZETTE

A Colorado congressman on the Air Force Academy's advisory board on Saturday urged the academy's superintendent to create a welcoming atmosphere for openly gay and lesbian cadets.

U.S. Rep. Jared Polis, who is gay, said the academy should encourage "inclusion" in the wake of the Nov. 30 repeal of the military's "don't ask, don't tell" policy that barred service by people who are openly gay.

The Boulder Democrat suggested the academy should consider hiring gay and lesbian chaplains and said cadets should be welcome to bring "the date of their choice" to Air Force Academy balls and other social functions.

"It's more than tolerance and respect," Polis said at the Board of Visitors meeting at the academy. "It's really being able to, from a military perspective, be stronger through the diversity that we have in our force."

The discussion on gay cadets came as the Pentagon prepares to open the ranks to homosexuals following the congressional repeal of policies banning gays and court-decisions that mandate the change.
